REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, NOVEMBER 3, 1894.

Tax Rate for 1894.

TWENTY-TWO CENTS LESS THAN LAST YEAR.

Mayor Schieren, on Monday, received from Thomas F. Farrell, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, a statement of the tax rate for 1894. It shows an average rate for the twenty-eight wards of $2.62 on the hundred, as against $2.81 of last year, or twenty-two points less.

In the 29th Ward, Flatbush, the rate is $2.40; in the 30th Ward, New Utrecht, $3.19; and in the 31st Ward, Gravesend, $5.69. The reason the rate is so high in the 31st Ward is on account of the sewer districts, for which a special assessment was laid. Outside of those three districts of assessment, the general tax is about equal to that of the 30th Ward. It is understood that the annexed wards will not be assessed by the city until next year, when the new assessors of those wards will take hold and assess the property for the city. The Mayor says that the reason for the low rate this year is that he insisted upon a compliance with the charter of the city, which explicitly states that the Board of Estimate has no right to make the rate higher than two per cent of the assessed value of the city's property in the previous year, and they may add the interest of the debt and the principal due every year. Following is a table of the rate for each ward:

The current will be supplied from an overhead trolley wire through poles similar to those in use on the electric cars. The power plant will consist of two high-speed automatic cut-off engines, with a voltage of 500 volts. The work must be completed by February 1.

Sutton, the adjoining property owner. The purchase price was $72.14. The Registrar did not sell the other piece offered on the same road. There would have been more pieces offered, but negotiations are now in progress for their settlement. The next sale will be held December 12.

Ambrose, President of the New York and South Brooklyn Ferry Co., restraining the city authorities from executing and delivering to the New York and Sea Beach Railroad Co., a lease of the ferry franchise from the foot of Whitehall street, New York, to 65th street, this city. MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, in that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—An effort to find something really new on the market for Common Bricks this week does not bring satisfactory results. In consequence of stormy weather the current consumption was slightly reduced, yet an outlet has been provided so close to the fair arrivals that no important accumulation of unsold supplies took place, and sellers have held rather the best of the situation. In consequence of the good general run of quality still shown it is difficult to find much custom above $4.50 per M, yet there are some makes which certain buyers think they must have and they pay a fraction higher to get just what they want. Where dealers have room for stacking they put away a cargo now and then, but in the main the loads are handled for immediate use. For sales there is a demand now and then and some receivers report a very good experience in placing lummies of late with builders who consider them, when properly laid, in every way as good as stone. From along the river the information appears meagre and unimportant, manufacturers having given out nothing in regard to their intentions and keeping on shipping fairly, although they seem to be so well posted in regard to the probable exhaustive capacity of the market and do not run in a surplus. There has of late been rather better chance for desirable portion of the Jersey product.

CEMENT.—Reports upon condition of market for domestic grades are somewhat irregular. A few operators claim generally good and satisfactory trade, but the majority complain of dullness and improving outlook for balance of the season. The country demand has put in a few additional orders at the mills of late, and more of that kind of trade is expected, but at an average far below former seasons, and as yet local dealers show no inclination to stock up. Prices remain about as before and may be called steady although good customers are very apt to secure special favors in a market such as now exists. A few manufacturers with special contracts are running about full capacity, but as a rule production is not up to an ordinary average. Imported goods have been coming to hand in quite a lively manner during the past month, and there is some accumulation of stock here and considerable quantities in course of transportation to interior points. The general claim is for steadiness and may be accepted as fairly sustained, although applicable in a large degree to the old and well-established brands. The Canadian markets are steady and business conditions reasonably satisfactory. A recent Montreal report makes the total importation at that port since the opening of navigation of 80,100 English and 44,075 Belgian. And further says the demand has improved some, and a larger business is reported and a good many car-load lots have been placed on both local and Western account, which is due to the continued fine open weather for this season of the year. The stock on spot is light at present, and although the arrivals have been fair of late there is no more than sufficient to go around; in fact, importers state that some dealers are cleaned out and have been obliged to buy on spot in order to fill their contracts.

GLASS.—The conditions of the market for domestic window glass are not satisfactory or promising. A great many manufacturers consider that cost is now low enough to fully discount the competition from imported goods, but buyers are neither plentiful or anxious, and with a production of pretty full proportions the market is topky and unsettled. Indeed, while quotations remain about the same as for some time past, the actual selling price is adjusted to suit the negotiations in hand, with very much of a tendency to favor desirable customers, and at Western points some very deep cuts in the value line have been made. A despatch received from Pittsburgh during the week says: "The Arbitration Board, to which had been referred the differences between glass manufacturers and unskilled labor in window glass factories, arrived at a decision to-day which is satisfactory to both sides to the controversy, although it is a victory for neither party to the dispute. The arbitrators award $2.58 per pot per week to Lear tenders, and to layers-out or shovers, $2.56 per pot per week. Packers will receive three-sixths cents per hundred foot for packing." Foreign glass is quite as bad off as domestic, a light demand coming from all quarters; the old accumulation and fresh arrivals running up a full supply and leading to more or less grumbling. Quotations are somewhat nominal though no recent change in discounts is admitted. Plate is about steady, but not very active.

LATH.—It has been a somewhat disappointing market during the week, because a portion of the trade had calculated upon getting a little more money. The best they could do, however, was to support $1.75 during greater portion of the period, and finally business was done at $1.65 for cargo. There was also a parcel of Canadian pine lath sold at $1.75 to come down the river, with a few more offering. Arrivals of unsold stock were not plentiful, and it appears to have been just one of those periods when dealers felt no pressing necessity for an addition to their supplies, and to secure quick custom some concession had to be made. Manufacturers are reporting light stocks remaining, but the chances are that whatever may be left on hand will be forwarded in order to get the money out of them before end of year.

LIME.—With possible exception of a little firmer talk toward the close, the market is practically unchanged from conditions prevailing one week ago. A portion of the receivers has been standing still for 90c. and $1.00 per bbl. and did all the holding, while another portion, willing to sell at 50c 10c. under the above-named figures, has been doing all the business, and quite a great deal of it too. There seemed to be an idea that most of the cheaper Eastern stock is temporarily at least cleaned out, and upon that assumption was based the claim for a steadier feeling. Dealers do not appear to be very much worried over the situation and as yet unwilling to stock up much against future wants. State stock is offering and getting fair attention and West Virginia product also supplies a portion of the trade.

LUMBER.—The distribution of supplies retains about former average volume and shows few, if any, really new features. For building purposes there is some stock being taken, principally in execution of engagements previously looked, but the bulk of the current consumption is by carpenters for repairs, alterations and other purposes within the line of their ordinary run of work, and by the various lines of manufacturers operating in this locality. The boxmakers keep pretty busy, but some of them commence to complain of a slight diminution in the run of orders. To meet the call dealers generally have both stock and assortment, and buyers generally are promptly supplied, and in a broad sense prices may be considered about steady, although moderate variations are constant in order to make an adjustment that will hasten lagging negotiations.

There have been some very good sized export clearances this month to the West Indies and a few to South America, but the latter trade is not considered to be looking very propitious at the moment. Liberal quantities have been sent out from Canada to the river this season with an idea of having them reach destination before January 1st, when an increased import duty goes on and a great many of the shipments were consigned for a market. As it is a little uncertain how the supply will be received and rather late to attempt getting in any more before the change in duty, further movement is likely to be on special orders only. There does not appear to be anything encouraging in the Australian or African trade for operators on this side of the continent, but the Pacific coast dealers are said to be doing well.

The sale of bulk lots of stock in this market is quite small compared with what is ordinarily expected at this season, and, indeed, is less than many had expected for the present year. In most cases buyers experience no difficulty in obtaining prompt attention, and could, in fact, make a much more liberal call with equally satisfactory results for in addition to regular receivers and agents located here there is a big skrimish line of casuals diligently hunting for custom and generally willing to lop off a fraction in valuation if that will book a desirable order. Buyers work calmly and methodically, and beyond such small strengthening as may naturally ensue with the advent of winter, do not seem to have the least fear of change in cost.

The general market for Spruce remains pretty steady, but by more so than might be expected under ruling conditions. The immediately available supply of random stock from the East is small, and there are not enough mills running to create competition over specials, which in conjunction with a little more demand from dealers who have concluded to handle a few additional cargoes before the end of year gives the selling side some advantage. Manufacturers report high cost on desirable parcels of logs. State spruce is steady and receivers report no more of it than they can comfortably place. West Virginia stock is about steady in price and not openly offered with freedom with some of the mills reported to have very fair orders booked. Late advices from Bangor report that no more logs will be rafted out of the booms on the Penobscot this fall and that those already out are about all sold, and being few in number will be cut up early. Prices were quoted as strong, but there was a considerable quantity of lumber in harbor awaiting shipment.

Hemlock has been moderately active on the average, with now and then a pretty good sized order booked. There is evidence of an irregular tone on values with whispers that low figures are in some cases accepted, but regular agents acting under instructions from manufacturers are endeavoring to make a firmer stand, and especially so on 13-foot boards and 10-foot joist of which the immediately available supply is small, with about 50c. per M advance asked.

Carolina Pine does not get into uniform condition as yet, and most sales of any importance are concluded at a rate that may appear best adapted to the transaction immediately in hand. A fair general business is doing with box and roofing the most saleable stuff, although some addition to the call for No. 1 is reported. Supplies are quite as full as the present wants of the market require.

White pine has been placed in a few cases to quite a fair extent, the deal mostly in boxing and some to come along slowly, buyers being in no hurry, although there are exceptional cases where quick shipment is desired in order that stowing may be completed before winter weather develops. As usual there were sellers enough to be found whenever a chance to negotiate presented itself, and so far as known they have generally been quite willing to accept former rates.

Yellow pine only moderately active and the business confined principally to special orders, some for planned work and some for yard stock where dealers have to make an assortment for a regular line of trade. There is a chance that an attractive offering of random might secure attention, but a small quantity of it would go a great ways in the present condition of trade. Prices are no better, but on the whole about steady.

Hardwoods in a certain way make some showing of life. There are a great many varieties of them and numerous dealers and manufacturers willing to take a carload or two, and with plenty of sellers looking for custom matters appear better than they really are. As a matter of fact, judging the market from an ordinary standpoint of the season, it is really quite narrow, and there seems to be no expectation of expansion until next year. Poplar remains at about old rates, although there is some effort now and then to get a raise, especially on desirable parcels of yellow. Oak retains good favor, cherry is wanted, but very little of it can be found, and red birch takes its place to a considerable extent. There has been some negotiation over cypress, in part from custom that has used it before and is willing to come again.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

Reviewing the general situation the Northwestern Lumberman, of Chicago, says:

Beginning with this, the largest white pine market in the country, we find that, compared with the size of stocks on hand there is a heavy outward movement from the wholesale yards, and a fairly good local requirement. Shipments from several yards are as heavy as in any previous years. Stocks here are less than in other recent years, and assortments are becoming seriously broken in several particulars.

At St. Louis the good trade which has prevailed all the fall continues. There is an especially urgent movement of yellow pine finish and quarter-sawn flooring, a good and rising demand for white pine, while the hardwoods are receiving much attention.

Coming back to the white pine field we discover that more activity prevails at Lake Erie points and at Albany than in September. Seaboard and interior eastern dealers have awakened to the fact that their stocks are running down, while the call on them is more frequent and urgent than in the recent past, as a result of considerable building and reviving industries. This new life in the general demand has prompted wholesale dealers to take another look up the lakes for bulk stocks. It is remarked by observant ones that more eastern buyers have, within a week or ten days, been seen at Lake Superior mill towns than before in a long time. Though all did not buy stock, all were anxious to find out how the supply was and how prices were tending. While the eastern men have been scouting on Lake Superior, the Chicago dealers have been prospecting on Lake Huron, with side excursions to points nearer home. Considerable buying for replenishment of depleted stocks has been the result.

Would-be purchasers in their peregrinations among the mills have been surprised to find less lumber in pile for sale than they expected.

The fact is the greater bulk of this season's white pine mill product has passed into secondary ownership, and much of that thus transferred has been consumed or sold to the retail trade—so much of it gone, in fact, and so much of it going, that dealers see that they will have to purchase more or be caught with short supplies before spring.

Less anxiety about stocks is manifest at Mississippi River mills than at lake points, because much of the western demand has been cut off by the crop failure west of the river. Besides, at Minneapolis there are large stocks, probably more than last year. But this is offset by a comparative falling off in the St. Croix Valley and in the Chipewa district. Already Chicago men are looking to the northwest for some kinds of stock, and during the winter there is likely to be a considerable movement from upper Mississippi River points to this city and eastward. This will relieve the pressure on the upper river and enable the wholesale dealers in that section to brace up their prices.

At Chicago it is evident that the season is drawing toward a close, and that the market hereafter will be characterized by quietude and no especially interesting features. Shipments from Lake Superior are about done with for this year, lake freight rates being so high that shippers will not pay them while prices of lumber are no higher than now. Receipts until the close of the season will mostly be from ports on this lake, with an occasional cargo from Lake Huron points. While the yard dealers are not eager buyers, there is no trouble in working off such lumber as arrives. Dealers have bought considerable lumber at the mills within recent months, and that is arriving at the yards in considerable volume.

Popular lumber is selling a trifle more freely, as the various factories resume operations, but prices are still weak. At river mills, most of which have been shut down several weeks on account of lack of logs, the piles of dry stock are getting low, but they still have enough to take care of their customers. Interior mills are in better shape in regard to stock, and are said to be offering it freely. Cull is comparatively scarce, but the supply of common is ample and there is plenty of inch firsts and seconds. Thicker lumber is not in excessive supply, 14-inch being particularly scarce. Indications are that higher prices will soon rule, if demand holds up to its present volume.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman, of Minneapolis, says:

The assertion made in these columns last week that the lumber trade of the northwest was showing symptoms of gradual improvement, still holds true. While it may be and probably is but the gradual increase in trade that should come with this season of the year, at the same time it is acceptable, and is causing a better feeling in many sections of the country among lumber men. At this point there was no increase the past week in the amount of lumber moved over the week previous, yet the record of the week compares very favorably with the corresponding period during the banner fall of 1892.

The call for a meeting of the manufacturers of the Mississippi valley has been issued at last, and on the last day of this month the mill men will get together in conference. While any action to be taken at this time cannot be foretold, it is safe enough to predict that the meeting, coming at the time of the closing down of the mills in the northwest, will have a salutary effect on the market. It is the intention to present to the mill men at that time statements of the condition of stocks, etc., of every mill concern in the territory as far as possible, and in that way the situation can more readily be got at.

The season for shutting down the mills is now at hand, and every day sees one less white pine saw mill in operation. The Winona mills will probably close operations in a week or so, unless the water rises in the river. But one La Crosse mill is in operation. Half of the Ashland mills have shut down, and throughout Wisconsin are beginning to stop sawing for the season. The Little Falls, Minn., mill also shut down last week. There has been no systematic effort to curtail the output of the mills, and at this point it will probably be much larger than last year's. At the same time, many manufacturers have felt that it was best not to rush their saws this season, and are accordingly shutting down earlier than usual.

NAILS.—A fair trade in small lots takes place, but at irregular rates, as jobbers are not working in harmony and incline in some cases to compete rather sharply. Manufacturers are making a very good effort to hold the market about steady and quote at old rates, but top figures on car lots or from store are difficult to realize. We quote Cut at $1.00 a 1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10 a 1.20 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00 a 1.15 for car lots, and $1.25 a 1.35 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Demand has been irregular again, and where one or more operators complain of a falling off in trade, an equal number is very likely to be found claiming a gain, and there is probably no loss of business on the average. Even that is no great consolation, however, because at the best the movement is much below the normal, and the prospect for improvement this season continues extremely poor. What buyers want is simply enough to carry them over present distributive ability, and they will not invest beyond. Collections are understood to be very good this fall, and there is one advantage in the extreme caution of customers—it makes them much better able to meet obligations as they mature. Prices continue more or less unsettled, with a general pitch in buyers' favor, the tariff changes assisting dull trade in keeping values low. Linseed oil has a fluctuating inquiry, the full cost making buyers stop negotiations as soon as they get enough stock for early wants. Strong accounts from the West, however, have served as a support for values. We quote at 53 a 54c. for Western, 54 a 55c. for City from domestic seed and 55 a 56c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine sold slowly and principally to extent of natural trade wants alone, which, in conjunction with lower markets at the South, led to an easier tone on values. We quote at 28 a 29c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—A moderate demand prevails, and buyers afford nothing of a stimulating character. Good accounts from primal sources, however, and moderate stocks have served to support values. We quote Tar at $2.00 a 2.15 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.75 a 3.00 in pork bbls., and $3.90 a 4.00 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50 a 1.70.

IF the American people have lent a too willing ear to financial quackery, they have shown this week that they know when they are wrong and that they are willing to rectify their errors. The activity and advance seen in the stock market since Tuesday is as much due to the relegation of Waite, Bland and Hatch to their private vocations as to the belief that the next few years will see no dangerous attacks on the Tariff and only remedial currency legislation. Of course back of this there is the improvement in the business of the country which has been growing for months. As we have shown before, this growth is not equal all over the country, but instead of a dead level of dullness like last year there are large sections where there is considerable activity. It may even be said that the Northwest looks better than it did a few weeks ago, and this accounts for the prominent place the Granger stocks have taken in the recent advance in the prices of stocks. The greatest danger is now, as it generally is, that people will expect too much from the political change that has been effected. The very many who changed their vote because they held the present administration responsible for all the depression of a year and a-half past will naturally expect an immediate change into the boom state. If all the operations which were said to await the result of the elections should be started up at once, there would, indeed, be a boom in every industry, but it may be taken that the coming election was not the only thing that kept them back, and, consequently, they can only come gradually and one at a time into line. The great thing in the situation is that the bad times are behind it, and in front many things which will from time to time help to build up trade and commerce to even beyond its former proportions. It is this that gives the thoughtful the confidence they feel in the future.

OUR financiers ought to turn their attention to Paris as a market for American securities. We shall be soon issuing a large amount—large even in the market appreciation of numerals—of securities which will be very attractive to investors by reason of the writing down they will represent and an enlargement of the market therefor will considerably improve prices. Wealth accumulates very rapidly in France, the channels for its employment are comparatively few and the investors are not content with the 3 per cent. that the best securities only afford. Consequently the poorer classes of government bonds have found their home there; besides Spaniards and Italians it is estimated that no less than $1,500,000,000 of Russians are held in France. To such people the stocks and bonds of our reorganized railroad properties ought to appear attractive. No doubt there are difficulties in the way of placing them in France. That market cannot have been overlooked by the large and enterprising New York houses that have branches or connections there, but they are surely not insuperable difficulties and as we shall soon have some good and cheap securities to offer this seems like a propitious moment to prepare to make them as acceptable in Paris and Lyons as they will be in London and Berlin. Reports from foreign markets are taken up largely with conjectures of results to follow the change of rulers in Russia and the European involvements in the China-Japan situation, all of which are very unprofitable, for the simple reason that it is impossible to foresee and consequently to foretell the outcome of either. The declarations of the new Czar in favor of peace are as formal and prefatory as were most of the expressions of sympathy and condolence which he received on the death of his father. They belong to the formula, or humbug, with which government everywhere is enshrouded and by which the true conditions are veiled from the sight of the masses. Our wishes are most decidedly that future events may decide for peace and that is as far as anyone can go. There is now a prospect that the war between China and Japan will be a protracted one. Japan seems determined not to listen to any terms for a cessation of hostilities and is now in the enemies' country where progress notwithstanding the cowardice of the foe can only be slow. The interval between now and when she will have had enough of fighting contains many possibilities. It may create the Chinese military genius who can stem the tide of invasion and terminate the war on more honorable terms to his country than now seem even guessable. A lengthy prolongation of the war may bring outside interference with further complications. That the war is not going to be short is to be regretted, but we cannot overlook the fact that its extension must have an influence on trade. The consumption and destruction of material and provisions is already very large, but nothing to what it will be if the war is carried into a second year. The English market is preparing for the collapse of the Grand Trunk Railroad Company, whose revenue for stock has steadily decreased in ten years from $2,750,000 to $570,000, while the prospects for 1894 are of a shortage of fixed charges. The property is suffering from the same causes that brought our own Pacific roads to the ground. It has been expanded on the theory that it held a monopoly of transcontinental business and on the strength of good times and government aid. Now that it has to endure bad times and competition it will have to readjust its capital in accordance with those conditions. We have seen what disturbing things such readjustments are, especially in the case of a corporation, whose capital runs into many millions. Report from Vienna states that at a conference between the Finance Ministers of Austria and Hungary, it was arranged that no unforeseen and heavy calls for gold should be made on the money market, in order to keep a uniform and moderate price through the whole year. Portugal, Spain and Italy are improving financially, if the prices of their securities and rates of exchange with other countries can be taken as an indication, as it most probably can. The relative value of Paris Exchange per 100 francs between January and now is Portugal, 130 and 121 francs; Spain, 124 and 117 francs; Italy, 111 and 108 francs.

COMPARISONS are odious but very instructive. Anyone who follows the movements of money at home and abroad cannot fail to be impressed with this idea. In New York there is a superabundance of money, more than the commercial community can now use, consequently rates are low and banking operations not very profitable. In London exactly the same condition of things exists. In New York the announcement that a small portion of its superabundant funds may leave the country paralyzes speculation, disorders business and brings about a large decline in values of securities in the stock market. In London the loss of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a week has no influence on business or speculation whatever, except, perhaps, to create a feeling of relief that idle funds cease to accumulate and money is finding occupation in trade. It may be thought that this differing of results from like cause is due to some variety in the business done in the two places. It is not so, however. Though London is the purse of the world it only pays out money to meet its obligations the same as New York does. To say anything else would be absurd and mean that London is a society for the relief of foreign indigence; we all know that it is not. The difference between the two cases is right on the surface, it is one wholly of the character of the money in the two places. London has large and New York only small stores of exportable money, consequently a draft which is not felt in one case tells very seriously on the other. Our small stock of exportable money has also very heavy and responsible duties to perform at home toward the other part of our money and consequently its shrinkage is regarded with apprehension. Could the lesson of any comparison be more apparent than this? It is simply the difference of provision to meet requirements known beforehand as likely to occur.

OWNERS and builders in making contracts in future will have to bear in mind the opinion of Justice O'Brien, upon which the jury found its verdict in the case of Berg vs. Parsons, reported by us last week, at any rate until the Court of Appeals has reviewed that decision. In charging the jury that it was incumbent upon any one employing a contractor to take reasonable and proper pains to ascertain whether the party to be employed is competent and trustworthy or not, Justice O'Brien changes the hitherto accepted relation between employer and contractor, because while the case in point had reference only to a claim for compensation for damages incurred as a result of careless blasting, the principle involved can be applied to any kind of contract work. Of course, it is a natural inference that a competent and trustworthy contractor will be engaged, if only that the employer's work may be properly done, and that he himself will have some recourse for the compensation of any loss he may sustain through his contractor's inefficiency or negligence. But it can be easily seen that this decision, if sustained, will put a much larger responsibility upon the employer than existed before in the case of injury done by his contractor to the property of others. The assumption hitherto was that the employment of a contractor for a given work at a specified price over whom the employer had no control, in the manner or means of carrying out the contract, carried with it no liability for the contractor's acts. Now, however, if Justice O'Brien's interpretation of the law is correct, the employer, to avoid litigation and probable judgments against him for damages, must see that the contractor is not only competent and trustworthy, but also responsible. He may rest assured that if any injury is done to the property of others by an irresponsible contractor, it certainly will not be the latter who will be sued for compensation. He runs the danger, too, of having any accident resulting in damage to property being primarily accepted as a proof of negligence and consequently as a cause for litigation. In view of these facts, the review of Justice O'Brien's ruling by the Court of Appeals will be looked for with interest, not only by the building trade but all employers of contractors, and meantime and hereafter if the Court of Appeals sustains Justice O'Brien, they will in giving out work, require to be protected by bonds or other guarantees against such verdicts as that given against Mr. Parsons.

Are Changes in the Building Department Necessary?

THE political revolution of last Tuesday puts a very severe test upon the citizens of New York. Prior to that event "reform" was scarcely more than a sort of prevalent discontent. It was something for preachers (we mean the unfrocked as well as the pulpited kind) to urge and moralize upon. The Tammany regime was then in full swing. The "People," however, are now supposed to have taken the reins into their own hands, and the important question is: What are they going to do? It is very clear that if the "People" have not now assumed the control of the Government of this city, they never can assume control.

Undoubtedly at this juncture the popular course to adopt is to join in the general hurrah. There has been a victory—very plainly a popular victory. To cheer it, to look pleasant, to pat one another on the back and make much of ourselves, is the proper thing to do. Unfortunately, however, this is not the wisest course to follow nor the one most likely to lead to permanent results. The hard work of reform (and reform means hard work), is now to be commenced. Having fought for the task, and having won it, people must assume the labor and responsibility of the position.

There are signs already that the popular energy is spending itself, that the moral enthusiasm that so completely shattered the power of Tammany at the polls, is becoming dull. People are falling back again into that old quiescent attitude which was one of the chief sources of the evils which have afflicted the city in recent years. If "reform" is to be more than a political hub-bub in the streets, the community must earnestly, fearlessly and tirelessly begin the uphill work of making decency and efficiency prevail in all the departments of the city government. To accomplish this it is not sufficient merely to elect Mr. Strong or any other reputable man and afterward leave affairs to take their own course. Mr. Strong cannot carry out the work himself, neither can he with the assistance of politicians and party-men who will, of course, infallibly press upon him from all directions. The community must make itself actively and persistently felt in the City Hall. How much a live community can do is evidenced by the remarkable success which attended the almost unaided efforts of one individual—Dr. Parkhurst.

It is scarcely necessary to assert that a new spirit and new methods are needed in every department of the City Government. Abuses and inefficiency well nigh intolerable exist in all branches of municipal administration. For many years the RECORD AND GUIDE has constantly received complaints concerning our Building Department. Architects, builders and others have come to us with charges of irregularity, extortion and blackmail. We have been prayed to investigate these matters and to denounce the delinquents. These stories, however, have always been told to us in a whisper, and always with the restriction that the complainers' name must under no circumstances be used publicly. When we have demanded a reason for this reticence, our question has invariably called forth the statement that the tyranny of the department was such that no one could openly accuse anybody connected with it of wrong doing and afterwards continue to carry on business successfully. Due to this contemptible lack of public spirit the RECORD AND GUIDE naturally could not take any steps to aid in removing any wrong-doing that might exist. General newspaper charges avail little. Specific cases and the support of the injured person are necessary.

The election last Tuesday has greatly changed the old conditions. Nobody need fear political tyranny any longer. Even the most timid may speak out openly, and to-day is the time for speaking. The new administration cannot make itself cognizant of everything. The most earnest good intention will not be sufficient to procure a thorough reformation. Those of the public who are in closest touch with the different departments should come forward to support reform. The new administration should be instructed regarding the needs of the public and the nature of the old abuses that ought to be done away with.

Readers of the RECORD AND GUIDE are particularly conversant with the character of the Building Department. They also are best informed as to what the administration of that department should be. The RECORD AND GUIDE now invites a discussion of the matter. It opens its columns freely for the views of its readers.

Does the Building Department need remodeling?

Does its personnel need changing?

What are the defects of the department?

How may they be cured?

In issuing this invitation the RECORD AND GUIDE is not adopting the role of an accuser. We have heard accusations in the past, but none of them has been proven. Perhaps none of them can be proven. Perhaps the department is efficiently and honestly administered. If that is the case let it be shown. Mayor-elect Strong cannot do better than maintain in his own administration the good elements of his predecessors. Let us have the facts. Now is the time to bring them forth. To complain a year to come that things are no better than they were is to complain of the inevitable fruits of timidity and poor citizenship.

The Financial Value of the Recent Elections.

THE question is asked: Will the result of the recent election (we mean the results in the national field) improve the business situation? We believe the answer to this should be "Yes, if a majority of the people think it will do so." There is a psychological factor that plays an important part in the financial condition of people, and yet is very seldom taken into account. In enumerating the elements of prosperity it is usual to consider exclusively those of a material nature. Particular emphasis is placed upon the stock of cereals, the wealth of coal and iron, the number of miles of rail in operation and other matters of that kind that can be expressed in terms of weight and measure. No one will deny, of course, that these things are important components of prosperity, but, besides these, there are others of an intangible nature, the value of which is scarcely ever considered. Of the latter, a very commanding position must be given to faith—hopefulness about the future. A nation may possess an abundance of material wealth and enormous material sources awaiting development, and yet, because of hesitancy on the part of the people, be in straightened and gloomy circumstances. This, in a great degree, is the condition of the United States to-day. The wealth of the country is enormous. Its resources are practically unlimited, and exist merely to be drawn upon by the industry of the people. The wealth actually within sight on the continent is enough to maintain in affluence many times the population we have. In addition we see the banks in all the great commercial centres glutted with money.

Nevertheless, people are complaining of bad times. Industry is suspended in some places, or not fully engaged. The present depression surely has not been produced by lack either of material or of machinery. As we have said, material is at hand in abundance, and the pressing complaint of the times is not that our machinery is overworked, but that it is employed up to only a small degree of its full efficiency. Neither can it be said that the skill or the enterprising spirit of our people has diminished. It is true, some theorists tell us that our dark days are due to insufficiency of money, but that can hardly be a correct diagnosis when our banks all over the country are surcharged with funds. Clearly what we lack is not anything material. What we need rather is faith—belief in the future, confidence that our affairs are traveling in the right direction.

Judged by the material standard all this doubt is clear delusion. Our future is just as bright to-day as it was three or four years ago. The country has scarcely begun its development. There are centuries of growth before us. People ought to be ready to buy and sell and reap and delve with as much confidence this year as they did, say, before the Baring trouble. But they can't and don't. There is the rub. The trouble is that all over the world the commercial instinct is in a state of hesitancy. People are not sure of their neighbors. They feel uncertain about to-morrow. Hence restriction. It is difficult at times to account for a given mental condition. Hope or despondency fill the individual, he hardly knows why, and the existence of the one state or of the other is not a proof that either is justified, as experience frequently shows. Despondency at times is the forerunner of good tidings, and hopefulness precedes black disaster. People in the mass are but the individual writ large. They share the same temper, and move to the touch of the same impulses. A slight darkening of the outlook, a few cries of alarm, an occasional disaster, produce panic and dejection.

tion for a long period of time. Every panic that has occurred in recent years has been pronounced by competent judges quite unwarranted by the actual facts--that is, when looked at from the material point of view. To bring about a general disaster it was enough, however, that people should feel alarmed. In the dark ages, a prophecy that the world was coming to an end on a certain day was sufficient to cause thousands to forsake their pursuits and renounce the business of life. A slight trembling of the earth to-day is sufficient to cause people to fear an earthquake, and quit their houses, and live in the open for a time until, as day by day goes by without any recurrence of seismic agitation, one by one returns to his domicile until presently the former condition of life is restored.

So, to revert to the beginning: If the people of this country believe that Republican ascendancy means a better commercial condition, this very faith will operate powerfully to restore good times. It makes no difference whether that ascendancy means anything of the kind. The most efficacious way to restore prosperity is to make people believe that prosperity is about to be restored. There is nothing wrong with the United States to-day save with the people.

WHAT are the German-Americans, or the Italian-Americans, or the Irish-Americans, to whom Mr. Goff and other campaign speakers especially addressed themselves in the canvass last closed, according to the district they happened to be speaking in? Of course, while asking this question we know that these expressions are only vote-bait, and that the users now and aforesaid have never intended them for anything else, otherwise we might expect them to call a meeting of American-Americans and softsawder any who responded to the call. We know that there are in this country people born in every other, who have clannish proclivities that give the flavors of the lands of their nativities to certain special quarters, and that in the comparatively small area of this city many tongues are spoken, but these are not dividing peculiarities, but part of what is meant by the term American, as applied to the citizen of the United States, which includes everything in the way of race and language and national odor, that can be found on this terrestrial ball, except the Asiatic and the descendants of the original possessors of the soil. What is peculiarly objectionable in addresses made in any particular locality is the implication that the members of any particular race who form part of the American people are morally any better or worse than those born of other races, or on the American soil itself. Whenever any particular piece of rottenness in our midst is exposed it is usually found that the leaven of unrighteousness permeates the whole dough, and that gentiles of all races and Jew have each their part. It is an especially common thing about election time for what are called German-Americans, to be told that they are much better than any other sample of American. We do not for a moment wish to intimate that the German-speaking people in our midst are worse than those of any other tongue, but really with for example, to go no farther back, such names as Schmittberger, Zimmermann, Steiner, Hoch, and those of the women who have given testimony before the Lexow Committee coming into such unsavory prominence every day, we cannot believe that the German is better than his fellow citizen, who may have another accent to flavor his English. It may be said that it is unfair to judge a large number by a few bad samples. That it is true, but it applies also to every other case, and as a gauge of morality shows all to be on a plane of discouraging equality.

Legal Licensing of Architects.

The Architectural League of New York at their last monthly dinner had one of those interesting discussions for which they are known. The question related to the advisability of the registration or licensing by law of such architects as a body of their peers might consider worthy to practice. The discussion was opened by Mr. Howard Walker, of Boston, and participated in by Messrs. George B. Post, Warren Briggs and Edward H. Kendall and Prof. W. R. Ware. There was quite a unanimity of opinion that some restrictions similar to those thrown around the medical and legal professions should be instituted in the case of that of architecture, to limit its membership to competent people only.

New York and Berlin.

A COMPARISON IN COST OF CITY ADMINISTRATION.

Despite many very obvious facts to the contrary, it is often said that New York is the best and most economically administered city in the world. Comparison with London and Paris is broadly challenged on financial points, though it is admitted that it is impossible to obtain from the statements of the London County Council any idea of what the expenditures of London for municipal purposes are. This is because the London County Council is not a rate-collecting body, and does not administer all the public expenditures of London by any means. The revenues for this purpose are raised and collected by about thirty-six vestries, including the Common Council of the city of London, which pay to the central boards, such as the County Council and the Education and Asylums Boards and to the poor law authorities such proportions as are due from their several parishes. These vestries have in many cases the control of the paving, lighting, sewerage, etc., within the limits of their respective parishes, though, where a group of small or widely spread parishes stand together, most of this is done for the sake of economy and convenience by what is called a district board of works. These very involved arrangements which have arisen as a result of custom, tradition and the impossibility hitherto of legislating for the city in a comprehensive way make any comparison with a compact system like that of New York out of the question. The municipality of Paris, while on a more modern and reasonable plan, has also strong points of difference between that of New York. When it comes to a question of what these several places get for their money, then it is that New York appears at a disadvantage. London is naturally dirty, New York naturally clean, yet London is actually the cleaner city of the two. Paris is clean both by nature and habit. In all the business streets of either London or Paris there is probably not so much broken and bad pavement as on one business thoroughfare of New York, namely Broadway. Where in all the cities of the civilized world will be found such a state of things as occurs after every rain shower at the corner of Cortlandt and Broadway for instance?

But there has come opportunely to hand some figures in the October Consular Reports relating to the administration of another continental city, Berlin, which appear to make comparison between it and New York fair but, of course, not to give any satisfaction to the citizens of New York. Berlin having at the close of the Franco-Prussian war become an imperial city, meaning by that the acknowledged centre of the great empire which was consolidated when the iron crown came to the House of Brandenburg, set about making itself fit for its position. As a result it stands after only twenty years' work prominent among the model cities of the world. If New York had had a similar pride in its relation toward this great Empire that stands between the Atlantic and Pacific, invidious comparisons that now cannot be overlooked would be impossible. Berlin had a great many problems to solve before it obtained its present position of excellence, but it approached them in a practical, patient and honest way until it became another example to New York of excellent city administration. It has improved its gas and water supply, its fire, police and educational systems, its paving and lighting, the system of treating the poor, and has perfected a plan for the disposal of garbage and sewerage, which if one that would not be acceptable here, has some points of operation and economy that are suggestive. At any rate it is a system. Berlin has, too, a population nearer to that of New York than either London or Paris, so that the difficulties of dealing with numbers are about the same, though in geographical situation New York has the advantage. Were the administration of New York equal to that of London or Paris the fact that they have twice as many people would give all the credit to them. In the same way, in comparing the actual results of city administration as shown by physical conditions, the credit belongs wholly to Berlin and not to New York. This being accompanied by the fact that the cost is much less in Berlin than in New York removes any chance for argument in favor of our city administration. Here is the Berlin budget for the year ending April, 1893, as given in the Consular reports:

Department.	Receipts.	Expenses.	Surplus.	Deficit.
Real Estate...	$ 209,565.19	$ 42,220.72	$ 167,344.47

This, as will be seen, includes payments on debt and interest. The item "police" also includes the fire department. It is not contended here that such a fire department as that of New York could be obtained for any such sum as that given in the Berlin statement, or that even a decent police force could be organized in New York City for such a sum, yet when it is remembered that these two departments cost this city seven and a-half millions of dollars, for a population only an eighth larger than that of Berlin, it will be seen that if there is any undue economy on one side there is considerable extravagance on the other. This reflection is all the more bitter from the way in which the Lexow investigation has shown how misplaced this generosity has been so far as the police department is concerned. Another item in the above table is the expense of government. This is remarkable, not only because of its moderation, but also because the cost of government is clearly put forth in the city's published statements. Only an expert accountant having access to the books could find out this item for New York City. The total of $1,740,305.74 for Berlin is made up of, salaries of members of the municipal government, $14,712; salaries of clerks, etc., $1,183,144.98; supplies, costs of litigation, etc., $291,551.36; pensions, etc., $220,861. These figures alone would speak very forcibly for the economical administration of the city of Berlin even if the other items were not equally conclusive on that head. Here are the expenditures of the city of New York, corresponding to those contained in the Berlin table taken from the last report of the Comptroller:

Allowing 1893 warrants to offset those remaining unpaid at the date of the report and deducting $5,110,069.45 State taxes, the expenditures for a year in the city of New York amounted to $33,813,292.77, against the total of the Berlin budget of $19,783,639.09. In the first case the population was 1,801,739, and in the second 1,656,742, making the per capita proportion in New York $18.77, and that of Berlin $11.94, a difference of $6.82 for every man, woman and child. Comparing the items for the several departments the result always favors Berlin. There are some in which no comparison can be made because of the difference of the circumstances in the two places. For instance, a fire department sufficient for a city of low buildings like Berlin would be utterly inadequate for New York. It is probably also not found necessary to have so large a police force in a city which is the garrison for royal and imperial troops, which may be called upon in great emergencies. The park system is also different: many of the great parks of Europe are crown property, to which the people have access by the royal indulgence, and which are maintained from crown funds. But take the matter of education. It will not be contended that New York is superior to Berlin in this respect, yet the latter spent over a million dollars more in this department than did Berlin. The cost of lighting and cleaning streets in the latter city is put down at $615,651.97. In New York the Department of Street Cleaning alone spent over $2,000,000, to which must be added the lighting bill of the Department of Public Works, amounting to another $1,000,000. New York is better treated in the matter of lighting, but as regards street cleaning there is nothing whatever in outward appearances to explain the difference in cost. Whether in total cost, per capita cost, or departmental cost, the difference is so greatly in favor of Berlin that it much more than offsets any disparities that exist in the prices paid for labor and materials in the two cities, that would probably be offset by the superior results in the Prussian capital alone, so that only one conclusion can be reached, and that is that New York is a very extravagantly administered city, and that no official statements can alter this conclusion in the light of not only what is done in other places, but also at what relatively small cost.

OUR BUILDING LAWS.

Architects and builders will find in THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the Building Laws and Ordinances of Brooklyn a time and labor-saving volume worth many times its price. It is illustrated and indexed so that the reader can find in a moment any regulation for which he may be seeking without having to read the whole volume. It is ready for delivery now at the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn. The price is $2.

The Department of Buildings.

DIFFERING OPINIONS IN THE BUILDING TRADE OF THE CHARACTER AND EFFICIENCY OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The results of the voting last Tuesday having shown that the people of the City of New York are determined on changes in the administration of their public affairs, and the Department of Public Buildings having come in for a goodly share of condemnation, THE RECORD AND GUIDE sought to ascertain how the Department is regarded in the building trade. It is obvious that if the many complaints that have been made against the several departments of the city's administration have foundation upon fact, this is the time to bring them forward and have whatever abuses that may exist rectified. This can only be done upon specific charges, backed up by evidence. In the small amount of time available it was not possible to canvass the trade with anything like thoroughness. The men who were seen, it must be owned, especially those who had a small opinion of the honesty of the Department, were ready to generalize at great length but decidedly reluctant to particularize. Whatever reform is called for by reason of the condition, rules and regulations of the Building Department, or the character and ability of its officials, cannot be effected unless acts of error or misconduct are specifically stated and examined. If there is anything to complain of now is the time to bring it forward. The following interviews give the views of a few representative builders who were willing to go on record. Before presenting them it should be stated that THE RECORD AND GUIDE starts out with no antagonism to the Department of Buildings, its Superintendent or any of his subordinates. It simply takes up the fact that many complaints of all three and of the building law are made in the trade, and is endeavoring to find upon what they are based and how any evils that may be shown to exist may be remedied.

Mr. E. Kilpatrick said: "The criticism I make on the Building Department is that the inspectors have not been appointed with respect to their capacity or fitness, but absolutely through Tammany Hall influence. I object to these appointments being made either through that or any other political influence. With men who are unworthy of trust, no matter how good our laws may be, blackmail and oppression are unavoidable. To succeed in a reformation of the Building Department, the Superintendent ought to be free from any kind of political influence in the appointment of his subordinates, and his appointees should in no case be thrust upon him against his own judgment, as is now the case. In order that he may be responsible for his department, he must have the right to reject any applicant, no matter how recommended. Responsibility must be accompanied with power."

"Are there any provisions of the building law to which you take exception?"

Mr. Kilpatrick: "The law as it stands is subject to different constructions, so that the Superintendent has an opportunity to construe the law very differently from the construction put upon it by plain people; that fact leaves many important matters subject to the decision of the Superintendent, which ought to be specifically set forth in the building law. There are so many of these points that it would serve no good purpose to specify any one of them. I would like to say further that it is very important that the condition of the Department be made as perfect as possible, as soon as possible. Now that the future is pretty well determined by the revolution we have seen this week in the political policy of the country, it is quite certain that there will be a very large increase in the work thrown upon the Department, as building in New York City will be very greatly increased in the near future."

Mr. Charles E. Buek:—"As far as my personal knowledge and experience goes, the Building Department is well managed. Mr. Brady has made a very good superintendent. I believe that if anything wrong has been done by his subordinates it was not with his knowledge, and that if he had known of it he would have promptly dismissed the offenders. I think Mr. Brady is an intelligent and well-meaning man who has done the best he could with the material at his command. I presume there are improvements that might be made in the system, but that is a question that I would not care to go into off-hand. The present Building Department inherited from the old Health Department some obsolete requirements which modern science would do away with. I do not blame Mr. Brady for that."

"What specific objection to these requirements can you call to mind?"

"Well, I think the regulations regarding lighting and ventilation should be revised by competent authorities. They might be improved very much and the work of building thereby greatly simplified. The old Health Department in its last years was very slow and very much behind the times. The Building Department when it went into operation simply inherited its old system of rules and requirements. The best authorities agree to-day that very much that they require is unnecessary. We are compelled in consequence to put into every house many hundreds of dollars in material and labor for what is absolutely useless and even detrimental. For instance, there is the very elaborate system of trap and pipe ventilation which could be done much more easily and efficiently with modern appliances. We have to duplicate almost every waste and soil pipe. The air-pipe has to carry only gases of the lightest kind, yet is tested with a dydrostatic pressure of thirty to forty pounds to the inch; it is open at the top and the first thing it does is to fill up with rust."

"A good deal is said of bribe-taking in the Department: has any instance come within your personal knowledge?"

"I know that there is a good deal of that kind of talk going on, but my own experience is contrary to anything of that kind. I must say that I have no knowledge whatever of money being demanded and paid to employes of the Department. Certainly none was ever demanded of me, nor was it ever suggested that I should pay any, and I never have paid any."

"What about the time taken to put plans through the Department?"

"I do not think that is unreasonable, seeing what has to be done. That has been very much improved by the present Department. It took longer under Esterbrook and D'Oench. No, I have no charge whatever to make against the present department, except its want of elasticity and its failure to accommodate itself to modern improvements."

Mr. Henry F. Cook, when requested for his views, agreed with what Mr. Buek had said. He had no complaint to make either of the Department or of the building law. He could not call to mind any difficulties or annoyances he had suffered, which might have been avoided had the system been different; he presumed he had met them, but they were not important enough to remain on his memory.

Mr. Judson Lawson, of the firm of Walker & Lawson, who was last Tuesday re-elected to the Assembly from the Twenty-third District, and whose opposition to the personnel of the Building Department is well known, was seen at the houses his firm are finishing on the Riverside Drive. Mr. Lawson, it will be remembered, opposed the bill introduced last winter to increase the salary of the Superintendent of the Department of Buildings from $5,000 to $7,500 a year. He denounced the Department as a blackmailing organization from top to bottom, and said it was within his knowledge that complaints had been made at the Department of attempts to levy blackmail without resulting in the discharge of the offender. Among other things he said: "We are going to revive the bill empowering the Mayor to remove heads of departments for cause, and if that is carried, will go to the Mayor and request him to reform the Building Department. If not, we shall take other means for that purpose. In my opinion, the only way to reform it is to clear it out entirely. The Department costs the city over $200,000 a year, when in my opinion it should not cost more than $100,000. Last year its expenses amounted to $201,000; that is a shameful thing. Of that sum $196,000 went in salaries. The Department has three counsel, one at $5,000, one at $3,000, and one at $2,500 a year. Where is the necessity for so many? There are three deputy superintendents and eighty odd inspectors. If they had one inspector for each Assembly district, or thirty in all, that would be all that is necessary to do what there is to do. I consider the best way to remedy the things we have to complain of is to put the power in the hands of the Mayor and then require that he shall do his duty. We cannot expect that he will do it if his hands are tied. This was the principle the Republicans went on last winter, even though we did not know then that we should have a Republican Mayor."

Nos. 15-21 Lafayette Place.

F. H. MELA, Owner and Builder.

Business Growth in Lafayette Place.

MANUFACTURING CLOTHIERS SECURE A FINE STORE.

The lease reported last week of the store and basement of the new building, Nos. 15 to 21 Lafayette place, to Swartz, Jerkowski & Co., clothing manufacturers, has more than the ordinary interest, inasmuch as it is a recognition of the increased importance of Lafayette place as an active business thoroughfare and of the kind of business that is going there.

Nos. 15 to 21 consists of an eight-story brick, iron and stone store and loft building, with dimensions of 97x128 on the ground floor and 97x120 on the lofts above, built and lately opened for the use of tenants. Mr. F. H. Mela, who has erected so many fine mercantile buildings, is the builder. All the work was done by day's work and under his immediate supervision. Special pains have been taken to make the building fire-proof, the construction being extra heavy. Besides, there are iron and slate stairways at each front corner of the building, two large fire escapes on the rear and every floor is divided off from halls and elevators by Mr. Mela's own patent fire-proof partitions, so that in the event of a fire occurring it would entirely be confinied to the floor in which it originated. This fact has a considerable bearing on the important question of insurance and the rate paid therefor. The building is furnished with two large Otis elevators for passengers and freight, which are equipped with all safety appliances. It is piped for gas and wired for electric light, both of which can be immediately obtained from the street. The lofts are especially adapted to light manufacturing, each containing 11,640 square feet, or 1,640 square feet more than the ordinary 50x200 feet lofts. Unusually good rear light is obtained from a 40-foot court between the Broadway and Lafayette place buildings. Steam power and exhaust pipes are all together in sets on each side of the building, so that by attaching a donkey engine power can be obtained. Each floor has its separate lavatory and other necessary accommodations for men and women, constructed on the best modern principles of sanitation. The shipping facilities are excellent and a 30-foot sidewalk affords ample room for handling freight.

Lafayette place is fast becoming a very busy thoroughfare, and filling up with high and expensive buildings, discounting in advance the Elm street widening, which will make it, next to Broadway, the greatest artery of traffic between the City Hall and 14th street. Unlike the streets west of Broadway, it is very wide, and when opened through to Centre street will take all the traffic from downtown that can divide at City Hall. Already many large clothing, publishing and light manufacturing houses have located on Lafayette place, and, as has been stated, the store floor of Nos. 15 to 21 has been taken by a large firm of manufacturing clothiers, the first probably on record to locate on the ground floor. The signpost most directly to this becoming an important centre of the clothing and publishing trades, as a result of the promising future of the place, which will, of course, make extra large lofts suited to manufacturing in constant demand. Mr. Mela is now completing and will soon have ready for occupancy an eight-story, basement and sub-cellar fire-proof store and loft building at No. 603 Broadway, adjoining the southwest corner of Houston street, part of which is already rented.—(Communicated.)

Municipal Rapid Transit.

THE QUESTION NOW IS, WHAT FORM OF RAPID TRANSIT SHALL THE CITY HAVE?

Of the 71,062 people who voted on the Rapid Transit question 52,383 voted affirmatively and thereby empowered the city to provide the traveling facilities necessary to our rapidly-growing community. Since this result was known interest has centered on what is known as the "thirty-day" clause of the Rapid Transit Act of 1894, which declares that "in case the majority of votes cast at such election shall be in favor of such municipal construction of said railway or railways, it shall be the duty of said Board of Rapid Transit Railway Commissioners, within thirty days after the official declaration of the said vote, to proceed to construct the said railway or railways and to make and let all contracts required for the performance of the work necessary to be done and performed in and about the construction thereof." This matter is no new discovery. It had already received the attention of the Commission and its counsel, who in the opinion noticed in these columns some weeks ago, said: "The time specified in section 13 is not of the essence of the act to be performed, and must therefore be regarded, under well-recognized rules, as merely directory, to be complied with if reasonably practicable, but not as preventing the performance of the act or disqualifying the board from action, although more than the prescribed number of days have elapsed after the official declaration of the vote." The matter is only important because of the discussion given to it in the daily press. The section cannot stand alone. If construed with the other sections it can only mean that the Commission must not delay initiatory action beyond thirty days after the vote has been taken. It was obviously not the intention of the Legislature when it passed this act to put in a time limit that would defeat its whole purpose.

The question that should be taken up first is the relief that can be given to the passenger traffic of the city at once, either by the extension of traveling facilities already provided or by the building of lines supplementary thereto, which can be done under the powers conferred by the act. It is also important that the Commission should very carefully consider whether underground travel is the kind of travel that New Yorkers would care for before deciding for an underground road. It should be thoroughly understood that the Commission is in no way bound to any route or form of travel. In its own statement issued only a couple of weeks before the election it said: "If the vote shall be a favorable one, it is the purpose of the Commissioners to reconsider the whole subject, to make such modifications as may seem necessary or advisable."

The Commission met yesterday, and, as usual, protected the utterances of its members from the ears of the vulgar, represented by a score of patient reporters sitting in an outer room, by meeting in executive session. It was afterwards announced that the outcome of two hours' deliberation was a resolution to hold a public hearing on the 13th and 14th inst., from 1:30 to 4:30 P. M., to afford an opportunity to persons who desire to suggest changes in the routes already provisionally adopted, and to make suggestions as to the extension of the East Side route above the Central station, to be heard. It was announced that these hearings will be limited entirely to questions of routes, and not include construction at all. The Commission will be doing a good thing if they later accord similar privileges to those who have views on the matter of construction and modes of travel. No doubt a proper representation to the Commission of any considerable desire in this direction will receive courteous attention.

THE VOTE ON THE "GREATER NEW YORK" PLAN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I beg to inclose a table showing the population of New York and Brooklyn every ten years from 1790 to 1890, which was taken from the United States census reports. It will be seen by examining it how much faster Brooklyn is growing than is New York. I will also inclose a letter just received from the secretary of the Greater New York Commission, which will furnish information showing how the voting resulted in the different communities affected. It seems to me that this is only another instance of an important project which has not been properly understood, and which has been opposed thoughtlessly by real estate interests, and I feel confident that in the near future the large majority of such people will be very much gratified to know that the first step toward securing the proposed consolidation resulted successfully.

It is undoubtedly true that had the residents of Brooklyn considered the election of Mr. Strong for Mayor of New York to have been a certainty that they would then have given a very much larger majority in its favor.

F. R. HOUGHTON.

The following letter is self-explanatory:

NEW YORK, November 9, 1894.

MY DEAR SIR—In reply to your request for the latest figures of the vote on the Greater New York proposition, I beg to say that the majority vote in its favor in the city of New York is 17,341; in Long Island City, 2,376; in Brooklyn, 1,393, with thirteen districts to hear from. It is generally conceded that Brooklyn has expressed itself in favor of consolidation. The majority in Richmond County is 3,799.

It appears further that Mount Vernon, which was not included in the plan of the Greater New York Commission, but which secured a special law allowing it to vote on consolidation, and the town of Flushing, have voted against the plan.

I thank you most cordially for your valuable and efficient help in promoting the Greater New York cause.

Very truly yours,

ALBERT E. HENSCHKE.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following: "Smith sells Brown a house, but neglects to pay a mechanic then at work on premises. Brown tells the mechanic he knows nothing about the bill and that the title is now vested in him, Brown. Can the mechanic file a lien?"

Answer.—The mechanic can file a lien; that is, he has the power and incurs no risk in so doing, but it will avail him nothing. The mechanic's remedy is to sue Smith upon his contract for the work.—LAW EDITOR.

The Brownstone Dwelling.

AN EXCELLENT EXAMPLE OF WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH BROWNSTONE UNDER MODERN TREATMENT.

Five houses, Nos. 3 to 11 West 75th street, just completed by Mr. John C. Umberfield, are very gratifying specimens of the modern brownstone house; not the old-fashioned brownstone front made up of thin slabs cut to get the most out of the block, but the brownstone front of to-day—made up massively, relieved by carving and set scientifically. In selecting his material Mr. Umberfield drew upon his long and profitable experience and his knowledge of the taste and requirements of the buying public. He chose the famous Connecticut brownstone as at once the most desirable of building stones. The rich and substantial appearance of this latest group of his houses show that his confidence in his material was not misplaced. It is further justified by the fact that of the twenty-two houses on the one block built of brownstone he has found buyers for sixteen, one being part of the five under notice, which are only just out of the workmen's hands. This speaks volumes for brownstone as a most suitable material for domestic architecture, treated as it has been in this case, struction, and popular estimation no more fails in this respect than in other well-known matters of good taste and fashion. Mahogany and rosewood will always be standard among woods; seal and sable always fashionable in furs, and, like a black silk Connecticut brownstone, never goes out of style. There is a substantial elegance, a quiet, unobtrusive refinement about brownstone when properly treated, which is distinctly a characteristic or quality of the stone. Color has more to do with this than any other consideration. Its color is cleanly and permanent. It will always retain that advantage over other building stones. Used for years in the fine residences and homes of the wealthy and well-to-do people of this city, it presents an ideal attraction to the minds of purchasers, and everything being even—neighborhood, surroundings, construction, interior finish and decoration of a first-class modern dwelling—brownstone is always salable and given the preference by careful and discriminating buyers. These were the reasons that guided Mr. Umberfield in selecting the materials for his fronts, and coming from a practical, successful man they are entitled to the highest consideration.

The exterior design of these houses is based upon a Florentine

Five Brown Stone Houses, Nos. 3 to 11 West Seventy-fifth Street.

JOHN C. UMBERFIELD, OWNER and Builder.

Mr. Umberfield considers that we are on the threshold of an era of better construction, the improvement being in the line of gratifying the aesthetic demands of a more refined and cultivated sensibility. Architectural beauty, order, congruity, proportion, symmetry and whatever else helps to make up the newer idea of excellence are all carefully studied. The two materials, stone and iron, are entering more and more into the domestic building and calling for higher artistic treatment. Steel interior construction is superseding masonry and wood; even in private residences there is a tendency to supplant wooden girders, beams, trusses and columns with metal, and in the very best class of private houses steel is used exclusively. Stone, too, is extensively used in exteriors where brick, terra cotta and iron were used before. The building era before us is to be one of stone and steel. As a natural product, stone is preferred to artificial composites. It has been so from time immemorial, but at no time in the history of the world has it been used to the extent that it is at present, nor has it ever before received the attention now accorded to it. The requirements are durability, a rich and permanent color, resistance to fire, freedom from imperfection and susceptibility of ornate embellishment, and last, but by no means least, a fresh, new, clean appearance, which it should retain, as against discoloration, streaked and weather-stained aspect, which some fronts will exhibit after exposure for a short time in a modern city. No stone ever used in this section has ever approached the fine Connecticut brownstone in these essentials. A favorite with the public at all times, it is the great staple of construction, and popular estimation no more fails in this respect than in other well-known matters of good taste and fashion. The principle that dwellings should convey that idea, augmented by a degree of ornamentation suggestive of the refinement of the period, finds full expression here. Strictly speaking, these dwellings are of that more refined class of modern renaissance which imitates the French and Italian art more closely. The lower basement and first stories are faced with raised courses of dressed ashlar with an arcade of openings, above which are richly carved corbels supporting oriel windows. These oriels are the most striking features of the facade with their windows separated by mullions with fluted pilasters, and terminating in balconies at the third story. The upper stories are more simply treated and are crowned by a cornice with well proportioned modillions. In most cases the entrance to these houses is by a box stoop richly and delicately carved. No. 3 varies from the other houses by having a high stoop and a bay running up to the fourth story window sills. The interiors display all that could be desired in the way of accommodations, fitting and finish. Everything was carried out by day's work under the supervision of the owner, even the trim being cut and finished in the houses themselves.

The accommodations consist of a billiard-room, laundry, kitchen, etc., in the basement; parlor, music-room, dining-room and butler's pantry on the first floor; on the second floor, two rooms connecting by dressing salons and a bath-room opening from the hall; on the third floor three large rooms and bath-room, and the fourth floor, five sleeping rooms and servants' bath-room. In the case of No. 5 there is a dining-room extension carried up to the second floor, where it also affords an additional room. The space occupied by the dining-room in the other cases is used for a second parlor. The trim is diversified, being mahogany in the halls and some of the parlors, hazel, sycamore, oak and ash in the bedrooms. White and gold finish in some cases produces a very beautiful effect. Parquette floors to match the trim are laid in hallways, dining-rooms and second floor bedrooms. Mantles of choice and elegant design decorate the principal rooms, whose fireplaces, fitted for gas logs, are built from selected brick or faced and floored with tiles according to their suitability in connection with the general appearance of the apartment. The bath and dressing rooms are very elaborately and efficiently furnished with all the best and latest fittings for those apartments. The former contain tiled wainscot and floors, full porcelain roll top bath-tubs, wash bowls, etc. In the dressing salons, besides the usual array of full and half-length glass and polished wooden drawers and lockers, are very large wardrobes, the size of a small room, wired for electric light and ready for the reception of a very elaborate trousseau.

The plumbing is all open and first-class and so arranged that either hot or cold water can be cut off any particular floor without interfering with the supply to the other floors. The kitchens and laundries are large, the latter quite unusually so, and the fittings of the former, while designed for furnishing the table of a considerable establishment, also provide that the unpleasant part of its preparation shall not permeate beyond the range itself. There are, of course, throughout the houses the usual provisions for gas and electric lights, speaking tubes, etc., water and heating.

Of the character of the location there can be no question whatever, as it is well known that this is a restricted district and that at this moment the best builders of New York City are engaged in putting up houses on this and the next block.—(Communicated.)

Real Estate Exchange Notes.

The brokers have once more given indications of another effort to assert themselves and make of the Exchange something more useful than an auction room with a Bureau of Information attachment. The appointment of a committee this week by the Board of Directors is largely due to a recent discussion of plans by Andrew Powell and other brokers and agents, by which they hope to derive some material benefit from their membership. The question attracted considerable attention some years ago and a variety of plans formulated in the interest of the broker members, were followed until it was demonstrated that their alleged utility was to a very great extent chimerical. The present committee intends to pursue its inquiry along different lines, but it is doubtful whether it will be able to make any suggestions that have not been gone into fully on previous occasions. If it should do so and the Board of Directors become sufficiently impressed with the value of the recommendations made to justify their adoption and the making of the necessary additional expenditures the committee will win the admiration and thanks of their fellow brokers. The committee will consider the formation of a board of registered brokers and agents which shall be bound by rules and regulations to be laid down by the Exchange for the purpose of facilitating real estate transactions; the providing of a room with an attendant for the exclusive use of the proposed board and the enlargement of the scope of the Bureau of Information, so that members of the board can obtain information regarding restrictions, and other matters relating to real estate. The committee is desirous of receiving such suggestions from brokers as may assist in the accomplishment of the general object in view—the advancement of the interests of brokers and agents.

At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Real Estate Exchange, on Wednesday afternoon, the following members of the board were present: Geo. R. Read, George De Forest Barton, Horace S. Ely, C. W. Luyster, H. H. Cammann, Richard V. Harnett, J. Romaine Brown, C. L. Clarkson, Douglas Robinson and Frank Yoran. A communication reviving the formerly much discussed plans to add to the effectiveness of the Exchange as an organization that would be of greater benefit to the brokers was submitted by Mr. Robinson. The board disposed of it by appointing a committee, consisting of Messrs. Robinson, J. Romaine Brown and Frank Yoran, to consider the subject of the communication and report at the next monthly meeting. F. Frederic Georger and William M. Cruikshank were elected stock members; the latter, to whom the stock formerly owned by the late William Cruikshank had been transferred, being also elected a director to fill his father's unexpired term. Mrs. Hiram Torry was elected an annual member, becoming the third broker and agent of the gentler sex who has joined the Exchange. A resolution was passed providing for the holding of the annual election of directors on Monday, December 10th, at 1 o'clock P. M. and directing the closing of the stock transfer books on and after the 30th instant until after the election.

Holders of Exchange stock feel happy over the results of the State and municipal elections, and not one of them has any doubt but that the Liberty street salesroom will, within a reasonable period, again be officially designated as the auction room in which all legal sales must be held. The shares which were sold as low as 71½ in February, and have since been offered at 70, cannot now be secured at 80. Several offers, it is said, have been made at that price since Tuesday without meeting with a response.

Bryan L. Kennelly having asked for and received permission yesterday to display in the Exchange bills of a forthcoming sale of Staten Island property to be held on the grounds, a false report was immediately circulated that he had taken a lease of his former stand in the Liberty street room. Mr. Kennelly, while a stockholder of the Exchange, is also a member of the New York Real Estate Auctioneers' Association and will continue to hold his sales at No. 111 Broadway.

Real Estate Market.

Politics having had precedence over real estate for the greater part of the week, the business accomplished by brokers and auctioneers has necessarily fallen much below the average maintained for a month or more. The evidence of a desire for better and more honest government so emphatically expressed by the voters on Tuesday has led many usually well-informed persons to look for an immediate increase in the demand for city real estate. Exactly how a change even for the better in the personnel of our local governing power is to make realty investments more desirable they fail, however, to explain satisfactorily. The truth is that real property in New York has a value too substantial for it to be affected unfavorably or otherwise by governmental or political conditions, except such as have no possible chance of existing. The only effect elections have on the market is to cause a temporary dullness, more or less positive or prolonged, according to the degree of interest felt in their result. Selling and buying have revived somewhat since Wednesday, but few of the transactions reported are of any particular importance. Only one investment of consequence in vacant land has been made, notwithstanding that the demand for lots for building purposes is now one of the most promising features of the market. The only excuse that can be offered for the lack of sales is that present owners of unimproved property are over desirous of obtaining larger profits than builders would be justified in paying. It is believed that were reasonable inducements to be offered by lot-owners many sales could be closed at prices remunerative enough to satisfy capitalists engaged in any other line of investment. The average lot-owner does not, however, acknowledge the efficacy of pursuing a policy that usually brings success in other branches of business.

Seven foreclosure sales represent this week's business in the auction rooms, which were virtually deserted on every day but Wednesday and Thursday, when the limited number of legal offerings were made. On the latter day B. L. Kennelly postponed for one week an executor's sale of three flats on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 85th street, and D. P. Ingraham & Co. adjourned sine die a foreclosure sale of property on Macomb's Dam road, north of St. James street.

On Tuesday next, the 13th inst., at noon, Mr. Peter F. Meyer will sell by auction at executor's sale, in the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, the three-story brick building with lot, No. 21 Frankfort street, of which maps and other particulars can be obtained at the office of the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway.

On Thursday next, November 15th, at noon, at the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, Richard V. Harnett & Co., will sell at auction No. 245 West 76th street, a four-story and basement, high stoop, brick and brownstoned dwelling with two-story extension. The house is finished in hardwood, decorated and furnished with gas fixtures, chandeliers, mirrors and shades.

On Thursday next, November 15th, at noon, Mr. Peter F. Meyer will sell at auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, the important piece of investment property, No. 652 10th avenue, southeast corner of 46th street, a four-story building with store and lot. This sale will be made by order of the trustee of the will of Wilhelmine Thierbach deceased. Those desiring investments should make themselves acquainted with this property, which they can do by the simple process of calling on the auctioneer at No. 111 Broadway for maps and other particulars.

On Thursday, November 22d, 1894, at noon, Mr. Peter F. Meyer will sell at an important auction sale of Brooklyn unimproved property. This sale will take place in the New York Real Estate Salesroom under orders of the executors and trustees of the estate of the late Henry A. Kent. The property to be sold consists of 159 valuable and choice lots on 3d, 4th and 5th avenues, 59th, 60th and 61st streets, Brooklyn. The terms of sale are very liberal to buyers, 65 per cent of the purchase price may remain on bond and mortgage for three or five years at 5 per cent. Title guaranteed by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company will be given free of charge to every purchaser. The vote for consolidation and its apparent inevitability will cause many who have hitherto restricted their real estate investments to New York City to regard Brooklyn realty more favorably. This sale will on that account alone create a great deal more interest among buyers than it would have done if held a week ago. The auctioneer is prepared to supply at his office, No. 111 Broadway, on application, book-maps, descriptions and directions of routes to be taken to view the property.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AGENTS.

The card of Ch. Volzing & Son, old-established and reliable real estate and house agents, will be found on page iii. The business was established by Mr. Ch. Volzing thirty years ago, and they have been located at their present address, No. 953 3d avenue, corner of 57th street, for the past twenty years. Besides managing estates and renting and collecting, the firm negotiate many sales of investment properties, of which latter they have a number on their books for sale. The members of the firm are Mr. Ch. Volzing, Mr. Fred'k Volzing and Mr. O. H. Dage.

Broker Max Simon, of No. 791 Columbus avenue, near 99th street, has had a very successful season in the way of selling flats and corners in the vicinity of his office. Since August 21st he has negotiated the sale of seventeen such properties for a total of about $400,000. A complete list of flats sold by Mr. Simon makes it clear that he is a most indefatigable worker and successful negotiator. He also attends to renting and collecting and the placing of mortgage loans.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

There is a dearth of news this week relative to the investments on 18th and 19th streets, between 5th and 6th avenues. Several additional sales besides the one reported below are said to have been made, but information regarding them is too indefinite for publication. We are informed that F. Southack & Co. have announced that their purchases have been concluded, but there is good reason for saying that not less than six more houses in the vicinity are being negotiated for by that firm. Title it is said will not be taken to any of the property under contract until the first of May next. This may not apply to the parcels bought for or in the interest of the American Lithographic Co., whose building, it is understood, will be erected by John T. Williams. Among the outside investors, who have been identified with the purchases made in the block, are S. and H. Corn.

Frederick de P. Foster has sold through F. Southack & Co. the four-story dwelling, lot 19x92, No. 49 West 19th street, for $10,000, an advance of $14,000 on the price paid for the house by the seller in June, 1886.

Gonon & Macdonald have sold for the estate of William A. Martin the four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 23.9x98.9, No. 15 East 38th street, to Dr. Andrew H. Smith for about $65,000.

Richard M. Montgomery has sold for Mr. Clark the four-story stone front dwelling, 25x60x98.9, No. 118 East 36th street, for $52,500.

Lalor & Berringer have sold for Dr. Henry N. Heineman the plot, 54x100, and old four-story buildings, Nos. 733 and 735 Broadway, west side, south of Clinton place, to Leo Schlesinger, for $255,000. The purchaser will probably improve the property next season, although nothing definite has as yet been decided on. It was last sold about ten years ago for $140,000.

S. B. Rogers has sold for Jefferson M. and L. Napoleon Levý, the five-story brick and granite front flat, 26.8x90x98.9, No. 147 East 30th street, to William H. Williams, for $55,000.

Fitzsimons & Smith have sold for Lawrence Curnen, No. 418 West 38th street, a lot 25x98.9, with three-story frame building on front and two-story brick on rear, to Charles Schotte for $9,750.

Abraham Weinstein is the purchaser of the tenements, Nos. 436 and 438 9th avenue, the sale of which by Frank L. Fisher was reported last week.

The four-story stone front dwelling, No. 161 East 46th street, 16.8x55x100.5, has been sold by John H. Henshaw to Robert Ritchie for about $16,000, represented by other property taken in exchange.

M. & L. Hess have sold for David Steiner the remodeled four-story building, on lot 25x143, No. 136 5th avenue, west side, between 18th and 19th streets, for $200,000. This house was purchased in July, 1893, for $121,000 and has since been converted into a business structure at a cost of about $30,000. It was leased last March to the Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co. for ten years, at a term rental of about $120,000. Mr. Steiner, it will be seen, realizes a substantial profit on his investment made last year.

Folsom Bros. have sold for J. H. Salmon, the five-story brick double tenement, 25x75x103.3, No. 405 East 16th street, to R. Danziger. Andrew J. Bastine is the purchaser of No. 59 4th avenue, reported sold last week by the same brokers, for Benjamin Fitch, at about $75,000.

Randolph Guggenheimer has sold to Whitelaw Reid the two-story brick stable, 25x100, on the northwest corner of Park avenue and 50th street, for $45,500.

Charles E. O'Hara has sold to W. L. Lawson, No. 45 West 47th street, a four-story dwelling, 25x65x100.5 (Columbia College leasehold), at about $43,000.

The names of the buyers, S. & H. Corn, were inadvertently omitted last week from our report of the sale of the southeast corner of Mercer and West 3d streets by Henry Rothschild through M. & L. Hess.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

M. Bargehuber & Son have sold for Adam Hellmerich the five-story brick flat, on lot 25x100.11, No. 309 West 118th street, to a Miss Browning for about $25,500, and for Mr. Burkhardt the five-story brick store and tenement, lot 25x80, No. 2200 8th avenue, east side, between 118th and 119th streets, to a Mr. Kuhn for $26,500.

Frank L. Fisher has sold for Builders W. W. & T. M. Hall the three-and-a-half-story dwelling, 10x59x102.2, No. 216 West 79th street, to C. G. Tonsey for about $29,000. This is the third house of the row sold by the Messrs. Hall in three weeks. The others are Nos. 218 and 220.

James A. Fraum & Son have sold another of their row of new three-story stone front dwellings on 126th street. It is No. 122 West, 19x55x100.11, purchased by Garry G. Nolan for $23,500.

Randolph Guggenheimer has sold the vacant block front, 201.10x100, on the east side of Lexington avenue, extending from 99th to 100th street, and his plot of eight lots, 200x100.11, on the north side of 100th street, 95 feet east of 4th avenue. The terms have not been disclosed.

Charles F. White has sold for Joseph K. E. Poynton the five-story double flat, on lot 27x100.11, No. 114 West 104th street, at $29,500; for John A. Prigge, the five-story double flat, lot 25x84, No. 1702 Amsterdam avenue, west side, 25 feet north of 144th street, at $25,500, and for George W. Eggers the two five-story flats with stores, 25x88x100.11 each, Nos. 13 and 15 West 100th street, at about $50,000.

W. P. Mangum has sold for Mr. Jordan the three-story stone front dwelling, 20x40x80, No. 2424 2d avenue, east side, between 124th and 125th streets, to a Mrs. Myers.

Robert Ritchie has traded the five-story brick flat No. 368 West 116th street, on lot 25x100.11, valued at about $30,000, for No. 161 East 46th street, referred to above as sold by John H. Henshaw.

Richard V. Harnett & Co.'s sale, reported last week, was of the dwellings, Nos. 230 and 232 East 72d street, to a client for investment.

Max Simon has sold for Builer Philip Braender the three five-story double flats, Nos. 151 to 158 West 191st street, two 26 and one 25x79x100.11, to H. Kraemer. These are the last of a row of six flats recently finished by Mr. Braender and all sold by Mr. Simon.

Bennett & Graff have sold for Builders Lin'say & Johnson the six three-story stone front dwellings, 18x70, and extension 100.5 each, Nos. 328 and 332 to 310 West 71st street. These houses were illustrated and fully described in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of October 27th.

The same brokers have sold for Livingston & Dunn to Judge John Sedgwick the four-story dwelling, 21x58x100.8, No. 310 West 88th street, for $38,000.

The report of a purchase by James Butler, mentioned last week, proves to have originated from a recent conveyance to Mr. Butler of the southeast corner of Amsterdam avenue and 68th street. The reported sale to him of the northwest corner of Columbus avenue and 90th street is therefore incorrect.

NORTH SIDE.

Charles F. White has sold for Joseph Murphy a three-story dwelling on Decatur street, Bedford Park, for $15,000.

J. Clarence Davies has sold for John J. Bell the five-story brick flat No. 514 East 137th street, south side, 125 feet east of Lincoln avenue, for $20,000, to Thos. H. Bell, who gives in part payment two lots, 50x100, on the northwest corner of 152d street and Union avenue, valued at $6,000.

LEASES.

Seton & Wissmann have rented No. 526 Fifth avenue for Gordon Fellows to Percy Pyne Lewis for the season.

Charles MacRae has leased for Randolph Guggenheimer the private stable No. 43 East 50th street to Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer. Henry D. Wiens & May have leased for the same owner the similar stable No. 45 East 51st street to Mrs. Caroline Weidenfeld, and Riker & Son have leased also for Mr. Guggenheimer the stable on the southwest corner of 4th avenue and 51st street to Columbia College, for use as a gymnasium, and to William Peters the similar building No. 45 East 50th street.

Out of Town.

Frothingham & Tinspon have sold Grismere, near Rhinebeck, for the estate of the late Lewis Howard Livingston to Ernest Howard Crosby. It consists of upwards of 800 acres, and has been owned by the Livingston family since it was granted to them by Queen Anne under letters patent of June 25, 1703. It adjoins Ellerslie, the residence of Hon. Levi P. Morton. The property contains a great deal of fine old timber, principally oaks and chestnuts. In the neighborhood are the seats of J. J. Astor, Ogden Mills, W. B. Dismore, Douglas Merri t, Archibald Rogers and others.

Architects and builders will find in THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the Building Laws and Ordinances of Brooklyn a time and labor-saving volume worth many times its price. It is illustrated and indexed so that the reader can find in a moment any regulation for which he may be seeking without having to read the whole volume. It is ready for delivery now at the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn. The price is $2.

Cronter & Co's. address is No. 155 West Broadway, and not 155 Broadway as stated by us last week through a typographical error.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Messrs. Fredenburg & Lounsbery, dealers in front brick and fire-proof materials at No. 287 4th avenue, announce that they have arranged to represent as sole selling agents, the Eastern Hydraulic-Press Brick Company of Philadelphia, and the New York Hydraulic-Press Brick Company in New York City and the New England States. They will remove their office to the Metropolitan Building, 23d street and Madison avenue, New York City.

The Eastern Hydraulic-Press Brick Company's product is well known in this market, and the uniform good quality of the brick and the large assortment of colors, have given the company a firm foothold in this section. Messrs. Fredenburg & Lounsbery will have the best facilities to meet a growing demand, as the combined output of the Hydraulic factories is 300,000,000 front brick per annum.

Attention is called to the big "B" advertisement on page viii of this issue. This was formerly the Burlington Blind Company's, who were represented in New York and Brooklyn by Mr. Geo. E. Read, with office in the Bennett Building, Nassau and Fulton streets. The Burlington Venetian Blind Company is a consolidation of the above Burlington Blind Company and the Venetian Blind Company, whose New York office was at No. 61 World Building. Mr. Geo. E. Read has been retained as the representative of the new company in New York and Brooklyn, with office at No. 61 World Building, and will give faithful attention to all business intrusted to his care. The company retains the factories of both the old companies, thereby placing them in position to furnish first-class work and to make shipments promptly. They respectfully solicit your trade.

The Paradigm Construction Co., of No. 41 Pine street, have contracted for the big skylights on the new Terminal stations of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge on both sides of the river, about 45,000 square feet. The adoption of the "Paradigm" skylight system for such an important work is a recognition of the claims of the Paradigm Construction Co. that theirs is the best system of glass roofing for skylights, greenhouses, etc., ever invented, being the strongest, best, most durable and economical. The company will gladly submit estimates for all skylight work, big or little, and will guarantee satisfaction. A full-size section of the Skylight Bar, three inches long, will be sent to any architect or engineer, free, express charges prepaid.

The Mason Co. (Limited), just incorporated, with a capital of $1,000,000, for the purpose of selling mahogany, cedar and other imported and domestic woods, at auction, announce a sale for next Thursday, at 12.30 o'clock, at the new salesrooms at 7th street and East River. Mr. Waldron Williams will act as auctioneer. The officers of the company are Wm. F. Buckley, president; Robert B. Constantine, vice-president; Waldron Williams, treasurer; and Benj. J. Downer, secretary.

MORTGAGES.

1. c. c.—The arrangement of this list is as follows. The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Henry E. Pierrepont and William A. Pierrepont, executors of the estate of the late Henry E. Pierrepont, were granted permission on Wednesday by Justice Bartlett to bring suit against Receiver W. W. Goodrich, of the Union Warehouse Company, to secure possession of the Pierrepont stores in this city. Receiver Goodrich refuses to give possession of the stores to the executors, claiming that he is liable only for the rent which has accrued since his appointment as receiver, a few weeks ago.

Among the pieces of property acquired by the city at arrears sales, which are occupied, there are a large number for which the occupants pay no rent. Controller Corwin has written to the Corporation Counsel asking that measures be taken to compel the tenants to pay or get out. The latter, in some cases, contend that the city is not entitled to rent. According to the statement of the Corporation Counsel, the difficulty in these cases appears to be that there is no relation between the city and the tenants of landlord and tenant, and until such a relation shall have been established nothing can be done save in a proceeding of ejectment. Such a proceeding has been brought in the Supreme Court in a test case, and the action is now on the calendar. In a few cases the tenants have paid the rent. These matters are in charge of Assistant Corporation Counsel Furst, and he says that he has done all he can as far as the Department is concerned.

According to Commissioner White's report, since the first of January this year over $164,000 has been expended on street repairs in this city, as against $94,000 during the same period in 1893. So far this year thirty miles have been repaired, in about one-fourth of which nearly the whole pavement was taken up and relaid. During the whole of 1893 there were but nine miles of streets repaired. There are now over 400 miles of paved streets to care for in the city.

GRAVESEND'S NEW TAX RATE.

It was discovered on Saturday last by Thomas Farrell, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, that the tax rate of the 31st Ward, Gravesend, was computed at more than it should have been in the statement sent to the Mayor. The error was caused by the Town Assessors overlooking about $260,000 worth of property in the 4th School District. The corrected list is as follows: 1st District, $21,677; 2d District, $96,237; outside sewer district, $21,131; 3d District, $32,589; 4th District, $104,067; 5th District, $28,961; 6th District, $24,168; 7th District, $94,097; 8th District, $39,303. In the 4th District, where the mistake was made, the old rate was $114.65.

NEW YORK.

BRICK.—With a further addition of stormy weather and the influence of the holiday and exciting election, actual consumption has been small, and pushed only where it was absolutely necessary. Receivers report a demand full enough to keep arrivals well under negotiation, and make some boast of the very small quantity unsold at the close. But a little investigation goes to show that one cause of the light supply is due to the fact that although a very large percentage of the stock recently handled went to the consumer, it has not yet fully passed into consumption but may be found along side pier in most cases waiting to unload of consignment, and manufacturers could not ship much more freely than they are doing even if so inclined. In matter of quality we hear about the usual report of good average, and on the general range of valuation former figures are employed in representing extremes. Although without positive information it is generally assumed that recent storms have about brought production to a stand still.

GLASS.—There is not much change in the state of affairs prevailing upon the markets for window glass. Demand is only fair, there is plenty of stock both domestic and foreign for all wants, and prices continue in the old irregular condition with a general tendency in favor of buyers. An import and decision has been made regarding foreign glass which is embodied in the following recently published despatch from Washington.

Acting Secretary Curtis of the Treasury Department notified the Collector of Customs at New York that hereafter all glass imported in cases of 50 square feet or multiples thereof may be admitted to entry without delay. After referring to the telegram of November 1st in which, pending new regulations, he authorized the entry of a large invoice which arrived at New York by the steamer Noorland and were being refused entry by the Collector there, Mr. Curtis makes the following remarks about the effect of the former interpretation of the law on the glass trade: "So many complaints had been received from importers in regard to the hardship occasioned by a strictly technical insistence upon the proviso in paragraph 91 of the Tariff Act that the question was referred to the solicitor of the Treasury, whether packages containing multiples of 50 square feet, which would seem to be in accordance with the prevailing practice of manufacturers, would be in virtual compliance with the proviso. The above proviso (which appears also in the Tariff Acts of 1883 and 1890) seems to have been originally intended solely to secure such uniformity as would facilitate the examination and appraisement of the glass."

"The expense of transportation has, however, induced manufacturers abroad to pack the glass in larger boxes than were formerly used and boxes containing 100, 150 and 200 square feet are more frequently exported from abroad than boxes of 50 square feet. As the Department is advised that no difficulty in appraisement results from the increased capacity of the boxes provided such boxes shall be restricted to uniform contents representing multiples of 50 square feet, it would seem desirable to avoid interference with the practice of the trade unless the law is mandatory in its condition."

After quoting the opinion of the solicitor of the Treasury that the law is discretionary, Mr. Curtis announces that "for the present no objection will be made to the importation of such packages."

LATH.—No change of an important character can be advised, business having taken place during the week within about the former general range, but at the close receivers talking steadily. Arrivals have probably been a trifle larger than expected, some stock coming from outside the regular points of supply in the provinces, and cargoes from Maine also putting in an appearance. Still custom has been found, and it is known where other dealers are in need of stock, and continuation of fair demand is hoped for.

LIME.—The general tendency of demand is believed to be toward improvement. Work, as usual, at this season of the year, is being pushed toward completion with some energy. A great many dealers are commencing to lay in stock, and to a fair extent there is a chance for steady business. It will, however, take considerable improvement in the demand to balance the supply, as there has been a gradual accumulation of unsold stock, and every additional cargo flowing along adds to the weight. In matter of prices, the old general range is retained on quotations in order to conform to all views, but buyers find that for prompt cash they can secure more or less liberal discounts, and on the whole the final tone is weak.

LUMBER.—The election holiday and the accompanying excitement has to some extent interfered with business, but probably to a greater extent in the distribution of supplies than trading in bulk lots. Indeed there has, if anything, been an increase in the latter line with operations of a more general character than heretofore. The gain is natural, as every week now brings end of season nearer at hand and buyers feel the necessity for getting to stand off policy and getting together such supplies as they propose accumulating for winter use. With a few exceptions they have found offerings ample, and in general, prices ruling about as before, but when some of the very low figures occasionally mentioned are investigated it is found that cheap imperfect stuff only is what sellers have to offer, some of it hardly fit for this market.

Spruce generally sustains a strong position; quite unexpectedly some of the large concerns supposed to have already placed their orders are in the market for additional parcels of custom cut and these together with the smaller dealers who have been hanging off until the last minute, create a demand that is extremely difficult to satisfy, and receivers are congratulating themselves upon ability to hold the advance of $1.50 over the low level of the season recently secured. Manufacturers are generally well supplied with orders, and consequently quite indifferent toward fresh negotiation. Recent letters speak of an unusually busy trade at Bangor, owing to the opening of the present month, and at Portland the mills all at work, some of them rushing matters to complete export orders. State spruce sells fairly and there is continued trading in that Virginia product at steady rates all around.

White Pine has an irregular market and, although fairly active the conditions are not as satisfactory as had been hoped for. Strictly first class stuff of standard grade does not appear to be over plenty and commands about for former rates, or say, on basis of $14 per box, but the market here and at the eastward has been over-run with sellers of cheaper goods, which upon receipt prove to be of scant thickness, and there is a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed not only among buyers who have been drawn into investments, but by regular salesmen compelled to compete with that class of offering. Export orders are coming to book fairly, but showing no tendency to expand at the moment.

Yellow Pine is getting some demand on special orders and the market holds about former position, while some operators are talking about the prospect for a fuller call for docking purposes before the end of the year, under an impression that the impediments to improvement of the water front for some time existing are about to be removed.

Carolina Pine finds local and outside custom, but hardly with the freedom necessary to make a good sound and healthy market. Buyers say they do not find pressure of offerings quite so pronounced as heretofore yet always get quick accommodation when expressing a desire to invest in stock and find quite as easy as it has been. At primal points an effort is being made to get affairs into better form.

Henlock meets with about an ordinary demand, although a few houses here have found a little more custom of late among local and interior dealers who are putting the finishing touches to their accumulations for the year. Quotations are about as before but as a matter of fact a great deal of irregularity prevails in actual operating rates and the buyer seems to have about all the advantage. Indeed so deep has been the cut on prices this season it is difficult to understand how some manufacturers will pull through. A number of them representing an annual output of some 50,000,000 feet have already pooled and placed their production under control of one of our largest local lumber concerns, and upon that hint others are commencing to talk over the propriety of a general move in the same direction by the entire Pennsylvania hemlock cutting interest.

Hardwoods are getting rather more demand, and quite a number of car lots are being placed daily. The wants of buyers are somewhat diversified so that all really standard qualities come into notice, but the special favor is given to oak both plan and quartered, the latter to the largest extent, and poplar has within a week or ten days found better custom. The latter retains a slightly irregular tone, but on general range may be named at $30 @ 32, the latter exceptional. In the market at the moment there is more or less talk over the new move for introduction of the auction business. A company has been incorporated with an authorized capital of $1,000,000 and composed of prominent and influential lumbermen, bankers and merchants, and matters have so far progressed that the first public offering will be made on 15th inst.

For the present the intention seems to be to comprise offerings to imported woods principally cedar and mahogany in the handling of which it is claimed great abuses have existed for many years, and a large number of prominent importers have solicited their approval of the new scheme upon the assumption that it will remedy the abuses. An intimation that domestic hardwoods may subsequently be offered under the hammer encounters many dissenting suggestions, but should such an attempt be made, the chances for success are probably greater than under the former crude and poorly organized methods.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES. STATE.

The Albany Argus as follows:

Trade in white pine continues about up to the average of the past month. Buyers are rather more plentiful about the district and some dealers say there are customers who have only just begun to stock up. These people are expected to help swell the volume of business during the next four weeks. Stuff is coming along quite freely from Tonawanda. Only ten days remain in which shipments from there can be made in safety. Boats are scarce and freights have an advancing tendency. In spruce and hemlock, trade is good and prices firm. Spruce culls are scarce.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman, as follows:

In the white pine field it is evident that the season will close with less stock on hand unsold than was feared earlier in the year. The demand has been sufficient to move bulk supplies into secondary hands in case first holders were willing to sell at market prices. All manufacturers who preferred to hold their lumber rather than to sell at prices offered, have seen the season pass while they failed to make sales. There have been few, however, who have had fortune enough to hold on until the end of the season and run the risk of carrying their stock over winter. Within three months the tendency has been to sell more fully than in the spring and early summer months.

The manufacturers in Saginaw valley, as usual, procrastinated selling longer than those of other districts, but lately they have swallowed the bitter pill of low prices and let their lumber go to a considerable extent, and more is likely to change hands before the close of navigation. The outcome all along the line, from Saginaw to Dubuth, will be that product will be sold up closer to the saw than would have been thought possible three months ago. At Minneapolis and other Mississippi river points there will be considerable left-over surplus, on account of the lack of demand in trans-Mississippi and trans-Missouri territory, but the Mississippi river mill towns are wholesale distributing markets, as well as manufacturing centres, and much of the surplus will be worked off in the winter and spring trade.

Now that the sawing season is near the end, and it can be seen that the grand total of output is not excessive; the tendency should be toward a stronger market. But as yet, excepting in special types and particulars, nothing has been gained in respect to values. The wholesale trade is yet eager to sell at low prices. Competition among dealers was never sharper. The restraints of organization have been utterly abandoned, and each dealer sells at prices dictated by his free will and anxiety to look as many orders as possible. Probably after the close of navigation there will be some effort to check the slaughter, but so far dealers seem determined to play fast and loose with prices while there is a fall demand. Experienced men in the trade are more freely expressing an opinion that there must be a stronger tone in the market than a short time ago.

The have found, by recent visits to mill points, that opportunities to buy considerable blocks of lumber are not plentiful.

At Chicago:

Receipts and offerings on the market were greater during the past week than in recent previous weeks. Cargoes came from Lake Superior, the Soo and vicinity, Manistee, Ludington and other ports, and consisted of all sorts of common stuff, including hemlock, shingles and lath. Sales were made without much delay and at practically former figures, with perhaps slight variations in particular instances. Short piece stuff is selling at $9, with perhaps a slight advance on that price for particularly desirable tallies. There is a good inquiry for long lengths, but short stuff is not especially active, though there is comparatively little to come forward, particularly dry lumber.

More inquiry for poplar is noted the last two weeks. Prices are consequently firmer, but still below the association list. An increasing scarcity of dry stock is reported, particularly at the river mills, most of which have been shut down for several weeks owing to lack of logs. Thick lumber and squares are scarcer than anything else, but there is a shortage of all good lumber. Common is in fair supply, and free offerings are reported from some of the interior mills. There is an abundant stock of culls, which have been slow sale all summer.

CANADA.

The Toronto Monetary Times has the following plaint about freight charges:

There is such a thing as tact in the management of business. Indeed this element enters very largely into business success. An instance of the lack of this quality occurs to us in connection with one of the grievances which the lumber dealing customers of the Grand Trunk railway have against the management of that road. It was a natural thing enough when the duty on lumber imports into that country were removed by the United States Government, that the Grand Trunk should propose to obtain some advantage in the shape of increased freight rates, and no sooner had the bill become law than, on October 1st, the new G. T. R. schedule was issued, advancing rates from fifteen to twenty per cent., which means something like twenty five or thirty cents per thousand feet. This rise of rates is launched at the very time when business of all kinds shows signs of emerging from a long depression. People were just beginning to order, timidly and without much heat, when down came an edict that lumber freights are advanced. The railway management would have shown more discretion had it chosen some other period for the change.

It is to be borne in mind that American companies have not increased their freight tariffs, nor has the Canadian Pacific railway, and Canadian dealers when just on the point of entering into a spirited competition for the lumber trade of the Eastern States, feel it a hardship to be handicapped at the outset in the matter of freight rates. Further than this Ontario is no longer the market of Canadian merchants exclusively. With present rates carriage is cheaper from Michigan mills to many parts of Western Ontario than from the mills situated on the Northern and Midland divisions of the Grand Trunk railway. Suppose a Canadian dealer has a customer in London, the advance in rail rates is extremely apt to impel him either to buy Michigan pine and send it by water to Windsor, and thence, having railway competition, to London. Either this, or he will ship from Georgian Bay points by water, avoiding the all-rail Grand Trunk route which raises rates on him. So strong has been the opposition to this new tariff that the company has, we understand, consented to reconsider the matter.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot in a general way continues slow. Now and then a fair sized order can be booked, but as a rule buyers are content with handling small parcels for immediate wants. Offerings have increased somewhat and with time accounts from abroad prices weakened. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9 1/2 to 9 3/4 c. for Lake and 9 1/2 to 9 1/4 c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper is without much change. The regular run of custom take fair quality of stock, but there is little expression of demand and nothing to compel a quickening of production. List rates are very well adhered to. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c; do, 14 to 16 oz., 15c; do, 12 to 14 oz., 16c; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17c; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c; do, under 8 oz., 22c. Sheets longer than 72 inches 14c for 12 to 16 oz., 19c for 10 to 12 oz., and 23c for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c; do, 14 to 16 oz., 16c; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18c; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22c; do, 8 to 10 oz., 25c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c for over 32 oz., 15c for 16 to 32 oz.; 23c. 14 to 16 oz.; 19c. 12 to 14 oz.; 23c. for 10 to 12 oz. and 27c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14c; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16c; do, 14 to 16 oz., 18c; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20c; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14 1/2 to 17c for 32 to 64 oz.; 19 1/2 to 26c for 16 to 32 oz.; 21 1/2 to 24c for 14 to 16 oz. and 2 1/2 to 3c for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, 8 inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1 1/2 c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18 1/2 to 24c. per lb. Iron—American pig is essentially unchanged in all important particulars. Small parcels satisfy every line of demand, and buyers are slow to develop their wants while awaiting the call is an ample supply of stock in competitive hands, that serves as an impediment to any important gain in value. There has not been any important showing of late, however. We quote at $12.00 a c. 3.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.00 a c. 12.00 for No. 2 X do., and $10.00 a c. 11.00 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $19.00 a c. 20.50. Old material finds no really important sale and most reports indicate quite a dull market. Openly the display of stock is not extensive, but a goodly amount could be found if wanted. We quote at $11.50 a c. 12.00 for old iron rails; $10.00 a c. 10.50 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $8.50 a c. 10.00 for cast scrap; $10.00 a c. 10.50 for old car wheels, and $6.50 a c. 9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron and steel meet with no unusual inquiry, and some operators refer to considerable disappointment in calculations upon orders for future delivery. Slight irregularity in value at times develops, but the general range of figures stands about as before. The following quotations are made f. o. b. at Pittsburgh: Angles, 1.20 a 1.25c; tees, 1.35 a 1.4c; beams and channels, 1.30 a 1.35c; base; sheared bridge plat s. steel, 1.20c; Universal mill plates, steel, 1.20c; iron 1.30c; refined bars, 1.25c. base. Steel rails are still subject to rumor as to proposed movements of manufacturers, but the chances are that no attempt at combination will be made until the turn of year at least. Meanwhile the run of demand is of former moderate proportions and the market rate unchanged. We quote standard sections $24 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has been kept fairly steady, by the moderation shown in the offerings. There is probably plenty of lead, and a considerable larger quantity could be made available if needed, but holders have no disposition to urge an unwilling market, the natural demand at the moment proving quite limited. We quote at 3 1/2 to 3 1/4 c. per lb. The manufacturers of lead are quoted at 5 1/2 c. for Pipe, 6 1/2 c. for Sheet, 1 1/2 c. for fuel-lined Pipe, and 3 1/2 c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin finds only slow and indifferent attention from the majority of natural sources of demand for consuming purposes, and there is not much in the way of speculation at the moment. Those conditions, together with a little pressure to realize from a few local operators have rather served to ease the tone on values. We quote at about 1 1/2 a 1 1/4 c. for round lots, and 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate for both present and future delivery continues to find rather indifferent demand, and it is a slow market, not free from more or less unsatisfactory features. Prices generally are easy. We quote as follows: L. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $5.00 a 5.05; Charcoal, Melyn grade, L. X., $6.50; L. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $1.25 a 1.30; Allaway grade, L. X., $5.05; Charcoal, Melyn, M. F. grade, 14x20, $6.00 a 6.20; M. F. grade, 20x28, $12.00 a 12.20; Worcester, 11x20, $1.80 a 5.00; Worcester, 20x28, $8.60 a 8.75; Allyn grade, 14x20, $3.85 a 4.00; Allyn grade, 20x28, $7.75 a 8.05; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $3.85 a 3.95; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $7.85 a 7.90; L. X. Coke, Bessemer steel heavy, $3.75 a 1.12 1/2; Bessemer steel, light, 14x20, $3.57 a 3.67 1/2. Spelter is finding an uneven market, but the general tone of prices favors the buyer, and tone of the market is easy. We quote 3.10 a 3 1/2 c. for common Western, according to brand.

Reviewing the situation of Pig Iron production, a local trade journal says: Production has increased further, until now in the Central West the make is close to the maximum attainable. The improvements made in the equipment at a number of the furnaces during the idleness caused by the coke strikes is telling in the make of a number of stacks.

On November 1 the active furnace plant, grouped according to fuel used, possessed the following weekly capacity:

Fuel	No.	Capacity per week
Anthracite	36	18,300
Coke	123	135,572
Charcoal	22	4,694
Totals November 1	181	158,866
Totals October 1	172	151,138

Increase..... 9 7,728

The position of stocks sold and unsold, as reported November 1, was as follows, the same for aces being represented as in former months:

Stocks	Sept. 1.	Oct. 1.	Nov. 1.
Anthracite pig.....	116,833	103,287	96,857
Coke pig.....	197,877	137,427	196,112
Charcoal pig.....	217,551	221,998	219,351
Totals.....	532,261	524,712	512,320

NAILS.—Buyers are indifferent. They will negotiate to extent of early wants, but they great or small, but beyond that it is simply useless to ask them to invest, and business is of a somewhat uncertain character. Prices are too low for much additional shading without cutting off margins entirely but there is not force enough in the situation to act as a stimulant. The greatest irregularity is found on wire nails. We quote cut at 9 1/2 c. a $1.00 per keg for car lots and $1.05 a 1.10 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $9.50 a 1.05 for car lots, and $1.15 a 1.25 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—The general demand for paints, colors, etc. has moderate volume, and thoroughly staple goods remain favorite with majority of buyers; customers are now commencing to talk about still further retrenchment in matter of investments, and do so with a view of winding up the year as small carriers of st. ek. Manufacturers are in consequence constrained to work carefully, and with exception of a few specialties production is below normal. Prices continue unsettled all around. Linseed oil has shown some irregularity, but nothing of unusual character, and demand on the whole is fair, and prices now appear firm at advances recently made. We quote at 54 a 55c. for Western, 56 a 57c. for City from domestic seed and 56 a 57c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has been somewhat irregular in consequence of a slow uncertain demand, and some tendency to weakness at the primal markets. We quote at 28 1/2 a 29c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—In a jobbing way there is business doing according to immediate wants of consumption, but no special hurry among buyers, and a general sort of resistance to attempts at raising the line of value. Supplies are not abundant. We quote Tar at $2.00 a 2.15 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.75 a 3.00 in pork bbls., and $3.90 a 4.00 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50 a 1.70.

WITH SUPPLEMENT.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S sudden announcement of the issue of $50,000,000 of U. S. 5's, has naturally had an unsettling effect. The people cannot imagine any reason for it. Announced, however, it has to be taken. Doubtless it is an intimation that the Treasury under the present administration will at any cost keep itself in a position to meet any and every demand for gold. At the present rate this cost is $2,500,000 a year. Naturally people do not like this; they would prefer that some other means were taken to keep up the gold reserve until legislation can be obtained that will apply permanent support. Secretary Manning set a useful precedent in withholding gold in paying the government debts for a short time in order to increase the reserve, and the suggestion that customs be required to be paid partly in gold deserves to be considered. If the Administration thinks that its policy will change foreign opinion of the values of American credit and securities, it has mistaken European criticisms that have been made on the national finances. Those criticisms were wholly directed against the dangerous and clumsy currency in use here; the references to the gold reserve were merely incidental and as an illustration of the evils of the system. Not only are the benefits to be obtained from the new issue of bonds inadequate, but the last issue showed how very temporary they are likely to be in their effects. But the Treasury Department under the present administration has shown such remarkable capacity for blundering that nothing it does is surprising. Its latest effort is an effective example of its amateur financing. If a change in the head of the Treasury Department should be contemplated before March, 1897, Mr. Cleveland might find profit in remembering that the only Secretary of the Treasury he ever had who showed any comprehensive recognition of the powers and duties belonging to the office was his first, a practical banker of long training and experience. The election having failed at once to bring to business all that it was expected to bring there are on all sides now complaints where there were bright predictions only a few weeks ago, but the limitations natural to trade under the present condition of affairs will perhaps be better recognized as a consequence. The stock market is disturbed for the reasons given above and also because the position of some of the securities dealt in is not by any means satisfactory. Some reorganizations are unduly delayed and some which have been made do not appear to be satisfactory. This conservative qualification may be applied to the reorganization of Erie, but in the case of Cordage the reorganization is unsatisfactory without any qualification whatever. Being based on an increased capital and a decreased business it is easy to see how it fails to be effective. Moreover the capitalization is so out of proportion to that of other corporations in the same business that the position of the two junior stocks is a hopeless one in any circumstances. Liquidation in Manhattan Elevated continues and still threatens its price seriously. In the absence of improvement in business these things have a more than usual effect on the general list. Improved business might limit their injurious effects to the securities organically unsound, but, as we have pointed out before, the opening of winter is not the time to expect any pronounced improvements in trade.

UNCLE SAM as mediator between China and Japan will probably have no more success than other outside powers. No doubt China would be glad of help from any quarter that would stop the beating of the Jap's bamboo upon her stupid, unwieldy and helpless back, but in such cases it is the beater and not the beaten who chooses the right moment to stop.

Japan's ambition is to make itself a power, free from all Western tutelage. There is nothing that establishes any nation in such a position so much as the right to settle its own disputes. Having the game in its own hands it is hardly probable that Japan will listen to any proposals for peace that do not come directly from China herself. Unless she permits it there is no more reason why another power should arrange the terms of Japan's peace with China than there was for an intermediary between Prussia and France. The English journals are making comfort for the American iron manufacturer, though discomfort for the English one, in their deductions from the fact that prices of iron and steel declined more in the past three years in the United States than they did in England. They fear this evidence of the ability of the United States to turn out those metals cheaply will make it a powerful competitor in the export iron trade, and indeed admit that but for the land distances which materials and manufactures have to travel the Alabama ironmasters would now be flooding the English markets with their common forge and foundry pig-iron. These fears find support in the placing of the contract for Tokio's gas mains in this country. The report of earnings on the great French railways for the first half of this year shows a small gain over those of the same half of 1893. Purchases of Rentes for the third quarter of the year were largely in excess of those for the same quarter of last year and sales very much less in a similar comparison, showing the continued tendency of money to go into investment rather than into trade. An eminent statistician, M. Alfred Neymarck, believes that the limit of low rate interest has been reached in safe investments, returning only from 2½ to 3 per cent. Further progress in that direction, he fears, would constitute a public danger. The idea is an original one, and it is easy to see how his fear arises. German imports for the first nine months of the year increased 7.5 per cent in quantity and 0.2 per cent in value; exports increased 6.2 per cent in quantity, but decreased 5.6 per cent in value. The balance of trade shows an excess of 984 million marks in imports, as against 566 million marks in the first three-quarters of 1893. In spite of the gloomy rumors circulated for some weeks Vienna markets and trade continue to be very active, with prices rising. The Bohemian State silver mines are now being worked at a loss and the Government is casting about to see how they can otherwise give employment to the miners if the mines are shut down. It is only rarely that any news of value relating to her financial condition comes from Russia, so that what does come is of especial interest. The last to hand is a summary of the definitive budget for 1893. From this it appears that the original estimate was: Revenue, $180,610,000; expenditures, $173,845,000; surplus, $6,765,000. Actual results were: Revenue, $522,845,000; expenditures, $473,180,000; surplus, $49,365,000. The receipts include $76,265,000, repayment of Government loans for various purposes which ought to be charged to capital account, but even this allowed the results cannot be regarded otherwise than as satisfactory when the distress that afflicted Russia two winters ago is remembered, and even though it is a fact that disrespect to the authorities and failure to pay taxes are the two unpardonable sins in the dominions of the Czar. The budget also contains a statement of the gold belonging to the Government, which amounts to $508,644,070, of which $219,418,300 are held as a basis of note issue.

RAILROAD earnings for October show the sectional character of the improvement in the trade of the country and, inferentially, how slow that progress must necessarily be. On a total of 107 roads, distributed over the whole country, October earnings show a decline of 3.1 per cent compared with October 1893. The Southern roads, however, increased gross earnings 7.9 per cent, the Southwestern roads 3.7 per cent and the Pacific roads 5.4 per cent. The great losses were made on the Grangers and Trunk lines, being in the case of the first 16 per cent and that of the second 11.6 per cent. It is surmised that these losses are due to the lessened passenger income, October 1893 having been the last month of the Chicago Fair, and when consequently those roads had their carrying capacity taxed to the utmost. These are not, however, the most striking peculiarities of the returns. What is most conspicuous is the way adversity or improvement is spread over all the roads of the Southern and Granger sections. Of ten Granger roads only one, the Great Northern, reports an increase, and that a small one, while of fifteen Southern roads only one reports a decrease, and that for a very small amount. Of twelve Southwestern roads three only report decreases, Atchison, in fact, being the only great property in that section that has the unenviable distinction of a considerable falling behind October of last year. In the central Western section reports were received from thirty eight roads, of which twenty-one showed increases and seventeen decreases, conspicuous among the latter being the Wabash and the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. Six Eastern roads reporting do not make a good showing, as earnings decreased on four of them, and the increases shown by the other two were proportionately small. These results confirm the impression held for some time that the South and Southwest are making the most satisfactory progress toward renewed activity and that the Northwest has yet the most to do.

That Affair of "Consolidation."

THE vote upon the "Greater New York" project must be very disappointing alike to advocates and opponents of the scheme. Its chief significance is its insignificance. It cannot be said that the public, the people of the district involved in the plan, have recorded their preference. Legally speaking, Greater New York has been created, but the birth was in a sense an illegitimate affair, a side issue. Its paternity is doubtful. The unusual interest attached to the purely political contest this fall tended, of course, to withdraw the attention of the voter from what was, but should not have been, a subsidiary matter. Allowing, however, for obscurity, the fact remains that people evinced very marked apathy upon a question in which they were supposed to be keenly interested. The truth is Greater New York has been the idea of a relatively few enthusiasts. The scheme did not originate or take form under the stress of popular pressure. From the first it has been pushed and kept alive by the indefatigable energy of a well-meaning clique, who found a warrant for their activity in their own ardent personal convictions. In the absence of real public interest, unhampered by criticism and unhindered by popular restraints of any sort, they succeeded in bringing their scheme to an issue at the polls and a verdict by default was obtained in their favor.

We are, of course, far from saying that the community is opposed to consolidation. The trouble is nobody knows what the opinion of the community is. Perhaps a full vote would be merely a magnification of the smaller vote; perhaps it would reverse the actual result. Everybody may guess about the matter, but guesses are not decisive and it is a decisive judgment that is so desirable.

The real estate interests, particularly in New York, although so much concerned, gave practically no attention to the project. The Real Estate Exchange was mute. At the eleventh hour, indeed, the West Side Association took up the subject, but action was too late and too hasty to call out any deliberate expression of opinion. Those who attended the meeting recorded themselves as opposed to consolidation, but this record was challenged, we believe, as inconclusive for the whole organization.

Unsatisfactory, however, as all this is the community stands pledged to Greater New York. Even were it possible, retreat would be inadvisable. Having permitted themselves to be committed to the scheme there ought to be no hesitation now in pushing forward to a logical conclusion. Perhaps events are wiser than ourselves.

We should be done, however, with the policy of drifting. To consolidate the new districts of the metropolis, to make them and their diverse interests articulate well and form an efficient and harmonious whole will be no mean piece of work in municipal mechanics. Knotty questions of administration and finance face us. If we are not to have a hodge-podge, a mere agglomeration of parts fecund in waste and maladministration the community must take the trouble to place the problem in competent hands for solution. A clique, no matter how well intentioned, cannot manage the affair properly. With still less wisdom can it be confided to the racquet of popular clamor or to that queer body of inefficients and rascals known as the Legislature. The latter for years have done little else but muddle the affairs of the metropolis for the welfare of politicians, and there is nothing to justify belief that a larger field of operation will call out virtues and abilities not exercised hitherto. We would like to see the Real Estate Exchange interest itself actively in the details of consolidation. It might perhaps with advantage confer with the Brooklyn Exchange.

NEW YORK CITY exists to-day in a state of chronic suspicion of the honesty of each and every one of her governmental departments besides the police, in which suspicion has become conviction owing to the results of the work of the Lexow Committee. This is not an enviable nor a proper state to live in. Something ought to be done to give the suspected officials a chance to clear themselves or to justify the suspicion with which they are regarded and open the road for the reformatory treatment of their several departments. Here and there some one of the other departments has been charged with evil doing, especially in the way of raising illicit revenue for its members, but the evidence is not of the kind that justifies their condemnation. It is natural that people should assume that all the chickens of one brood are alike, but they may be wrong nevertheless. It may be that there is one righteous department to redeem this Gomorrah of municipal management. Admitting that that may be so, it is only right and proper that such a department should have an opportunity of displaying its singular peculiarities. The proof of its sustained innocence ought to be received with more joy than the one sinner brought to repentance. The Lexow Committee cannot possibly investigate all the departments. It has already had the Police under scrutiny for months, and is not yet through with it. When incidentally a charge is made against members of other departments, as was the case with Commissioner Andrews a few days ago, they have no time either to investigate it or to give the accused person an opportunity of refuting it. If the charges are true this is unjust to the city; if false, unjust to the person against whom the charge is made. Sufficient has been brought out to make it clear that each and every one of the departments needs overhauling, as much in fairness to their officials as to the public. The task is too gigantic for any one committee to perform efficiently, and even inefficiently performed would occupy years. To have it done properly and within reasonable time a special committee ought to be appointed for each department and all sit concurrently. In this way the whole of this disagreeable business could be dispatched promptly and the remedies, where necessary, applied, probably by the next Legislature, and the men who are now suffering unjustly, if there are any such, be relieved of the implications that have been cast upon them.

THE "reformer" very frequently is the individual who brings discredit upon reform. It will be remembered that at the last session of the State Legislature, a bill was introduced and supported by the very members who had been quite noisy about the beauties of efficient and economical government, increasing the pay of the Police Force. This measure was publicly opposed by Mayor Gilroy, who uttered nothing but the cold truth when he said that the force was already very well paid for the character of the work performed, and that any increase in salary would be an injustice to the taxpayer. We know now from what has leaked out before the Lexow Committee what the influences were that produced the necessary legislation at Albany, but it is somewhat disheartening to remember that the bill was introduced and pushed and engineered by men who paraded their virtues as distinctly higher than those of the average Tammany man. Prior to the sad bad disclosures of this politically warm summer, there was perhaps some excuse for persons disposed to pamper the Police Force, believing that it was a particularly efficient body of men. No such excuses exist to-day. The force has been shown to be singularly corrupt and rather brutal than intelligent in the performance of even its most obvious duties. The first step that should be taken now by "reformers," if they really mean reform, is to put the pay of the Police Force back to where it was before last summer's reformer interfered with it. Everybody to-day is feeling the pressure of bad times, even worthy people who do not promote the interests of the criminal class. There has probably been an all around decline of 20 per cent. in profits, values and wages, during the past twelve months. Under these circumstances alone, but particularly as the increase in salaries was quite unwarranted, a reduction to the former standard in the pay of the Police Force is a proper measure of economy. In the financial affairs of a city like New York, too much scrutiny cannot be given to all propositions that aim at an increase of what may be called the permanent or recurrent expenses of the government. It is these—the outlay entailed for "administration" and services of the kind performed by the Police Department—that form the real burden upon the taxpayer. One hundred dollars spent in actual labor, say upon street opening, can be borne because usually it is profitable, far more easily than $20 outlay entailed for inefficient, dishonest, circumlocutory "administration."

THERE is a remarkable appropriateness about the form in which it is proposed to put the thanks of the city to Dr. Parkhurst for the inestimable service he has rendered it. This is a memorial setting forth briefly the reverend gentleman's services and the gratitude of the community to be duplicated several times and bound up in a number of albums which are to be filled up with the signatures of the grateful. It is not anything in Dr. Parkhurst's character or in the work he has done that makes this so appropriate, but rather the character and conduct of the average citizen. Dr. Parkhurst himself would probably prefer that anything fulsome or sensational should be spared him. His motives can only have been of the best and highest; sustained by any other he must have failed. They alone suggest a better reward than any his fellow citizens can bestow upon him. If he desires the reward of notoriety he must know that his name is inseparably associated with everything that makes a good citizen, and as such will endure as an example to future generations. He has shown that there are ways of hauling pitch without defilement, and thereby has broken down that great bulwark of vice, the dread of respectable people to attack dirt for fear some will attach to them and destroy the even whiteness of their robes. With his successful work as a precedent immorality can no longer be left alone for the cowardly and politic reasons that have hitherto prevailed. Dr. Parkhurst is his own testimonial and his motives and the success of his work his reward. But with the other citizens of New York it is very different, and this is where the appropriateness of the testimonial will come in. What the album will really be is a confession that a comparative stranger has come to the city, but could not look with indifference upon the evils which all saw, that he simply set about doing the work that it was the whole community's duty to do and did it with a courage, ability and success that all must admire, facing ridicule and contumely in doing it. Any one else might have done the same thing. His triumph is the condemnation of every other of the many prominent and, assumedly, public-minded citizens in our midst. These memorials should be numerously signed, and each signer say, repentantly, and with vows for a better future, "I might have done this work myself, therefore here I write myself down an ass."

Municipal Rapid Transit.

WHAT IS THE OPPOSITION DOING? THE SUGGESTIONS MADE ON ROUTES AT THE PUBLIC HEARINGS OF THE COMMISSION.

Though nothing definite has transpired there is a strong belief that preparations are being made for a vigorous opposition to the carrying out of the rapid transit act in the interest of the owners of existing traveling facilities and franchises, which will, however, not be disclosed until the Commission has finally settled upon a plan of operations. Naturally this would have to be done before any rational form of opposition could be moulded. Then, too, this question may be affected by the attitude of the Commission toward those facilities, whether they include them in their plan or decide to build a system entirely independent of them. It would no doubt hasten matters considerably if existing facilities were used as much as possible and the new work devoted in part to supplementing them were needful, but principally to the creation of a great trunk line with a capacity to carry large numbers of people comfortably and expeditiously long distances. What is primarily wanted is a line which will relieve the congestion of the lower parts of the city by carrying directly the large numbers who live in Harlem and the annexed districts. This would afford the necessary measure of relief without unfairly competing with the capital that has already been put into city railways. The arguments against it are only such as would have weight in the case of a road to be built by private capital and to which immediate revenue was absolutely necessary.

The Rapid Transit Commission has given the two hearings announced last week to those who wished to be heard on the subject of routes. Ex-Mayor Hewitt, who was one of the speakers, was allowed more latitude than the others, in consideration of the fact that his long study of the question and the active part he has taken in the movement to procure rapid transit for the city made anything he might say of especial value and interest.

Mr. Hewitt, who advocated an underground system, said in substance there were two centres for the receipt and distribution of passengers—City Hall Park and the Grand Central Station. It was not possible to lay a four-track road under Broadway, except possibly on a double-deck plan. Two tracks were feasible. It might be possible to arrange with the New York Central Railroad Co. to run a four-track tunnel under its bed north of 42d street, or it could be built on one of the streets parallel to the Central's tracks, like Madison avenue. The great public importance of the subject might make it possible to obtain the removal of the present legal exemption of Madison avenue. Distribution below City Hall should be left to the surface lines. Broadway should not be used south of Union square, but some other parallel street instead. The commission should make arrangements for a consolidation of all the elevated, surface and rapid transit lines, so that it would be possible to transfer passengers from one to another. If this was done it would not be necessary to build any new lines on the east side, because that portion of the city was adequately served by the elevated railroads. The rapid transit system should be operated under one management. He hoped the commission would not allow themselves to be hurried in their consideration of the subject.

Very important statements were made on behalf of the 23d and 24th Wards by Mr. John A. Amundson and Mr. James L. Wells, representing the North Side Board of Trade. The former suggested that those wards required three lines. The line through the central portion might follow the route of the Harlem River Railroad. Jerome avenue was the most direct route to reach the territory between the Harlem River Railroad and the Harlem River. The lower end of this line should connect with the elevated railroad at 155th street, and there should be a spur to connect with the Harlem River Railroad at Mott Haven. There should be another branch through the centre of the territory between the Harlem River Railroad and the Sound, say along the Southern Boulevard.

Mr. James L. Wells said: "We now have in the 23d and 24th Wards a city, according to the returns of the last election, greater than any in the State, except four. We have 125,000 people, and manufacturing establishments with a capital of $60,000,000. We want a line between the Harlem Railroad and the Harlem River. We want a road which will reach Mott Haven, Mount Hope, Fordham, Bedford Park and other towns in this neighborhood. By the routes suggested by Mr. Amundson the people can reach such parks as Claremont, Bronx and others in this section. When the section was annexed in 1880, the assessed valuation was $22,000,000. It is now $65,000,000. But the greatest increase has been since 1891, when we went to the Legislature and secured the appointment of a Commissioner of Streets. Since that time our increase in every way has been enormous. The people in my neighborhood prefer an underground or elevated road, but would not object to an open cut if that seemed to the commission the most advisable. It is claimed that Jerome avenue should not be used, because it is now a great driveway. I do not believe Jerome avenue will continue to be a driveway. It is destined to be the great business street of that section, and as such would not be destroyed by a transportation line."

Mr. Ferdinand Potter raised an objection to the use of Broadway, but his objection was disposed of by the statement that the matter had been settled by the Supreme Court in the litigation instituted by the late O. B. Potter.

At the second hearing, on Wednesday last, a number of suggestions were made and plans presented: One for the laying out of the northern route along the ridge, near the Hudson River; another for a route up Elm street, Lafayette place and 4th avenue to 42d street, there to connect with the proposed elevated tracks of the New York Central Railroad. W. E. Worthen presented a scheme for a series of routes covering every section of the city, including both underground and elevated roads. The advocates of a number of other routes and systems of travel were heard or accorded the privilege of submitting statements and plans. The Commission adopted resolutions calling upon the Chief Engineer to report at its meeting, on Tuesday next, in regard to all sewers in Broadway; to furnish such information as he may obtain with regard to the objections to the present plan of construction, and also as to objections to the double-deck plan of construction; also, to obtain the estimated cost of the construction of a railroad on the present plan, both with limitations as to opening the surface and without limitations; also, that he obtain the estimated cost of a double-deck tunnel, both with openings only at certain specified points and openings at every point where making openings might lessen the expense, and that he make such other objections and furnish such other information upon the foregoing subjects as he may deem desirable; also on the extension of the East Side route.

Trade Notes.

THE SUCCESS OF WOOD BLOCK FLOORING.

J. G. Wilson, who has been so long and favorably known as a manufacturer of steel shutters, rolling partitions and venetian blinds, has begun the manufacture of wood block flooring which has been famous in Europe for the past few years. It appears that the objection to its use here hitherto has been the difficulty of securing the blocks sufficiently in the concrete foundations on which they are placed. To obtain this result Mr. Wilson spent a great deal of time and money in experiments and in studying the work as practiced on the other side of the Atlantic. He finally has succeeded in devising a method which surpasses any other that has been patented, by the most simple means, for anchoring the blocks immovably to the foundation. At great expense Mr. Wilson has built and equipped with machinery a large factory especially designed for turning out these blocks with rapidity and mathematical exactness. Consequently he is in a position to furnish floors that are perfect and reliable in every particular. The wood block flooring is by no means an experiment. It is laid in a great many public and private buildings in Europe, and from England alone we have a list of nearly 400 important public places in which this flooring is laid. These include Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Exeter Hall, York Minster and many other celebrated buildings of all kinds, including schools, banks, hospitals, reading rooms, besides private houses. With the improvement in laying these blocks patented by Mr. Wilson they will doubtless become as desirable here as they are abroad, and builders who are looking for novelties can not do better than apply to Mr. Wilson at No. 74 West 23d street for samples and other particulars. The qualities claimed for the block flooring and which recommend it are that it is solid to the tread, warm to the feet and noiseless; it allows of no dry-rot, no reverberation of sound, no wearing out and no hiding places for vermin, besides being capable of execution in all the most beautiful woods and in tasteful designs.

CLOUD ON TITLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

May I trouble you to answer the following question:

A sells B a flat and conveys by warranty deed on November 1, 1891. On September 10, 1891, A had signed contracts with C to exchange it for other property, the contract being recorded, but A had failed to carry out his contract. No suit has been started and no lis pendens filed. Is B's title affected by the above, and what should be done by him to clear it?

Answer.—This recorded contract is a cloud on B's title. He should obtain a quit claim deed from C, or, if C will not give a quit claim deed, sue him for a cancellation of the record of the contract.—I AW EDITOR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly state in your next issue what is the most elevated portion of the City of New York?

Answer.—The highest point on Manhattan Island is the site of the old James Gordon Bennett residence, on Washington Heights, which is 265 feet above tide water. The next highest are as follows: 10th avenue and 136th street, 156 feet; 11th avenue and 118th street, 134 feet; 4th avenue and 93d street, 120 feet, and 8th avenue and 91st street, 119 feet.

The Marie Antoinette.

(See Illustration.)

A BEAUTIFUL SOLUTION OF A PROBLEM IN LOUIS XVI STYLE.

The Marie Antoinette deserves to be ranked among the remarkable buildings of the city, in that it is an example of strict fidelity to a principle adopted at its inception. When deciding upon the building its owner determined that in so far as modern requirements would permit it should typify the period of the unfortunate Queen whose name adorns it, and that the interior embellishments, adornments and furniture should be strictly Louis XVI. To carry out this determination, J. T. Hall & Co.'s plans were selected from among those of fifteen other prominent firms simply on their merits, the cost being a secondary consideration. This choice proved a wise one, as numerous critics of the Louis XVI period all praised the decoration as being absolutely correct in all its details. As a result Mr. Wm. L. Flanagan, the owner, and Mr. A. Eugene Kirby, the proprietor, determined to submit their selection of furniture, mantles, gas fixtures and wrought iron work to Mr. C. A. L. Stephens, who had entire charge of the decoration for Hall & Co., and who corrected all drawings and designs so as to make them conform to the Louis XVI style, the result being the production of a building said to be the most beautiful of its kind in the United States.

It is hardly necessary to say that the Marie Antoinette is the hotel which has just been opened for the use of guests under the active management of Mr. Kirby, whose name became familiar as an experienced hotel manager during his connection with the Hotel Savoy and the Gilsey House. The Marie Antoinette has been an object of much interest during the time it was building, by reason of the prominence of its site and the knowledge of what was being attempted in the way of interior arrangement and decoration. Since it has been completed it has been visited by not a few competent judges, who all pronounce it a success, both from the artistic and practical points of view. Its creators have every reason to feel proud of their work, because it is not possible that criticisms upon it can be other than favorable. They have every reason to believe also that the pecuniary results will be equally satisfactory. The neighborhood is one in which, for many reasons, the family hotel flourishes, and the hotel that has so much that gratifies the tasteful eye and is so fortunate in its management is sure to draw patrons. The location of the hotel is peculiarly and particularly good as to transit. There are no less than six surface lines within a short distance, and affording means, through transfers of the Metropolitan Traction Company's system, of reaching every other part of the city. These are the Boulevard and 42d street, the 6th avenue, 8th avenue, 9th avenue, 10th avenue and the Broadway Cable lines. In addition the Metropolitan Elevated Railway 6th and 9th avenue lines are within easy reach. It may be remarked, too, that the centre of population being at Bryant square, the Marie Antoinette is as near that centre as the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The best idea of the outward appearance of the building can be got from the illustration that accompanies this article. It is only necessary to add that the materials are white limestone and pressed brick of a suitable light shade, and the area railing, lamps, etc., black wrought iron. There are entrances both on the Boulevard and on 66th street, but the principal is the latter. Here the guests first enter, through massive oaken doors, a small vestibule decorated in marble and mosaic tiling and ascending three marble steps come to great handsome doors of wrought iron. The design of these doors consists of strong square bars about a foot apart, filled in top and bottom by an elegant foliage design, and the vacancy of the centre broken by a myrtle wreath surmounted by a crown and inclosing the monogram M. A. in bronze letters. Double plate glass panels protect the interior from the elements without lessening the open effect of the doors. These doors are admitted to be the handsomest of their kind in this country. The main hall is paneled in polished oak for three-quarters of its height surmounted by a rich tapestry frieze, the floor is laid in mosaic of a simple but elegant design, while an immense oaken hood bestrides an open fireplace containing black iron furnishings, in keeping with the surroundings. Curtains in tapestry patterns divide this hall from a further one, on one side of which is the office and on the other the ladies' reception room. The office is peculiar, in that instead of the ordinary commercial looking counter and railing the clerk has an open desk, and besides other things usual and necessary it contains a large safe, in which there is a safe deposit box for every guest, at his disposal without extra charge. The ladies' reception room is chic. It is an accurate reproduction of a boudoir of Marie Antoinette, a fact which will no doubt be fully appreciated by its fair users when they see the dainty silk covering of the walls, the gilded chairs and table; but as they will do this with the assistance of electric light, though that is diffused from an electrolier patterned after the regal chandelier, they may congratulate themselves upon enjoying a brilliance of illumination that even the wilful daughter of Maria Theresa could not command.

Besides the halls and rooms already described and some apartments on the 66th street side, there are on the ground floor three great rooms each of which deserves special mention; these are, the dining-room, the restaurant, entrance to which can be had from the main hall on the 66th street side as well as through the Boulevard porch, and the oak room. The trim of the dining-room is of white mahogany relieved with gold, panels between the woodwork are painted an old pink, the ceilings are decorated with amourettes floating in an atmosphere of light tints among bright flowers, marbled pillars break the expanse of the room. The furniture is made to match the trim and upholstered in a brighter pink than the wall, while a steady influence is imparted among so much brightness by the deeper shade of the carpet and the middle green window hangings. The room is set with quartette-tables to accommodate a hundred diners, though that is much less than its capacity. A unique feature is the lighting of each table by a large high electric lamp, shaded with silk in color to match the tint on the walls. When these are lit the wall lights are turned down so that a very beautiful effect is produced when the twenty-five or more large lamps are throwing their rosy light upon the tables and their surroundings. The decorations of the restaurant follow the Louis XVI style perfectly, but the arrangement is entirely different from the dining-room, the trim and woodwork being in old ivory and gold and the upholstering done in deeper shades of color. The oak room is of a totally different character from the other two. It is entered from what might be called the elevator hallway, through an open arched entrance that surmounts a trio of marble steps which must be descended to reach the room. This room is entirely paneled in oak, except for a narrow tapestry frieze, and the room space is broken by oaken pillars and arches; these, with the nooks and corners that have been created out of the irregularities of the room space give a very quaint and at the same time imposing aspect to the room, which is considerably heightened by the subdued light that comes from a stained glass oval dome skylight. The furniture of this room consists of pieces of fine old woodwork, which are more particularly described later on. The great fireplace with its huge oaken hood suggests the burning of huge logs and times long past.

The seven upper floors are laid out in two or more room apartments, proper seclusion being provided in each case by means of private halls. The bath-rooms attached to each apartment are spacious, and in other respects the best of their kind and fitted for shower and other forms of luxurious bathing. The plan of the building is a sort of U and consequently all the rooms are well lighted, and the situation of the building is such that there is a beautiful prospect either of the Boulevard and Park or of the river and Palisades to be had from any of the front windows. In selecting the Louis XVI style there was more room for bright, tasteful, dainty effects in the decoration of the rooms and apartments than would have perhaps been possible in any other. It is essentially a style of light tints and effects. This is brought out strongly in the adornment of the bedrooms and parlors, because, while in the many apartments that the building contains, there is an endless diversity of adornment, the result is never heavy, a tasteful brightness being maintained from the ground to the roof. In the furniture even, while every desirable kind of hard polished wood has been employed, the makers have been kept true to the principle laid down for building, decorating and furnishing. In practical essentials no less than in aesthetic conditions nothing seems to have been forgotten, the apartments are not only supplied with all that is necessary in the way of moveable furniture, but they have, too, plenty of fixed closets, wardrobes, mirrors, etc., with which to make life worth living.

There are a great many beautiful objects scattered through the hotel, collected specially for the purposes to which they have been put and which are sure to attract the attention of visitors. Naturally Marie Antoinette has considerable representation. Her bust in marble, representing her best known portraiture adorns the high oak mantle of the oak room. A fine steel plate engraving has a conspicuous place in the ladies' reception room, and Mr. Flanagan has secured and arranged in the oak room a series of medallion portraits, showing the Queen at various stages of life from childhood to womanhood, besides a number of Louis XVI, too. The handsome clock which stands in the vestibule of the Boulevard entrance is worthy of attention as a good specimen of the horology of the time of Louis XVI; it may also have some further attraction in the minds of many because it at one time adorned the palace of Prince Frederick Carl of Prussia, the Red Prince and a hero of the Austro and Franco-Prussian wars. Unquestionably, however, the objects most deserving of interest are the remarkable pieces of old carved oaken furniture that are mostly found in the oak room, although one remarkable enough to engage anyone's attention has been put into the entrance hall. This latter is a high backed settee upholstered in tapestry, whose condition tells the story of its long life. It apparently belongs to a massive set with the two great armchairs of the oak room, which are adorned with laughing cherubim on the arms and back in the best style of the ancient woodcarvers' art. There are a number of other pieces—tables, chairs and chests—which might also receive description if space would allow. The chef d'œuvre, however, is an exceeding fine piece of work, a high settee, with tapestried seat, supported by carved figures of Apostles and having in the back panels representing the Annunciation and the birth and baptism of Christ, in all of which the figures are cut with the greatest fidelity and display most remarkable results in expression. The piece is fit to, and most probably did originally, adorn a monastery wherein art was appreciated. In the oak room, too, is an exquisite little clock in gold and blue enamel and once the property of Marie Antoinette. It came from the collection of Mon. M. L. Double, of Paris, France, and is of unquestioned authenticity.

It seems like dropping from the sky after entering into the elements that make the character of the Marie Antoinette to talk of plumbing and such commonplace things, but they are just as necessary as light and color, although they do not require such minute description. Among the practical things that have to be taken into account is the construction of the building. It is fire-proof throughout, the halls and stairways are entirely of stone and iron, while the floors are concrete throughout the entire building. The basement holds the billiard-room, which can be reached from the street, the kitchen and other offices in its line. If space would permit the table furnishing should have description, not only because of the generosity of its provision, but also for the elegance of the designs which are in keeping of course with the rule that everything must conform to the style of Louis XVI. and is as pronounced in the little cream pitcher as it is in the stair railings or the decoration of any of the great apartments.

One item, the elevator car, must not be forgotten, because of the novelty and beauty of its design. The idea was to reproduce a sedan chair in crimson and gold. This, lit up brightly, is very dainty and pretty indeed. The elevator guard on each floor is of the same pattern and material as the iron doors of the main hall previously described. It is not possible to treat the whole of this building, its decoration and contents in all the detail that it deserves, but enough has been said to show that it is not only a commodious place of residence, replete with luxury and convenience, but also that the settings and surroundings of these things have been provided with the best of taste.

The Eighteenth Street Speculation.

IS JOHN WANAMAKER TO BUILD THE BIG STORE TALKED OF.

The latest rumor regarding the purchases by F. Southack & Co., on West 18th and 19th streets, is that they were begun in the interest of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, who will build a mammoth retail establishment on the big plot acquired near 6th avenue, and endeavor to show our local merchants how easily their style of doing business can be improved upon. A broker informs us, however, that in a recent communication from Mr. Wanamaker any intention to locate in New York was disclaimed. At the auction sale of the A. T. Stewart property, in March, 1890, in the Real Estate Exchange, F. Southack was the only person who competed with the Tilton interests in the bidding on the dry goods store now occupied by Hilton, Hughes & Co. He ran the price up far beyond what the Tilttons had expected to pay, and it was pretty well understood at the time that he acted as the representative of Mr. Wanamaker. The latter may have again been taken with the New York fever, and his intention to locate in this block would naturally lead to other purchases and perhaps account for the extraordinary speculative buying that has been the most interesting feature of the real estate market for several weeks. Another report is that the project originally conceived by the American Lithographic Company was dropped, after plans for a proposed building had been prepared, owing to the discovery that the site selected would cost not less than double what had been anticipated. In the meantime it was learned that Park & Tilford had been inquiring about a site for a large building, in which could be consolidated the business transacted in their present stores at Broadway and 21st street and on 6th avenue, between 9th and 10th streets. Their lease of the former will expire on May 1, 1896, unless it has recently been renewed. Their attention was called to the 18th and 19th street property. One report has it that they considered it favorably and authorized the purchases, another that they refused to buy but agreed to lease a suitable building if one should be completed by a specified date. The story runs that a syndicate will erect the structure and that its members and others believing that the streets will become a great retail trade centre have been buying indiscriminately everything that could be purchased in the neighborhood. Many other reports are in circulation, but it seems reasonable to ignore them in favor of those that treat with the three big concerns mentioned, the American Lithographic Co., John Wanamaker & Co., and Park & Tilford.

Additional purchases by F. Southack & Co. that have come to light within a week are the following: A sale by H. S. Ely & Co., conjointly with that firm, of the four-story brick dwelling, lot 25x92, No. 27 West 18th street, for John Du Fais, trustee, at about $55,000; a purchase by Southack & Co. direct, of the similar adjoining dwelling on a lot of the same size, No. 29 West 18th street, from Mrs. Morris J. Warnstadt at $43,000; another, of the three-story dwelling, No. 26 West 19th street, lot 21.9x92, from E. Louise Smith at $10,000; the two adjoining dwellings, Nos. 22 and 24 West 19th street, on lots 21.8x92 each, at about $36,000 apiece; the two-story stable, on lot 25x92, No. 38 West 18th street, bought in 1864 for $6,500, from Mr. Meyer at about $42,000; and the four-story stable on lot 25x92, No. 40 West 18th street, from Emanuel Mansbach, for a sum not much less than $50,000. The latter parcel was bought by the fortunate seller, in March, 1871, for $21,500 and has since been repeatedly offered at $30,000. Mr. Mansbach, it is said, even agreed to sell at $29,000, two or three months ago, but the prospective buyer stood out for $28,500, and the sale fell through. When first approached by a representative of Southack & Co., who, without beating around the bush, made an offer of $40,000, the owner was amazed, but was sensible enough to decline the first proposition of an apparently anxious buyer. Possession of none of the parcels is desired by Southack & Co.'s customers until May 1st, but when necessary title is being taken at earlier dates. An offer of $100,000, for Nos. 51 and 53 West 19th street, is said to have been declined by the owner, John Stewart, who bought the property in February of last year for about $60,000.

P. J. Cuskley has sold for Mrs. Elizabeth C. Cryder to a Mr. Strickland, through F. Southack & Co., the four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 25x92, No. 35 West 19th street, for $50,000. The house was purchased by the seller in 1880, for $30,000.

The Board of Aldermen on Tuesday passed a resolution providing for the regulating and grading of College place. As soon as the resolution is signed by the Mayor the Commissioner of Public Works will begin to carry out the long-delayed work of widening that thoroughfare.

Henry Morgenthau purchased on Tuesday through Richard V. Harnett & Co., the ten shares of stock in the Real Estate Exchange held by Christian Sanders for $820. This is a gain of two points a share on $0, the price offered last week. Among the recent transfers of Exchange stock have been ten shares each to Edward A. Cruikshank, of William Cruikshank's Sons, E. De Forest Shelton and Charles A. Peabody. Each of the four new owners of shares will no doubt be proposed for membership and elected before the coming annual election.

At last it can truthfully be said of the auction market that its patrons are showing some interest in the offerings. Up to Friday the daily attendance this week was surprisingly large, and that it included buyers is demonstrated by the fact that with hardly an exception every parcel put up secured a purchaser, many of those sold under legal orders going to outsiders. Prices varied, however, from good to bad. The property of the Thomas B. Tweeder estate, sold under a partition decree, on Thursday, went off cheaply, but the extreme easterly location of the parcels on 48th street, near the river, was one that operators and investors were chary about buying in.

The most successful sale of the week was that of No. 21 Frankfort street, by order of the executors of the estate of the late Emma Parkinson, held by Peter F. Meyer & Co., on Tuesday. Auctioneer Meyer was in excellent humor and his conduct of the sale showed that he had lost none of the snap that has distinguished him as an auctioneer for many years past. Mainly by reason of his persuasive eloquence the bidding on the parcel was unusually good and prompt, and it was finally knocked down for $25,000 to the owner of the property adjoining on the corner of William street. The price was considered a high one by several of the experts present.

L. J. Phillips & Co. followed suit on Wednesday by holding a satisfactory executors and voluntary sale of a Goerck street tenement and two parcels on Lexington avenue and 104th street. The selling of the three properties after spirited bidding in each instance was a surprise to the habitués of the Broadway salesroom who had not forgotten the indifference with which public offerings had for several months been viewed by speculators and over fastidious investors. An offering by the same auctioneers on that day of a leasehold lot and four-story building on the northwest corner of Houston street and Avenue B, met with bids so unsatisfactory that they were ignored and the property was withdrawn.

Geo. R. Read sold at No. 111 Broadway, on Thursday, under direction of the receivers of the Archer & Pancoast Manufacturing Co., by order of Judge Lacombe of the United States Court, the real property, assets and good-will of the company, to Samuel B. Lawrence, representing a reorganization committee, for the upset price of $600,000. The real estate, which is located in Brooklyn, comprises a plot 150.3x45.4x100x250.3x112.3x217.2x40.10, at the southeast corner of Flushing and Carlton avenues; the plot 20.5x86.2x20.4x82.10, with building, on the south side of Flushing avenue, 20.5 feet west of Adelphi street, and the plot 39.6x42.5x39.6x42.6, on the west side of Adelphi street, 39.6 feet west of Flushing avenue. On the same day there was incorporated at Albany the Archer Pancoast Company, capital stock $10,000. Directors: Archer V. Pancoast, Samuel B. Lawrence, John B. Summerfield, Charles A. Cheever, William S. Fearing, Gordon S. Howe, Byron Traver and Edward Connell.

Auctioneer William Kennelly had an unpleasant and unusual experience on Monday. He offered at public sale a vacant plot, 71.88x79x100x110, on the southeast corner of 167th and Tiffany streets, and after receiving several bids knocked it down at $3,600 to a bidder who gave the name of Phillip Reville, but is said to have been recognized as Daniel Mitchell. A check for the customary 10 per cent. was given by Mitchell on a private banking house, but apparently having quickly tired of his bargain he sent word in haste to his bankers not to acknowledge the check. When the auctioneer's messenger presented it for certification he met with a refusal, and as the pseudo buyer is said to be irresponsible the sale necessarily fell through. Mitchell claimed to have been informed that the lots contained a great deal of rock that would greatly increase their cost when removed. Hence his refusal to carry out the sale.

On Monday B. L. Kennelly adjourned a foreclosure sale of No. 148 West 82d street until the 21st inst. On Tuesday D. P. Ingraham & Co. adjourned sine die a sale of the two-story building and lot on the east side of 3d avenue, 113 feet north of 188th street. Peter F. Meyer & Co. adjourned without date on Wednesday a foreclosure sale of Nos. 1881 to 1887 2d avenue that had previously been postponed regularly for several weeks. The adjournment without date is believed to indicate that the action has been settled. On Thursday B. L. Kennelly adjourned until December 6th the sale of a parcel on Bettners lane, adjoining the plot disposed of on that day, and once more for a week a long delayed executors' sale of three flats on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 85th street. On the same day Richard V. Harnett & Co. withdrew from sale No. 245 West 76th street, offered at the Real Estate Exchange. On Friday Wm. Kennelly adjourned until the 30th inst. the sale of the southwest corner of 3d avenue and 75th street.

On Tuesday next, November 20, 1894, at 12 o'clock noon, Mr. Peter F. Meyer will sell at auction in the New York Real Estate Salesroom a number of parcels of choice and valuable property on Great Jones, South, Front and Mavin streets and Kingsbridge road. The location of this property is a testimony to its value, and intending buyers should not fail to obtain maps and other descriptive details, which they can do by applying at the office of the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway. This property will be offered at executor's sale.

On Thursday, November 22, 1894, at noon, Mr. Peter F. Meyer will preside at the sale of the Kent Estate property, in the New York Real Estate Salesrooms, No. 111 Broadway, consisting of 159 choice lots on 3d, 4th and 5th avenues and 59th, 60 and 61st streets, Brooklyn, noticed in this column last week. The value of the property offered, the liberal terms of sale and the fact that measures are about to be taken to secure the consolidation of New York City and Brooklyn are creating a good deal of interest in the offering of this property. Full particulars can be obtained at the office of the auctioneer, No. 111 Broadway.

On Thursday next, Nov. 22, 1894, at noon, at the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will offer for sale at auction a very valuable investment plot with the buildings thereon on the southwest corner of Greenwich and Perry streets. This property is known as Nos. 730, 732, 734 and 736 Greenwich street and Nos. 128 and 130 Perry street, and has a frontage of 92 feet 5 inches on the first and 122 feet 2 inches on the second-named street. The sale is ordered by the executors of the estate of Clinton Gilbert, deceased, and the terms give the option to the buyer of allowing 75 per cent of the purchase price to remain on bond and mortgage for five years at 4½ per cent. Intending investors should obtain full particulars relating to this sale of the auctioneers at their offices, Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

On Thursday next, November 22, 1894, at noon, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell at auction at the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, the investment parcel, No. 25 Waverley place, consisting of a four-story brick building, 33.6x50 and lot 33.6x100.8, with two-story, 12x25, brick building on rear. Sixty per cent of the purchase price can remain on bond and mortgage for three years at 5 per cent.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AGENTS.

Broker John Davis, of Nos. 165 and 167 Broadway, who has been established since 1870, has recently enlarged his office to accommodate an increasing clientele. Mr. Davis has the assistance of two able lieutenants in his sons, J. L. and R. W. Davis. They are bright young men and clever workers. Mr. Davis makes appraisals and mortgage loans his specialties.

P. J. Mahony, real estate and insurance broker, of No. 12 Chambers street, makes a specialty of handling down-town property, and has many desirable parcels on his books, for sale cheap. He is an experienced negotiator, manages estates, collects rents and has money to loan on bond and mortgage at low rates of interest.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

The plot, with old buildings, Nos. 212 to 218½ Wooster street, recently sold by the Kingsland estate, was bought by Arthur H. Ely, who intends to improve the property by erecting a substantial store and loft structure.

The sale reported last week, negotiated by Broker S. B. Rogers, of the flat No. 147 East 30th street involved a trade, the sellers, Jefferson M. and L. Napoleon Levy, taking in exchange five three-story dwellings in Marion street, near Saratoga avenue, Brooklyn.

Emil Bachmann has sold for William Cumming, Jr., of Brooklyn, and Robert Ferguson the two five-story stone front flats, 25x82x92 each, Nos. 352 and 354 West 18th street to Joseph Cabus, for about $75,000.

Chas. Althot has sold the four-story stone front dwelling No. 40 West 27th street, 23x98.9, to Wm. S. Patten for $38,000. Brokers, J. C. Wells and Schrag & Richtberg.

M. & L. Hess have sold for Jules Weber the four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 22.6x98.9, No. 155 West 34th street, for $50,000.

Daniel Birdsell & Co. have sold for George F. Betts the lots, with one three-story and one two-story brick factory buildings, No. 495 Broome street and No. 185 South 5th avenue, forming an L, 21 on the former x86.3x62 to the avenue, x21x41x65.3.

Henry Wise has sold for the T. C. Lyman Co. the five-story brick tenements with five-story rear tenements, on plot 40x100, Nos. 332 and 334 Elizabeth street, to Marie Ghiglione, for $45,000.

The three-story brick dwelling, on lot 25x92, No. 112 West 21st street, has been sold by Mrs. Henry S. Allen.

John P. Kirwan has sold for Mrs. Alice Purcell the four-story brick store and tenement, 18.9x45x70, No. 614 11th avenue, east side, between 45th and 16th streets, to Frederick Baitinger, Jr.

Fitzsimons & Smith have sold for Reed Lagar the three-story brick dwelling, 23x50x98.9, No. 325 West 30th street, to A. W. Fisher for $16,500.

Joseph Schultz has sold the old three-story brick house, on lot 20.6 x80, No. 152 Spring street, between Wooster street and South 5th avenue, for about $18,000.

J. Freedman has sold for Mrs. Mary A. Payne the four-story stone front business building, on lot 17x125, No. 288 5th avenue, west side, between 30th and 31st streets, for about $130,000.

S. & H. Corn have sold to Julius Lowenthal at an advance the three-story brick store, on lot 25x107, No. 424 Broome street, recently bought by them for about $40,000.

The options held by Neil Burgess on the Fourth Presbyterian Church site, 80x98.9, Nos. 116 to 120 West 34th street and the properties adjoining on the west and in the rear, on 33d street, expired on Thursday. On that day Mr. Burgess took title to the church property, giving in part payment a purchase-money mortgage for $90,000. As the parcel had already been mortgaged for $140,000 by the former owner, Daniel Steiner, it will be seen that the last purchase, which was for $250,000, required an unusually small cash investment. Mr. Steiner bought the property about two years ago for $190,000. It is probably the new owner's intention to erect a theatre, but it is as yet unknown whether the options on the adjoining parcels have been allowed to lapse.

Tim & Co. have sold for Mrs. Emile A. Thomas the four-story stone front residence, 4 West 37th street, 21.6x55x98.9, to A. F. Jammes, the Broadway merchant, and Mrs. A. F. Jammes, for $55,750 and other considerations. This property adjoins Sherry's, on 5th avenue and 37th street. Tim & Co. are also reported to have sold a three-story house, 17.2x50x100.5, on 15th street, east of Broadway, for about $20,500.

It is reported that, as an immediate result of the laying of the new railroad tracks, that No. 25 West 34th street has been purchased, and that a four-story house on the north side of 34th street, about 200 feet west of Broadway, 18.9x60x98.9, has been bought for $50,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

W. P. Mangum has sold for Mrs. Robert Hughes the four-story stone front single flat, on lot 25x100.11, No. 137 East 116th street, northwest corner of 116th street, to Robert L. Lloyd, for $40,000.

Frank L. Fisher has sold for W. W. and T. M. Hall the three two-story private stables, on lots 25x100.5 each, Nos. 204-208 West 68th street, for about $66,000.

W. W. and T. M. Hall have sold another of their row of three and one-half-story dwellings on West 79th street, and negotiations, it is said, will be concluded within the next few days for the sale of two more of the houses. The one disposed of this week is No. 222 West, 18x59x102.2. The price is about $27,000.

The same firm has also sold for Peter Wagner the four-story stone front dwelling, 19x56x100.5, No. 37 West 68th street, for $32,500.

Bryan L. Kennelly and Andrew A. Bibby have sold for Asa A. Alling the three-story brick dwelling, 17x52x100.8, No. 131 West 95th street, to Ralph O. Ives, for about $18,200.

J. W. Smith has sold for Jacob D. Butler a plot, 75x99.11, on the south side of 140th street, 150 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, for $22,000, the buyer giving in exchange property in Brooklyn.

The four-story dwelling, on lot 15.8x74, on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 78th street, and numbered 32 on the latter, is reported sold by Mrs. Mary H. Newcombe.

John P. Leo has sold the new three-story stone front dwelling on the south side of 149th street, 100 feet west of St. Nicholas avenue, to J. Valentine. He has also sold two more of the row of three-story brick dwellings on the north side of 185th street, east of 11th avenue.

A report of a sale or exchange published yesterday, of the five-story apartment house and lot, 51x100, on the southwest corner of Columbus avenue and 88th street, to or with Builder Charles H. Lindsley, who was said to have agreed to give in trade Nos. 195 and 197 Lenox avenue, is pronounced false by all the parties who were alleged to be interested. The apartment house is owned by Irons & Todd, and its value is $130,000, not $250,000 as stated. The firm has become somewhat involved financially through their ownership of the property, and although such a trade has been suggested to Mr. Lindsley by Brokers Starr & Ahern, it has thus far been found impossible to accomplish it owing to the existence of a lis pendens, and the claims of lienors against the Columbus avenue parcel. The names of Brokers Ware & Gibbs published in connection with the item was unauthorized, they not having even heard of the proposition to exchange.

NORTH SIDE.

Edward J. Welling, Jr., has sold for J. D. Mahoney a plot of lots on Jerome avenue, known as Park View terrace, to Martin J. Kirby.

Bryan L. Kennelly and Andrew A. Bibby have sold for Ralph O. Ives his residence on Sedgwick avenue, West Kingsbridge station, for $12,000.

We are informed that the New York Orphan Asylum has had its proposed purchase and new asylum site (in the 23d Ward surveyed, and the carrying out of the project has been taken into consideration this week by the trustees. The property lies east of the Harlem River and west and south of Cromwell Creek. It is now in the hands of from fifteen to twenty owners and its purchase is expected to involve not less than $250,000.

LEASES.

M. & L. Hess have leased for the Defendorf estate the five-story and basement store, No. 652 Broadway, to Robert Lindheim for a term of ten years for about $110,000 for the term, and the store, basement and sub-cellar of Nos. 670 to 674 Broadway, northeast corner of Bond street, for Hornthal, Weissman & Co. to Samuel Schiff & Co. for a term of years at about $15,000 per annum.

Seton & Wissmann report the closing of the following leases: No. 235 Madison avenue to Henry T. Webb, for the season, furnished, No. 108 West 58th street to H. B. Vanderhoef, for the season, furnished; No. 549 Madison avenue to Geo. B. Vanderpoel to May next, furnished.

Personal.

NEW YORK BUILDING NOTES.

Neil Bugges, of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., has purchased the property, Nos. 116 to 120 West 34th street, 80x100, the site of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, and will probably erect a theatre on the plot.

M., and was followed throughout attentively by about one hundred and fifty dealers and cabinetmakers who stayed from opening to finish.

MORTGAGES.

The arrangement of this list is as follows:
1. At name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property thence follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, NOVEMBER 17, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Notice is given that the Common Council has declared by resolution its intention to grade and pave Stewart street, from Broadway to Bushwick avenue, with Belgian block pavement. Objections must be filed with the Clerk of the Common Council on or before the 17th day of December.

Notice is given that the assessment rolls for the cost and expense of constructing sewers in Map 1, District No. 21, subdivision No. 18, has been completed by the Commissioner of City Works. The Commissioner will be at his office, room 15, Municipal Building, on the 26th day of November at 11 A. M., to hear objections and revise same if necessary.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railroad Company applied for permission to run its trolley line on High street, between Jay and Washington streets. The cars now run on Jay street and the company wants an approach to the bridge. The application was referred to the Railroad Committee.

The Committee on Gas and Electricity reported favorably resolutions to place electric lights as follows: On Liberty street, between Sands and Tillary streets; Schaeffer street, between Central and Knickerbocker avenues, and in the Aldermanic Chamber and Committee Rooms of the City Hall. The reports were adopted. A report was received from the Committee on Lands and Buildings, with a resolution to sell property belonging to the city, at No. 136 3d avenue, to T. W. Budelman for $3,500. This also was adopted.

At the meeting of the Bridge Trustees, held on Thursday, it was voted to rescind the resolution ordering the construction of an auxiliary storage battery system for lighting the bridge cars. The motion to rescind was made by Trustee Skinner, after Chief Engineer Martin had recommended such action. On motion of Mr. Skinner, Mr. Martin was authorized to solicit bids for two new locomotives, according to plans and specifications. The trustees approved plans for the pillars designed to support the new structure connecting the elevated railroads with the new bridge station. It was voted to order the removal of the pillar in front of the roadway, on the New York side of the bridge, at an expense not to exceed $3,600.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, called by Mayor Schieren, was held on Thursday in the Common Council Chamber, to confirm the tax levy. Alderman Wallace presided. Alderman Cary offered a resolution that the tax rolls be confirmed pursuant to the laws of 1888. It was adopted, and the Mayor and Comptroller signed the warrants for the collection of the taxes. The Supervisors also met and confirmed the rolls.

The City Works Department has decided to drive forty wells at Freeport on land that was formerly owned by Raynor R. Smith. They are to be 45 feet deep. The wells will be driven just south of the pond which was built to hold the East Meadow Brook water. They will connect with springs below the bed of clay and will not disturb the springs that supply the pond.

As a result of the discussion of the question of the establishment of parks throughout the city Mayor Schieren has appointed an advisory committee on sites for small parks as follows: Walter E. Parfitt, Theodore E. Dreier, H. B. Schermann, A. D. Baird, Gen. John B. Woodward, J. William Creiger and W. W. Kenyon.

Registrar of Arrears F. W. Hinrichs will sell at auction in Judge Neu's court-room, on December 12th, about 180 lots in the 28th Ward. When these are disposed of he will take up pieces of property in the 27th, 25th, 23d and 18th Wards. These would have been disposed of before, but the Registrar was advised that it was best to wait until the renumbering, necessitated by the changes of the ward boundaries, was completed. These pieces of property will be sold under the provisions of the charter and will be for the taxes of 1893 and prior taxes.

Justice Gaynor, of the Supreme Court, appointed Sanders Shanks referee to sell in the foreclosure suit of Peter Bitterman against Henry Lueck and Attalie Lueck. This has been done to test the constitutionality of Chapter 167 of the Laws of 1889, which provides that the Sheriff shall sell in all foreclosure suits, unless the parties to the action, whether they appear or act, consent in writing to the appointment of a referee.

PROPOSALS FOR CITY WORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Friday, November 23d, at 12 M., for erecting gas lamps and posts on Vernon avenue, between Sumner and Lewis avenues.

Obituary.

Isaac D. Reynolds, senior member of the firm of I. D. Reynolds & Son, architects, died at his residence, No. 270 Hart street, on Sunday last. Mr. Reynolds was in his 63d year, and has been a prominent architect in this city for the past thirty years.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET
NEW YORK.

According to figures obtained from official records the following imports were made into the United States for nine months ending September 30, 1894, and for corresponding period in 1893. Free of duty: Wood unmanufactured, $4,178,647 against $5,608,449. Dutiable: Cement, $2,543,762 against $2,770,988; tin plate, $8,662,376 against $13,366,229; marble and stone, $906,004 against $1,337,396; paints and colors, $713,812 against $1,088,524; wood and manufactures of wood, $6,197,090 against $11,202,481. Covering the same period the exports show, of marble and stone, $793,914 against $744,842, and wood and manufactures of wood, $21,921,911 against $20,827,858.

In conformity with orders issued by the Superintendent of Public Works, the State canals will be closed at midnight, November 30th, unless ice formation anticipates the official action.

BRICKS.—There seems to be just a little bit of improvement again on the market for Common Bricks, and, while the prices current seem ridiculously low, the season of the year considered, it is nevertheless gratifying to find there is some stiffening of tone. Some receivers appear to think that possibly $1 62 1/2 might be high enough to quote for an average top figure on cargo deals, but $4.75 has been made in such form as would seem to justify it going upon record, and so far as can be learned there is now nothing that can be called merchantable available for less than $4.25, the narrow limit between the extremes being accounted for by the general good average of quality. During the early portion of the week the arrivals were moderate, but of late have run up into fuller general volume, comprising the previously entertained idea that as soon as barges could be obtained they would be loaded and sent forward. Consumption has again been somewhat interfered with by unpropitious weather conditions, but any lapse in demand for stuff to go to jobs has been balanced by the purchase of desirable loads which have been tied up in slip and covered, or will be, against winter requirement. Pales are much sought after and appear to sell at about former rate. There is nothing particularly new from along the river as the season is over so far as production is concerned, and further shipments will probably be comparatively light.

GLASS.—Business not only here but at interior points continues quite unsatisfactory, and the market is not a healthy or harmonious one by any means. Indeed it is just as well to look upon all quotations as somewhat nominal at the moment in view of constant evidence that sellers are leaving no stone unturned to place their goods, and while ostensibly endeavoring to maintain a uniform run of discounts it is generally suspected that desirable customers are secured by giving them extra allowances under secret agreements, both on lots from factories and from jobbers' hands. It is even asserted that notwithstanding the renewal of the compact between importers only two or three weeks ago there is reason to believe that secret cutting has already commenced again, although exactly where or to what extent no one is prepared to say. Altogether there is too much glass and too little demand.

LATH—The market altogether has held in pretty good form. During early portion of the week conditions looked a little slack, and sales were made at $1.65 under momentary pressure of stock, some of it thin cut, but subsequent moderate offerings gave receivers an advantage which was augmented by quite a little snap to demand and the range was raised to $1.70-$1.75, the latter apparently the latest figure. Taking the week through supplies have been moderate, and it is expected will continue so, while there are evidences of considerable stock wanted by dealers in this locality.

LIME—A measure of irregularity continues on the general market for Eastern, but conditions are no worse than last week and probably a little better. We have reports of business at 55c, and 55c, respectively for common and finishing, and probably a larger portion of the trading was done upon that basis early in the week, but within a day or two quite a line has been placed at 90c, and $100, less discount for cash, and a portion of the trade express a determination to stand out for those figures quite firmly. The unsold accumulation here is very large, said to be in excess of anything known at this time for many years, but against that there is the claim that pretty much all the vessels are regular and owned by shippers of the lime, who propose carrying for their price and letting the cargoes lay until they command the limit. It is also reported that manufacturers at Rockland are working in harmony in effort to sustain the market, although without any agreement. There are, however, a great many buyers who are quite willing to handle Thomaston, even at a very small difference in cost, and state and West Virginia products also have numerous friends.

LUMBER—In the matter of distribution there has been rather more doing since our last, and of somewhat broader character as to variety of stock handled, but nothing up to a point of real animation, nor is anything of that sort expected this winter. Dealers are watching with some satisfaction evidence of a better feeling toward real estate, and while hardly likely to get much benefit therefrom before spring, are becoming hopeful that preliminary symptoms of returning healthy trade can be obtained in current developments. Against the present run of custom, supplies and assortments are sufficient to meet most calls with becoming promptness, and additions are still being made from late deliveries on contract, but there is considerable irregularity on prices, as each dealer makes a rate to suit the business in hand, and the range is pretty wide.

The negotiations over bulk lots are becoming somewhat irregular, with a tendency to diminish, especially on supplies from interior localities dependent upon canal navigation. A great deal of stuff will, no doubt, get worked through by that source of transportation, but it is considered a little late to start fresh lots, more particularly from distant points, and trading tends more to ear lot form or such offerings as can be made by coasting vessels. Superintendent Hannan, of the State Department of Public Works, has ordered that the Erie, Champlain, Black River, Oswego and Cayuga and Seneca canals be closed for the season on Friday, Nov. 30, at midnight, unless sooner closed by ice. A great many salesmen are hanging around the market yet, and seem to be quite willing to negotiate for rail delivery during winter upon terms apparently quite as easy as for weeks past, and with few exceptions values are too unsettled for close positive quotations. From foreign custom the demand is only fair, and generally met without difficulty at former cost.

White Pine has been coming in with some freedom from all points of supply, this State, Canada and the West, but not a great many new deals making of which immediate shipment is intended. Some of the stuff is of low cost and poor quality which is likely to cause receivers some difficulty on the attempt at a turn over, but there is a fair proportion of desirable quality to satisfy buyers who want first-class goods and are willing to pay a fair price for it. The mills are gradually shutting down, but preparations are making for about the usual amount of work in the woods.

Yellow Pine is tending toward greater steadiness. There is not at the moment any very large demand or apparent tendency toward pronounced improvement in values, but operators claim to already feel the influence of the movement making at critical points to central supplies and insist upon living rates, and greater strength of tone is calculated upon for next season.

Spruce is stable without much difficulty because there is no excess of stock offering and very good custom can be found for about anything of desirable quality offered. Receivers appreciate, however, that it is not a season when the seller has positive command of the market, and can preserve advantage only through the comparative smallness of supplies. U. less accounts from the eastward are erroneous, the offerings are likely to continue scanty, and from both this State and West Virginia the probabilities are that manufacturers will continue to restrict shipments to actual orders. There is more hopeful talk in regard to piling fair amounts in stock, but arrivals moderate, and recent developments lead to an impression that before long renewed animation will be shown in dock building.

Carolina Pine has fair chance for improvement. It is not expected that any great addition will be secured for the demand right away, because the stock is generally found easy of access during the winter and buyers see no necessity for hurry, but the methods of manufacturers tend toward a more careful production and such other action as may seem most likely to prevent useless cutting on the line of value.

Hemlock does not get into settled condition as yet, and there are said to be too many small manufacturers compelled to seek a market to hope for immediate uniformity of values. Large operators, however, are becoming tired of working with no margin for profit, and stand out for reasonably full figures. The demand is fair but not what it should be at this time of the year.

Hardwoods are going into the hands of actual consumers with rather more freedom than a week ago, but cannot show a market quite equal to what was hoped for, even allowing for the dull times. For bulk parcels the inquiry is fluctuating, and while at times matters appear quite encouraging for a little while in trade, there is apt to be a quick change in the situation. Such experiences, however, are easily traceable to attitude of buyers, who, although negotiating promptly enough when determined to invest, confine their orders to positive and clear-cut necessities, and stop short the moment they have secured a supply to that extent. Offerings are ample for all current calls.

The first of the public auction sales under the newly incorporated association of Mason & Co., Limited, was held on Thursday, Mr. Waldron Williams acting as auctioneer. The offering was made up principally of foreign woods, cedar, mahogany and satinwood, and attracted a good representative attendance of buyers from the local and out-of-town trade. Bidding appeared to be of a very general character, all hands showing interest and over specially desirable parcels competition at times proved quite keen. The prices obtained were generally claimed to be satisfactory and quite equal to figures ruling in open market. A luncheon was served by the auctioneers to all in attendance at the sale.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus as follows:

Last week's trade showed improvement, and though bad weather interfered somewhat, houses handling white pine met a good fall demand and more lively times were reflected throughout the district. The usual November business is expected for the rest of the month. Canal freights have advanced to $1.75, but general market conditions are otherwise unchanged. In spruce there was a good trade and stocks are getting down pretty fast. The supply to be wintered will surely be light. Dealers are taking no new trade at old prices, the quotations having stiffened up considerably.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman reviews the general situation as follows:

Though it is too late in the season to expect a marked revival and a general swell in the lumber trade, the tendency should be a firmer tone in the market and higher prices after the close of navigation. Holders of lumber will be less eager to unload stocks at the low figures which have prevailed, for they will have confidence that values will certainly not go lower, while the strong probability is that an appreciable advance will be realized within ninety days.

It is now clearly seen and acknowledged that white pine stocks at lake points west of Saginaw Valley have been sold out closer to the saw than anybody thought possible early in the season. Though there is a good deal of unsold lumber massed at Saginaw and Bay City and at upper Mississippi River points, there has been such a clearing out at Manistee, Ludington, Menominee, Marinette, Ashland and Duluth, as well as at minor points on the lakes, that the surplus in the two extreme east and west districts can not be a serious menace to market or prices. Much of this surplus will disappear during the winter. It is a noticeable feature of recent trade reports that heavy sales have lately been made at Saginaw Valley and Huron shore points of lumber to come to this market, showing that the demand has been unsatisfied in the west, and that it is reaching even to eastern Michigan for an adequate supply. Another notable thing has lately been witnessed, which is the visitation at Duluth of eastern buyers for the purchase of stocks for next season's trade. This movement is an unusual thing in the fall, and indicates restored confidence in the eastern trade, as well as a foreboding for an advance of prices early in the coming year. If need not be considered strange if heavy traders in lumber in the east and in the west shall during the winter contract for large blocks of stock to be sawed next season, in sharp contrast to the absence of such transactions last winter; for confidence in the future has been restored by the results of the late election, and experienced lumber dealers know that there must be reaction, and that within a few months, from the extreme depression of the past year. It is believed, and that with ample justification, that there must be a better condition of the lumber trade growing out of such reaction, and that he who would get into the market with a lumber supply, bought at low, or comparatively low figures, must be up and at it early in the coming year. It remains to be seen whether stumpage owners and mill operators will be willing to sell—sell to be cut next season at figures that will meet the views of intending purchasers.

It has furthermore been noticed by handlers of white pine stumpage in this city that inquiry for changes to buy standing timber are increasing, whereas a few months ago there was next to no demand. All things point to a revival of interest in pine, which is liable to culminate in many actual transactions during the coming three or four months.

Trade at wholesale points in the west has been slightly checked during the week by the election. It is probable that henceforward there will be a subsidence of demand, for the season for distribution in the rural districts is nearly at a close. Reports from some points, however, indicate a continuance of a fair volume of trade. The movement from all wholesale points during October was larger than in September, or in October last year.

There is an increasing demand for dry poplar. Stocks on hand are comparatively light and prices consequently getting firmer, though the range is still considerably below the association list. Common and mill are both in abundant supply, with prices weak and the movement rather sluggish. The river mills are still without logs, but, as a rule, have sufficient lumber on hand to carry them through the winter, unless there shall be an unexpectedly large increase in the demand.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman in reviewing general trade prospects, says:

The main danger appears to be from an excessive log cut the coming winter and as steps were taken by the white pine manufacturers at the meeting to entail the cut of green timber this winter and devote all energies to banking the burned over stuff, it looks as if little need be feared on this score. The letting up of the political strain, at any event, will be a relief, and the knowledge of what is going to be done in the future in the way of legislation will tend to restore confidence and encourage proprietors of large industries, manufacturing plants and the investors of capital to go ahead with business ventures and start the wheels going in manufacturing, thus giving employment to many and generally improving the situation.

The heavy rains of the past week over the timber area of the Northwest have filled swamps and rivers with water, which will put them in good condition for logging, providing cold weather comes at the proper time and there is sufficient snow for hauling. Operations are actively under way and the burned timber is being cut down in every section where the fires raged. From the present indications there will be a light log cut on the upper Mississippi and Chippewa Rivers, with about the same amount cut on the Black and St. Croix as last year.

tion stands exactly where it did before they were heard of. Nothing has occurred to impugn the position taken by the Pullman Company that the employer was the best judge of whom he should employ and the amount of wages he could afford to pay, the workman having the privilege of declining the terms offered him if they did not suit him. The right of the workmen to combine for mutual protection and assistance has not been in the least sense invaded. In fact the matter resolves itself into one wholly for settlement between the parties to the dispute themselves, all outside interference proving to be more mischievous than helpful, this would particularly apply to any commission with powers such as Mr. Carroll Wright and his associates propose to give it. If what is indefinitely known as the dispute between labor and capital is an evil, as it undoubtedly is, it is in the nature of a family quarrel and apparently must work out its own cure.

How to Reorganize the Exchange.

THE movement on foot to reorganize the Real Estate Exchange should not be allowed to fail or fall short of the completest success. In a sense, the future of that institution is involved in the step, but even more than that is concerned, viz., no little of the standing and reputation of the real estate profession itself.

There can be no doubt whatever that the existence of the Exchange has lent a certain amount of "tone" to the position of the broker, agent and auctioneer. It has given real estate a public position among the "great affairs" of the city. It may be said by some that real estate does not need any factitious support, that the importance of the business to the community and the character of those who pursue it are the real elements of its good standing. All this is true enough; but it is not entirely true. The real estate business would lose something of its dignity if the public centre, which the Exchange has been for years, were by any chance to cease to be. As a matter of good policy, no broker in this city can afford to see the Exchange pass out of existence or fall into an entirely subordinate position among the mercantile institutions of the metropolis.

But here we are in this position: The directors of the Exchange, themselves, declare that their institution is, in a measure, inefficient, and does not obtain, as it should obtain, a general active support from brokers and others. A species of reorganization is declared to be desirable, and all this must be regarded as somewhat of a confession of failure. Under these conditions, to fail now in the reorganization will be to fail in a very public and complete manner. As we have said, neither the Exchange nor the profession can afford to allow this to come to pass.

A committee has been at work for some time on the problem, and their recommendations are published in full in another column of this paper. To be critical at this juncture would be unfriendly, and no one concerned in the welfare of real estate should show the least hostility to any well meaning effort to resuscitate the Exchange. At the same time if success is to be insured we must see clear and think straight. It will never do to formulate an insufficient plan, rely upon it and then find it end with failure.

The proposed reorganization scheme is in many respects an excellent measure; but the fatal defect of it is, in our judgment, that it is insufficient to rehabilitate the Exchange and make it a working part of the real estate business of the metropolis. A registered board of brokers (which even those who suggest it frankly confess is not likely to be an immediate success), the opening of a board-room where members can write letters and receive clients, and some slight betterments in the Bureau of Information are improvements and enlargements not enough in themselves to actually centre real estate in Liberty street.

An Exchange is defined in the dictionary as "a place where merchants meet for the transaction of business." This definition exactly suits such institutions as the Stock Exchange, Produce Exchange and one or two others, but we doubt whether in this sense an Exchange for real estate is realizable. The conditions governing buying and selling and bartering of real estate do not favor and certainly do not render almost imperative, as is the case with stocks and bonds, the concentration of operators within a narrow space at given hours. The predominant business relationship of a real estate broker is with his clients, not with other brokers. These clients either as buyers or sellers are scattered about the city, and the broker who should try to do his business by frequenting an Exchange would soon be distanced by others who don't. To offer these men a meeting room, a place where they can find stationery and files of newspapers or anything of that sort is to offer them something that is only a chance requirement. Brokers are seldom in need of a place in which to loiter away their time or talk with a client. The latter duty they would rather perform in the privacy of their own office or in that of their client's office. As to the registered board of brokers theoretically it may be a good thing, it might work satisfactorily, but the question here is: will it resuscitate the Exchange? Certainly it cannot make the Exchange an Exchange in the sense the dictionary gives to the word.

Well then, it may be asked, if the Exchange cannot be strictly an Exchange what can it be? The answer is: An association of the real estate brokers, agents, auctioneers, land-owners, etc., of the metropolis. But, when people associate it is for some common and indubitable benefit to be obtained by each and all. Now, taking a rough glance at the matter, What are the benefits for which real estate men would be likely to form a strong, active, central association?

We will put to one side at once, "elevation of the profession," and considerations of that kind. They are undoubtedly powerful, but we have seen that in past they were not sufficient to create a working institution.

"Mutual protection" would influence undoubtedly a certain proportion of real estate men to combine, but we doubt very much whether the leading brokers and agents—those who are well established and have a steady clientele—feel that they are in any very great need of any protection, further than that which the law and their own business sagacity furnish them. The leading brokers, of course, would probably join with any representative body of their fellows, but an association that existed merely for the services it rendered to second rate or third-rate men would scarcely cut a great figure in real estate affairs.

Petty utilities, such as a room to receive clients in, files of newspapers, messenger service, etc., may, of course, be dismissed from consideration as inefficient to the degree necessary.

There are, however, certain important functions which an association might perform that would render it an important adjunct and assistance in the business affairs of everyone interested in real estate. We allude to certain services tending to facilitate and cheapen the transfer of real estate. Roughly, what are these services? To begin at the beginning: before property is bought, and sometimes before a would-be purchaser can make an offer for it, information upon many particulars is needed. To supply all this, a well equipped and thoroughly organized bureau of information should exist. It should, of course, be a bureau of full information, not a bureau of partial information. Second, when terms between a buyer and a seller are agreed upon, there is the matter of searches to be settled and other precautionary measures now controlled by lawyers and people who are primarily in no way interested in the welfare of real estate—these are parties who stand on the highway, as it were, and demand toll of all traders and dealers in real property. Clearly, here is a direction in which an association could be of immense importance to the real estate profession.

Beyond the foregoing there are smaller utilities in the same direction which an association might furnish its members, such as tax and assessment notices, facilities for the payment of taxes, etc. We might add, too, to the list, the general but important service of actively protecting real estate against political rascality and official ignorance.

An association on these lines would, of course, be co-operative in spirit. It should exist for the purpose of enabling its members to transact their business at the least possible cost. Its facilities, its cheaper services, and its assured protection should be given freely to the customers of all its members, so that under these circumstances it would be unprofitable for a broker to stay out of the association. It would not be to the interest of clients to deal with brokers who were not members of the Exchange. All the steps of a real estate transaction would thus be carried on within the Real Estate Exchange and by means of its machinery. A broker sells, let us suppose, a piece of property; the searching and guaranteeing and all the other necessary acts for the proper and safe transference of title is done at the Exchange at a cost not based upon high dividends or the expenses of a fashionable domestic establishment. Under these conditions the brokers would run the real estate business. They would have the whole machinery under their own control and could see that it was managed so as to make real estate easily and quickly transferable, which would, of course, be to their personal benefit. The entire profession would be interested in increasing and improving the general facilities.

It seems to us that an association of this kind, run entirely upon the co-operative system not for profit, but solely for the purpose of facilitating and cheapening and securing the transfer of real estate, and the protection of the general real estate interests, would really centralize the real estate business and obtain the support of all real estate men. The public, too, would be beneficiaries of the scheme.

The foregoing, of course, is advanced only as a very rough plan, merely an offhand suggestion, to indicate the lines upon which the management of the Real Estate Exchange must move if the Exchange is to be what it was intended to be. A scheme of this kind would, of course, raise opposition in certain quarters, but private interest ought not to be allowed to create a great figure in a matter of this kind. Our plan, too, may need capital, but the investment would pay brokers—not, of course, in the shape of dividends, but in the form of cheap and efficient services rendered to themselves and their clients.

It will be seen by everybody at once that were the Exchange organized upon the basis of rendering valuable, nay indispensable, service to its members, it would be easy afterward to make effective rules to govern trade methods, etc. But the first thing that must be done is to make membership in the Exchange so very valuable in dollars and cents that no broker could afford to be independent of it. Then, having combined the brokers of the city, members could readily enact for themselves rules about commissions, single representation or any other matter of common interest. Private interests and narrow interests could then be forced to yield to the general and larger interests. Governing an institution like the Stock Exchange, there are undoubtedly many regulations in force that are not entirely to the interests of some individuals, but those individuals cannot get along without the Exchange, they cannot be ostracized from their profession, and consequently they have to submit.

In the foregoing we have scarcely commenced to sketch out the usefulness of an Exchange constituted upon the lines indicated. With all brokers and agents in co-operation it would be easy to establish a department for protection against those pernicious dead-beats who rent or build, or in a hundred ways and under scores of disguises exploit real estate. Nearly all the great trades have their protective associations. Only in real estate, in which the sharper is most rampant, is he allowed a free field.

Our advice to the directors of the Exchange is: Recognize that petty improvements can avail but little in reorganizing the Exchange. The Exchange must be reformed upon a broad plan that will make it imperative for all brokers, agents and others to join it and be active members of it.

Do all you can to simplify real estate transactions and reduce the number of middlemen concerned in the passage of property from one hand to another. The Purchaser, Seller, Broker and the Machinery of the Exchange include all the parties that should be necessary. How many deals fall through because of the avarice and pettifoggery of those who are really unnecessary outsiders?

Protect your members against all sharp practices, and dishonest persons.

Protect the public. Let the people feel that behind every member of the Exchange is the reputation and standing of the Exchange itself.

The first thing, however, is to catch your members. This can only be done by giving them indispensable services upon better terms than any one else.

THOSE who are proposing to give a military character to the police system of the city—the suggestion that it should have an army officer for its head if adopted would soon be followed by a military system—should first be sure by inquiry that such a step would promise improvement. The idea of these gentlemen seems to be that a military man would be unaccustomed and superior to what are known as political methods and that therefore the Police Department with a military head would be managed without respect to parties and elections. But people who are acquainted with public life in Washington will not acquit either naval or military men of political convictions or of the practice of wire pulling. It may be taken as an assured fact that where the distribution of promotions and honors are not distinctly provided for by law, they are distributed in response to appeals to the party sympathies of the distributors. What are chiefly wanted at the head of the police are capability to organize and supervise accompanied by honor, and these can be found in civil as well as military life. It may be that the best man can be found in the army, but the authorities should not bind their choice to that source and thereby run the risk of losing the services of better men who may come forward from other services. It should be borne in mind, too, that the military and police services are very different in character, so different indeed that ability in one would almost imply unsuitability for the other. The military police abroad have not been the most successful. It is essential that a police force to be efficient should be in closer touch with the populace than a system based upon military rules will allow. The failure of the London police to discover the perpetrators of so many awful crimes in the past twenty years is said to be due to the policy of a late Chief Commissioner, a military man, to militarize the force and the greatest scandal ever known to Scotland yard, and which sent three of the ablest and highest officers of the detective force into penal servitude, occurred during his administration. The coming city administration have before them, in their enthusiasm, a splendid opportunity for making mistakes, and they will do well to make haste slowly, especially in adopting a scheme for the reorganization of the Police Department. No city will not be satisfied with an inefficient force, however honest, any more than with an efficient one, however dishonest.

A Plan for Revivication.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE ADOPTS THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT TO EXTEND THE SCOPE OF USEFULNESS OF THE EXCHANGE.

The special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, held on Tuesday last, was the most important that has been held for a long time, in that it received and adopted the report of the Committee appointed at the ordinary meeting held on November 7th, to consider the advisability of enlarging the scope of usefulness of the Exchange for the benefit of its members. There were present at this meeting the following directors: Messrs. Douglas Robinson, chairman; H. H. Cammann, E. A. Cruikshank, William M. Cruikshank, George De Forrest Barton, C. W. Luyster, J. Romaine Brown, Frank Yoran, Samuel F. Jayne and C. L. Clarkson. The Committee's report is as follows:

The Committee appointed by you at the last meeting of the Board to consider the advisability of enlarging the scope of usefulness of the Exchange, with a hope of benefiting its broker members, beg to report, that, after careful consideration, they have come to the conclusion that the Exchange ought to make every effort to be of the greatest possible assistance to the brokers and agents by giving them the opportunity of more closely allying themselves with the Exchange, and we think of no better way than by instituting a Board of Registered Brokers, which we propose to recommend to you, and by giving such a Board the opportunity of enjoying fuller advantages than have hitherto been accorded to the members of the Exchange. We think that, at first it may be difficult to make such a Board of Brokers as large or influential as we are convinced it would grow to be at no distant day, but we do most emphatically believe that, if supported generally by the more influential members of the Exchange, and as the benefits of such an organization are more and more apparent, the enrollment of all reputable brokers and agents in the Board under Exchange rules, is a foregone conclusion.

Owners of property would be induced from self-interest, if nothing else, to deal only with members of this Board, as members of this Board would be strong enough, if deemed advisable by the Brokers' Committee, to refuse to do business or divide commissions with brokers not members of the Board, if their methods of transacting business were not in accord with the regulations (which may be adopted by the Committee of the Brokers' Board). Such non-members would then be at a disadvantage, as property on their books for sale or rental would not have as open a market, and buyers and owners would appreciate this fact at once.

Why should this plan be unpopular and impossible, or, in other words, why should it not work out satisfactorily? We must all admit that our business, or rather the customs in vogue among some of the brokers, need reforming. We cannot change the old order unless we make these customs impossible between brokers. Customers (owners and buyers of property) must be made to feel by the Brokers' Board that members cannot do business with them if they treat any member unfairly; if we enforce this they will be compelled to deal with brokers not members of the Board, whose customs are not in accord with the regulations of the Committee of the Brokers' Board, and will, as we have shown before, have a narrower market and consequently be at a disadvantage. We feel certain that one or two object-lessons on this point would be sufficient.

All this is not visionary, we believe it is practical and the result obtainable. How the much-to-be-desired result can be arrived at unless through the Exchange and an exclusive Board, with stringent rules binding all members, we fail to see. The larger the membership among reputable brokers of standing the more effective our organization and the more far reaching its influence, bringing benefits to the brokers and owners alike.

Why should such a Board, exclusive if you will, work any disadvantage to any one? Any reputable broker or agent can become a member of the Exchange—annual, if he prefers, at $30 per annum—he then becomes eligible for membership in this Board of Registered Brokers, no such broker or agent need feel excluded, the less experienced and unknown in the business, the more the advantage to be gained by becoming a member of such a board, as he thereby would have a standing among his fellow brokers and in the real estate world. We would suggest a Board of Registered Brokers, fee not to exceed $25 (or sufficient to cover actual expenses of the office, etc.) per annum, and for this fee the Exchange to provide the Board a room to be called the Brokers' Room, open from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., an attendant in charge, whose duty it shall be to attend to messages, notes, etc., for members, and have charge of the room. Another room to be provided where brokers can meet their customers—no one but members being admitted into the Brokers' Room proper. Members to be allowed the privilege of private letter boxes free of charge. Letters, notes, etc., can be addressed to them at the Exchange, or left with the attendant for them. Brokers' Room to be provided with stationery, writing materials, tables and maps for use of the members. Reports of any matters of interest to brokers to be posted daily in a conspicuous place in the room.

We propose, if possible, to inaugurate the exclusive control of property over owner's signatures until such control is revoked by the owner; also to have an appraisement committee who will furnish reliable appraisements at a moderate cost.

We would also suggest that there shall be a standing committee for the legal prosecution of brokers' and agents' claims for commissions against delinquent owners of property upon the payment of a moderate fee to be hereinafter specified.

We advise making the Brokers' Room an important feature and as attractive and necessary to all its members as possible. Daily papers on file, financial reports, etc.

We would suggest, as far as is possible, making rules to bind the members together, to respect each others rights in the sale and rental of property and the recognition of each other in the sale, so as to make impossible the old principal of offering the property first and then getting the authority afterwards. Refusal by the members of the Board to do business with such a broker, if an outsider, and a consequent expulsion or a fine, if a member, would soon cure the evil. A report of such an offense, properly proven to the satisfaction of the Brokers' Committee, would be binding on all members.

Candidates for admission to the Board to be proposed and seconded and approved by the Brokers' Committee. And after such approval to be voted on by the Board of Directors of the Exchange. Expulsion for cause to take same course.

We would suggest representation in Board of Directors of at least three members to represent the Board of Registered Brokers, and that a Brokers' Committee be elected by vote of the members of the Brokers' Board, and appointed by the Directors to attend to the interests of this Board, to consist of seven members of which the Brokers' Directors on Board shall be three of the seven.

We would advise the enlargement in usefulness of the Information Bureau, making it possible for members to obtain, for a moderate fee, information as to restrictions relating to property and other important facts so necessary in the real estate brokerage business; and also to make arrangements for the registration of property, and for a moderate fee, to furnish all tax and assessment bills. The Board, if possible, to establish a list of defaulting tenants; such information could be given to the Brokers' Committee, to be confidential, any member to have the privilege of securing sufficient information to guide him in dealing with the proposed tenant, the Committee in no case to be required to give details or source of information. If such a record was kept it would soon become very important to agents, saving them much trouble and owners of buildings loss of rent.

In closing we hope you will deem, as we do, that the proposed changes and improvements, are as important to the Exchange and its members as we consider them. Respectfully submitted,

DOUGLAS ROBINSON, }
J. ROMAINE BROWN, } Committee.
FRANK YORAN, }

Dated Nov. 16, 1894.

The vote upon the adoption of the foregoing report was unanimous it was stated, the three absent members, Messrs. Richard V. Harnett, George R. Read and Horace S. Ely having previously approved it.

The following draft of the annual report to the stockholders of the Exchange was also adopted, and its distribution among the stockholders ordered: At the conclusion of one of the worst years through which the commercial community has passed since this Exchange was formed, the Directors are able to meet the stockholders with a report and balance sheet, showing that the Exchange has paid all expenses during the past year, that the building has been renovated at a cost of $3,461.76 and that there remains over and above all expenses a net balance of $10,050.10.

Your Directors are satisfied with this result and trust that you will feel as they do.

An important outcome of the recent election, to stockholders and members of the Exchange, is the passage of the rapid transit act. For the past ten years this Exchange has repeatedly urged the importance of rapid transit to the growth of the City of New York, and while it has never committed itself to any particular scheme, all the various plans which have been suggested at one time or another have been ventilated before committees of this Exchange, and much has been done to prepare the public mind for the result which has now been so happily attained.

Your Directors have so felt the importance of enlarging the scope of usefulness of the Exchange, with a view of benefiting the brokers and agents, that they appointed a committee to consider this matter in all its details and have to-day adopted the report of the committee.

Your Directors wish to express their opinion on this important subject hoping that the new Board might not only be of the same opinion, but also enlarge, if they deem best, the scope of the proposed plan. We think that it is to the interests of the Exchange, and by this we mean its stockholders, to err if necessary, on the side of liberality towards members and to endeavor as far as possible to give members generally and to any organization starting under its auspices, as many privileges as possible free of charge, or at least at a minimum fee to provide only for actual expenses of providing the privileges, and without direct profit to the stockholders. We believe that the Exchange and the stockholders will indirectly reap far more than the fees imposed. With this view in mind, our plan provides for a Board of Registered Brokers and Agents, to be governed by a committee of seven; this committee to be elected by a vote of members of the Board of Brokers, three of this committee being Directors of the Exchange, who shall represent the Board of Brokers on the Board of Directors of the Exchange. This committee to draw up rules and regulations for the general government of the Board of Brokers (to be ratified by the Directors of the Exchange), and to have general management of the affairs of the Board of Brokers. Any reputable broker or agent, member of the Exchange, to be eligible to election to this Board, after he has been duly proposed and seconded, and approved by the Brokers' Committee.

It is not proposed to charge members a larger annual registration fee than sufficient in the aggregate to cover rent of rooms and other expenses of the Board; these fees, of course, to be over and above annual dues to the Exchange ($30) for annual members, stock members only paying registration fee in case they become members of the Board of Registered Brokers. The Exchange to provide for this annual fee, a brokers' room, customers' room, free letter boxes, stationery, maps, daily papers, financial reports, etc.

The Board of Registered Brokers, we believe, will become an important body under the general scheme as proposed by our committee, if supported by our members, and we trust they will aid the new Board of Directors in carrying out this important step. We feel convinced, if this is done, that before the next annual report a change for the better in the methods of transacting the brokerage business will be felt, not only by the brokers but also by customers doing business through their offices.

We recommend the enlargement of the scope of the Information Bureau, so that members cannot only obtain, more expeditiously than at present, the information now given in regard to transfers, but also other facts so important in the brokerage and agency business, such as restrictions affecting property, etc. Only a fee sufficient to cover actual running expenses of Bureau be charged, no profit to be made by the Exchange. We hope a plan may be adopted whereby, for a moderate fee, all tax and assessment bills can be delivered to owners or agents registering property with the bureau for this purpose.

There are other improvements which will probably suggest themselves to the new Board of Directors.

We feel that the Exchange, through its Directors who represent the stockholders, must adopt a progressive, energetic, as well as a liberal policy, striving to benefit its members in every way in its power, making itself more and more necessary to them, and with the end in view of making this Exchange the centre of the real estate business in the United States.

We would recommend increasing, if found necessary, the efficiency of present departments as well as the creation of new bureaus. Our principle being to minimize as far as possible, all fees to members, over and above annual dues.

In closing we beg to impress on you the importance of upholding the new Board of Directors in this new movement by your cordial indorsement (and support of our report and recommendations, feeling sure that if this is done, the plan must be a success, and that the Exchange will enter upon a new era of usefulness never before equalled in its history.

Upon the recommendation of the Finance Committee a dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the $500,000 stock outstanding was declared and $2,000 was set apart to reduce the mortgage indebtedness.

Two rules of the Exchange, which have been found objectionable, especially by auctioneers, were rescinded.

"No. 21. No member of the Exchange shall become, or if a member remain a member of any other association, or organization or corporation in the City of New York formed for or carrying on the business of publicly offering real estate for auction, and any member violating this rule shall forfeit his membership in the Exchange.

"No. 22. No auctioneer being a member of the Exchange shall directly or indirectly, through a partner, clerk or otherwise, advertise offer for sale at auction, or conduct any sale of real estate or leasehold property in the City of New York at any place other than the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room, Limited, (except a sale had under a decree of a court of competent jurisdiction), without the formal permission of the Board of Directors of this Association, after application therefor first had and obtained. Any member violating this rule shall be liable to a forfeiture of his membership and all rights in any stand occupied by him and to either or both of said penalties."

Mr. Douglas Robinson stated subsequent to the meeting that the Special Committee had been continued to prepare a preliminary plan to give effect to the report as adopted by the Board of Directors, but that the registered brokers are to appoint their own committee by vote upon which will devolve the work of making permanent regulations and perfecting the details for carrying on business; that the Directors of the Real Estate Exchange had now done all they could do by adopting the recommendations of the committee, and were willing to do everything in their power to aid, but that the success of the plan would now depend upon the brokers and agents.

Mr. Richard V. Harnett said the report embodied his views. He was heartily in sympathy with the movement and endorsed the recommendations.

Mr. E. A. Cruikshank referring to the report said: "Whatever additional advantages can be offered by the Exchange will no doubt redound to the advantage of all. The larger the number of members and the more powerful the Exchange becomes, the more serviceable it will be to each individual belonging to it. While I have not gone so thoroughly as I might have desired into all the matters contained in the report, there is no question in my mind but what it is to the interest of the Exchange on one side and all brokers on the other to join forces and assist in making a headquarters where all information in regard to real estate can be obtained promptly and readily; where a large field will be opened for the sale or rental of property by reaching a number of brokers at the same time and having them all feel a common interest in such rental or sale; in having a central organization by which all brokers can be protected and feel safe in widely advertising the property in their charge to prospective buyers or their representatives, which at present it is not always safe to do, as they may lose both the commission and the credit of the sale."

The following opinions were gathered before the publication of the report; they serve in a measure to show the general feeling of uptown brokers toward the Exchange:

Mr. W. Stabler, of Stabler & Smith, said: "The Exchange does not offer anything we need. I do not know in what respect it could be improved unless it went into something that would help the agents. The Real Estate Brokers' and Owners' Association in Harlem attempted something it could not carry out and as a consequence is practically dead. It tried to enforce the rule that there should be no free renting, which was impossible to enforce. It also attempted to establish a bureau of information on the character and responsibility of tenants, but that amounted to nothing. It would have been very useful if done properly. Another organization is doing it for a small monthly fee and very successfully. Now there is a great number of 'dead beats' who rent houses, stores and offices, and it seems to me that the Exchange would increase its value to its members if it afforded information about these undesirable people. It is not possible, I am sure, to concentrate the real estate business, except the auction business, at the Exchange. It is not susceptible of being concentrated for the reason that everybody buys and sells real estate. A man who wants to buy a dwelling is not going down to the Real Estate Exchange to buy it; he wants to see it. I think the Exchange could increase its value and importance by holding regular meetings for the discussion of questions relating to real estate and the material advancement of the city. That is what makes the success of our West End Association, which leaves matters of pure business alone and devotes itself only to advancing the material interests of this portion of the town. It looks after the streets, the garbage question, street railways and such matters. It was the request of the West End Association that started the Columbus Avenue Cable Line. If the Real Estate Exchange would make itself for the city what the West End Association is for this part, I feel sure that it would grow in importance and value to its members and in influence with the community."

Mr. Frank L. Fisher: "The Exchange could do a great service by getting rid of the curbstone contingent that throngs about its doors. I have heard many complaints of these men. Only the other day a friend of mine was complaining that no two men could go into the Exchange to talk business without being followed by one or other of these men, who try to overhear what is being said so that they can go around and offer the property. I do not know how it can be done, but it would be a good thing to do if possible. The only thing I find useful is the Information Bureau, which might be increased in efficiency. The suggestion in regard to restrictions is a good one; brokers would be very glad to avail themselves of reliable information under that head, for instance whether restrictions really exist and whether they were put on before the mortgage, etc. At present the broker's information on this point is not always definite, and if the Exchange supplied it it would save trouble and facilitate business. There was a time when brokers generally advertised themselves as members of the Real Estate Exchange, in the same way that Wall street men advertise themselves as members of the New York Stock Exchange, but they are getting fewer. I would look with pleasure on anything which would revive the feeling that was back of this announcement. I would like to see membership recognized as conveying some honor or personal credit that would recommend the possessor to the public. As it is no one cares particularly about being a regular member of the Exchange. Membership of the New York Stock Exchange implies a certain amount of capital and that the broker may be relied upon to do business on a proper basis. I would like a membership of the Real Estate Exchange to carry similar significance. As to the business of the members I do not think it could be done on the Exchange to any large extent. The circumstances surrounding real estate are so different from anything else dealt in upon the Exchange."

Mr. P. Zittel: "I would be very glad to do anything that would tend to increase the value and importance of the Exchange, but I really do not see how it can be done. There would I think be no difficulty with brokers who are members of the Exchange, it is with the many who are not members of the Exchange with whom the difficulty would arise. Anybody can become a real estate broker, and as a consequence there are a great many men who will do anything to obtain a commission or a fraction of a commission. I have often thought that it would be a good thing if brokers were licensed and had had to pay a license fee of $200 or $250 a year, that would keep out the worst element, but I fear there are too many obstacles in the way to get a law passed for that purpose. One of the first things to be done is to bring about the consolidation of the two auction rooms. There is not business enough for two and they are only cutting each others throats. One of the great obstacles to the reform of the Exchange is the jealousy among the brokers themselves, and another, the way in which owners do their business now. When I began business twenty-six years ago, an owner would put his property into the hands of one reputable broker to whom he would refer all others who applied to him about it. They could then work amicably together. Morgan, Raynor, Moller and others did their business this way. Now the owner gives the property to all the brokers and thereby increases the rivalry among them. If the public could be induced to go back to the old way of doing business, it would help to elevate real estate brokerage, but I suppose this, too, is impossible. I do not complain of competition. I like a fair stand-up fight, it is the underhand ways I complain of. It has happened to me that when I have spent money in advertising a property that men from other offices watch about it to get hold of the people who came in response to my advertising, in order to sell them other properties. In one case some of our clients were followed onto the elevated railroad, and during an afternoon's shopping to their homes, where next day they received offers by letter. This being the state of things, I confess I do not see how the business is to be improved."

The Tenement House Inquiry.

Public hearings were begun this week by the Commission appointed by Gov. Flower last spring to inquire into the conditions surrounding tenement house life in New York City. The Commission consists of Richard Watson Gilder, chairman; George B. Post, Roger Foster, William D. H. Washington, Dr. Cyrus Edson, John P. Schuchman and Sol Moses. It has already made a preliminary personal inquiry into the subject, and the public hearings will close its work preliminary to making up its report. These are held in the new Criminal Court building and will be continued semi-weekly, or oftener if necessary, for the next few weeks.

The Department of Buildings.

FURTHER TALKS ON THE DEPARTMENT AND THE BUILDING LAW.

Our offer to the building trade to come forward and put the many complaints that are in circulation of blackmailing by officials of the Department of Buildings in more tangible shape than they are now in, does not meet with a large measure of response, at any rate not with the response of actual proof. Even if the charges are true this is not to be wondered at, because the people who paid the money received something in return and are not going to run the risk of the work being overhauled by talking about it. Builders who know of this, and though they are hurt by favors being granted to others that they do not themselves receive, are loth to say anything that would involve them in a quarrel with either the Department or with other members of the trade. This latter position is illustrated by our reporter's experience with the firm mentioned in the paragraph next following. Causes of complaint against the Department will more probably come out through people outside of the building trades than through those in it. If there are no causes of complaint the trade has succeeded in doing what was always hitherto considered impossible, i. e., raise smoke without the aid of fire. For instance, while one of the gentlemen, whose remarks are given below, was talking, a friend of his who happened to be in his office said: "Well, Mr. —, how do you account for this? There was a high board fence on the north side of 55th street between 8th avenue and Broadway, some rafters were run off from it and a shed built at the back, finally a hole was cut in the fence and the place turned into a blacksmith's shop. This was clearly in defiance of the law against erecting frame buildings in the city. I went myself to Mr. Brady and complained of this violation of the law, but the thing stands there to this day." "You ought to have gone further then and complained to the Board of Examiners," said the builder, but the friend did not know that there was any appeal to the Board, and having failed in his application to the superintendent did not go any further.

Some builders do admit that gratuities are bestowed upon inspectors in order to secure their good will, but deny that it is blackmail they are paying. In principle it is precisely blackmail and nothing else. Their explanation is that the opportunities for varying construction of the building law and the impossibility of carrying into practice, with strict fidelity, the theory of the building as embodied in the plans gives the inspector a very large field to be disagreeable in, and the builder to guard against this makes the inspector a present to soften his austerity so that "violations" will not be put upon his building too frequently or for trivial faults, and he is compelled to spend several valuable hours of an only too short business day at the department in getting them removed. The complaint of the inspector will be based upon facts. He may see some loam which the contractor has delivered instead of sand, and although it may lie in the street rejected by the builder as not according to contract, the latter cannot deny that it was on his work when before the department, or say that the inspector has exceeded his duty in reporting it. He must make the best explanation he can and take a wiggling if the department chose to bestow one in order to get the violation removed. A hundred similar things might be cited. Yet, while the builder has the excuse of expediency or policy to plead in mitigation of his offense in making money gifts to the inspector, the system is discreditable on both sides. This is a case in which it is neither blessed to give or to receive. The builder would in fact not give unless he knew that it was expected of him, and his failure to do so would be followed by unpleasant circumstances. This system can only have grown up under corruption, and the sooner an end is put to it the better. It must be borne in mind that this present giving to secure favors or to avoid annoyance is not made up of a few widely spread cases, but according to the statements of the several builders and to general report, is a system by which inspectors receive a considerable revenue in the course of the year and in the total must amount to not a few thousands of dollars. In the end of course, the buying public pays the bribe in the cost of the building. This system is surely the result of a vicious policy and cannot be too soon ended. Under a proper administration of the Building Department and with inspectors as honest and competent as they ought to be, the builder would neither be required to purchase indulgence or have to spend his time at the Building Department explaining away small errors or mishaps. The inspector would on discovering any one of these notify the builder of his infraction of the law or regulations and give him a minimum of reasonable time in which to alter it. If on his next visit the offense remained unremedied then he would refer the matter to his superiors for their action. It is reasonable to suppose that with uncorrupted inspectors violations of the law would be much fewer than they are, and the builders required to spend no more time at the Department than they do now. The gain in reputation to the Department and to the building trade would be inestimable.

The results of interviewing the members of a certain firm showed how difficult it is to bring the complaints against the Department of Buildings down to a matter of record, notwithstanding that the trade is full of them. The firm in question has built a great deal on the West Side; it has several members, two of whom were first spoken to separately and a number finally collectively. The first seen said: "I think all the departments ought to be overhauled, and that pretty radically and pretty quick, the Building Department included. We never had any trouble with the Department, in fact have only had one violation laid on us, and that was by an inspector so drunk that he could not see his way across the beams, but you go round to the job on —th street and see my partners; they are there all the time and can tell you more than I can." Outside the job a second member of this firm was found, who also declared his firm had never had any trouble with the Department. While, however, declaring that the Department was all right, he said: "If we wanted to make trouble we could do it," referring to some infractions of the building law on the part of others, and further: "You can do very little unless you pay for it." When pushed for details on these points he declined to give them, and preferred that the head of the firm should do the rest of the talking. The latter gentleman, a very polite and politic gentleman, had nothing but pleasant things to say of the Department of Buildings and the building law, and gave the impression that he wished the RECORD AND GUIDE to convey the compliments and respects of his firm to the Superintendent and the inspectors.

Mr. John Casey said: "I find the Department a very good one. It has an excellent Board of Examiners, and Mr. Brady is just the right man for the position; he is young, active and knows the building business thoroughly. We were very much put about at the time when our plans had to be approved both by the Building Department and the Health Board, and the regulations of one department clashed with those of the other. Since these matters were brought under one head and especially since Mr. Brady was made superintendent, they have worked smoothly and pleasantly and the plans are put through much more quickly. As to this talk about the inspectors looking for money, all I can say is, they never asked me for a dollar nor have I paid a dollar to any of them, and I have done as much building as any man on the west side. The inspectors I have met have been invariably mechanics and competent at the same time. I think there is room for improvement here and I believe that if Mr. Brady had his option in hiring men we would have a better class of inspectors. They ought to be men so competent, intelligent and honest that some discretion could be allowed them in settling points of difference and allowing variations that do not interfere with the stability and strength of the building. At the same time I would insist upon having trained practical mechanics. I remember the men who were sent out by the Board of Health under the old arrangement—graduates of Columbia College—bright, smart young fellows who had, however, no knowledge but what they got from books and who would get into arguments with builders and their employes for the purpose of trying to discover if there was anything wrong. A practical mechanic can see for himself whether a thing is right or not. Regarding the building law, I think that can be improved. For instance, it requires the first floor to be fire-proof in the case of tenements and apartment houses in order to protect the building against fires occurring in basements. As a matter of fact, it is very rarely indeed that a fire occurs in the basement. In cases where there are stores on the ground floor it seems to me that it would be preferable to make the second floor fire-proof as that has to carry the weight of the partitions and as fires that occur in these buildings generally break out in the stores because of the inflammable matter that is always kept in them. The change would cost more money, but it would let the builder get along quicker with his work. He is often delayed by the want of the iron beams for the ground floor, which he would not be if he was allowed to use wood for that floor and iron for the floor above, because he would have so much more work to do before the iron would be required."

Mr. C. W. Luyster, referring to the reports of bribe taking by officials of the Building Department, said: "When I started in the building business I determined never to pay a man a dollar, and I have been in that business thirty-two years and never have given a man a dollar. The inspectors are not competent men, but I believe they are as good as Mr. Brady can get for the salaries he is able to pay. I do not think Mr. Brady should be held responsible for the character of the inspectors. I do not think he has anything to do with the appointment or removal of any one of them. Tammany Hall is at the bottom of it all, and responsible for the condition of things that exists. If the inspectors are not paid properly of course they will bleed the builders. There have been superintendents whom I did not consider honest, but I do consider Mr. Brady a competent and honest man. A man who wants to do good work need not pay inspectors. If he is asked to do it and appeal to the Superintendent or the Board of Examiners he will be protected. Builders who do pay the inspectors are very foolish, and as guilty as the inspectors themselves. The Board of Examiners is made up of men fully competent for the positions they hold, and any case carried before them will, I am sure, be dealt with on its merits." Regarding the building law, he said: "The improvements I would suggest would be in the line of greater stringency. Walls in some instances should be thicker and the timber stronger, more care should be exercised in the placing of lines, foundation pier and walls should be stronger and thicker. No matter what is the span of the house, a man can choose his own timber and can put in either 8, 9, 10 or 12-inch. If he puts in 9-inch that is passed as good construction. In some cases 9-inch is put in where only 12-inch is really good construction. I hold that the builder ought to be compelled to put in timber of a certain thickness, according to the weight that has to be carried. A law similar to that which applies to store houses ought to be made for private houses. Regarding the fire-proofing of the lower floors of flat houses, I am in favor of that, and if there is any danger from fires in stores, in cases where the ground floor contains stoves, the second floor ought to be fire-proof also. I would not take away the fire-proofing from the first floor believing that this is particularly a case where it is better to err on the safe side."

Mr. J. B. Gillies, to whom the same questions were put as to other builders, replied: "I think the case was put fully and fairly by Mr. Buck in your columns. The Building Department like a good many other departments is about twenty years behind the age. As to the talk about money being paid to the inspectors that is, I believe, all heresay; even the talk is less than I ever heard before, certainly there is not so much of it as there was three years ago. Regarding the inspectors, every one I have met in this district I consider competent. I have talked with them frequently and have received from them views and suggestions which have been helpful to me. No doubt a great deal could be suggested for the alteration of the building law, but what one man would want another would not. There are no doubt differing opinions as to the thickness of walls and the heft of timber, but I do not trouble about them. I consider what are required as safe, and that is all I want to consider. I am content to pay for what my neighbor pays for; if he paid for less than I did of course I should immediately become dissatisfied. Mr. Brady and I are political enemies, but I think he is as honest and competent a superintendent as we have ever had excepting none. What trouble there is between the department and the building trades arises in my opinion from the exercise of discretionary power in the construction of the law, and I do not know how we are to make laws affecting a subject so complicated as buildings under which such differences will not arise."

Mr. P. Gallagher, when questioned said he had not come into sufficient contact with the Department of Buildings to enable him to say anything of the character of the Department or its officials. He believed there was a great deal in the building law that might be improved but did not care to go on record as expressing positive opinions without first studying the law carefully. "One point, however, occurs to me," he said, "and that is in some cases the meaning of the law is not clear where it might easily be made so. For instance, bearing walls are called for of a certain thickness up to a certain height. It sometimes occurs that parts of the wall, where, for example we put in a zig-zag, have nothing to carry and yet we may be required to make these parts as thick as the others, yet what is the use of it? There is another matter that I would like to refer to and that is the police regulations for the use of the streets. There is no builder to-day in Manhattan Island who can erect a decent dog-house on the street and live within the regulations. Consequently, builders are constantly being summoned to court and fined, to say nothing of their loss of time and money in various ways, for doing that which they must do in order to carry on their business. There are certain liberties that a builder is absolutely obliged to take; it would be much better to allow him those liberties and thereby give the officials less chance to levy blackmail."

Mr. A. J. Robinson, of Robinson & Wallace, had too small an acquaintance with the Department to give any opinion of its working. He had met with incompetence on the part of inspectors, but the character of his firm's work was such that they troubled them very little. "I am, however," continued Mr. Robinson, "in favor of the inspectors being appointed by competitive examination. The higher the character of the inspector and the more competent he is the better the good builders will like it. There is so much talk of blackmail being levied by the Department employees that I assume there is some truth in it. If people pay blackmail it must be for some consideration, otherwise I can see no reason why they should pay it, nor do I see why a great deal of work done in the city is passed by the inspectors unless they are paid to pass it. One thing I am quite sure of and that is that no man who is doing good honest work need pay blackmail. Your question relating to the building law takes in a very large subject, on which I would have to prepare myself before speaking at length upon it. There is one point I can refer to, and that is the requirements for the thickness of walls. These requirements are based on safety with the worst class of work. Consequently the honest builder has to suffer for the doings of the scallawag. A 12-inch wall could be carried up much higher with perfect safety than is now allowed, if the work is proved up properly. There are many cases in which, because the regulation height is exceeded by a few feet that a 16-foot wall has to be put into the basement, the extra width in the lower part of the wall being totally unnecessary for safety, providing the work is done properly. I had a case of this kind in the extension to a dwelling house I built, where we went only three or four feet above the allowed limit for a 12-inch wall. With provisions for more rigid inspection I think the law relating to dwelling house walls can be altered with advantage to builders and owners and without any injury whatever to the public. This opinion does not apply to walls of less than 12 inches in thickness."

The Lumber Dealers' Association.

The voluntary association of lumber dealers, which has existed for some time, has taken permanent form by the incorporation of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, with the following officers: President, J. W. Robinson, of Robinson Brothers Lumber Company, North Tonawanda, N. Y.; first vice-president, Robert H. Jenks, of Cleveland, Ohio; second vice-president, E. M. Price, of Price & Hart, New York; Treasurer, A. C. Tuxbury, of the W. H. Sawyer Lumber Company, North Tonawanda, N. Y. The membership is made up of from 150 to 160 of the most prominent wholesale dealers of the Middle and Eastern States, who represent a capital estimated at $30,000,000 and a business at $75,000,000 a year. The objects of the association are mainly the mutual protection of the members and the dissemination of useful information. A bureau of information has been established at No. 18 Broadway under the superintendence of the secretary of the association, Mr. H. M. Clark.

Rapid Transit.

THE AWAKENING OF THE MANHATTAN ELEVATED RAILROAD COMPANY—MR. STARIN'S IDEA FOR AN UNDERGROUND ROAD.

The vote for municipal rapid transit has already borne good fruit in awakening the owners of existing facilities to a sense of the danger they are running in ignoring the needs of this great and growing population. The Manhattan Elevated Company has made a number of changes for the increase of its service which will no doubt help the situation much, but are by no means as comprehensive or as extensive as it calls for. These changes are intended to relieve the points where the jam is now greatest. On the 6th avenue lines extra trains are now running between 104th street and the Battery and the number run on the upper part of the road between 5.30 and 6.30 P. M. has been doubled to relieve the shopping districts. Extra trains make no stop between Franklin street and 14th street. North of 59th street trains now run on three-minute headway instead of six-minute headway as heretofore. Transfers are issued at the Battery to allow travelers to cross from one side of the city to the other without extra charge, so that any one desiring to do so can ride from 155th street on the West Side to 135th street on the East Side for five cents. But for an obscuration of vision peculiar to monopolies, these changes would have been made long since, but being made they should be thankfully received as a measure of immediate relief. The results will show how far the Commission and the public can rely on the elevated roads to carry traffic and what part they can play in a comprehensive plan of rapid transit. It is a great pity for its own sake that the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Company did not assert itself earlier by giving the public the largest benefit of its resources.

The Rapid Transit Commission is still considering the plans and suggestions for routes which have been presented to it. At last Tuesday's meeting Mr. Henry R. Beekman resigned the office of counsel to the Commission, and Parsons, Shepard & Ogden, and Tracy, Boardman & Platt were appointed counsel at such compensation as should from time to time be determined upon. The latest suggestion on routes comes from Mr. Starin, who favors an underground, electric, standard gauge, four-track road running the entire length of the city on the general lines adopted by the last commission. If it should be decided that there should be a four-track west side line and a four-track east side line above 14th street, a single four-track line below that point would be inadequate, and the east side line should be continued down Elm street. His idea of routes in this event was for the west side, Broadway, if available for a four-track road, and if not a parallel street west of it, to the city limits, and for the east side, Elm street to beyond the Harlem river. He thought the road should be planned to carry freight, mails and express matters as well as passengers, and to act as a vast receiving station for the business of all the great trunk lines of the country entering New York. The double-deck plan was out of the question; a broad road on one level and of ample height was essential.

Trade Notes.

The New York Illuminator Company, of No. 2,741 8th avenue, has met with surprising success in the manufacture and sale of their light producing patented appliance called "Illuminators." The demand for such an article has long been felt by property owners and occupants of dark stores and lofts. As we have already explained in our columns, the device in question was invented by Mr. Edward Westermayr, a practical builder of New York City, and is now in general use in flats, stores, lofts, etc. The device is constructed on the principle of reflection and by means of corrugated silvered glass, the daylight is reflected and diffused into any room, otherwise totally dark. It can readily be adjusted to any window frame, and being made of the best wrought iron in the most thorough workman-like manner, is practically indestructible. Inspection can be had at the company's warehouses above stated. Considering the saving of gas and electric light the prices are sufficiently reasonable. There are now about 1,000 of these "Illuminators" in use in New York City, and agencies are being established to supply the constantly growing demand from out of town customers.

The Pennsylvania Enamelled Brick Company was incorporated on November 19, under the laws of Pennsylvania, with a paid up capital of $100,000. The officers are James L. Rankine, president; Arthur E. Barnes, vice-president and general manager, and Wm. F. Burden, secretary and treasurer. The main offices of the company are at No. 287 4th avenue, United Charities Building, New York City, and the works at Oaks, Pa. The Pennsylvania Enamelled Brick Company succeed to the business formerly carried on by the Griffen Enamelled Brick Co.

The work of reconstructing the Hoffman House, after plans by Architects John B. Snooks & Sons, has been most carefully done by the contractors, notably the marble work by Dimond's Marble Works, of No. 218 West 42d street. This old established and reliable house are workers and dealers in marble and onyx, and are agents for Pennsylvania slate quarries. The proprietor is Mr. John H. Dimond, and he makes it a point to fill orders promptly and satisfactorily. His telephone is No. 1910 35th street.

TIFFANY "FAVRILE" GLASS.

Mr. A. E. W. Painter, one of the iron kings of Pennsylvania, and a man of large influence, is about to erect a memorial window in St. Paul's Church, Troy, Rev. Dr. Enos, pastor. This church has been recently entirely reconstructed and filled with many works of art by the money which was given by the most prominent citizens of Troy, especially those connected with the stove industries—the Warrens, Tillinghasts, etc. Mr. Painter's memorial was designed by that very clever artist, Mr. J. A. Holzer, and is made very largely of "Tiffany Favrile Glass," an entirely new departure in glass work, the great artistic merits of which are undoubted. The window is extremely large and represents St. John on the Island of Patmos writing the Apocalypse, surrounded by a host of angels, etc.

VENETIAN GLASS MOSAIC FOR MANTLE FACINGS.

The demand for well-executed and attractive tile and fireplace work by the public generally, makes it needful for builders now to give a far greater degree of careful attention to the selection of materials for such purposes than ever before. The truth of this is demonstrated in many of the first-class private houses recently completed. One of the details especially noticeable is the introduction of Venetian glass mosaic for mantle facings. This material is susceptible of the most beautiful color combinations and artistic ornamentation. The firm of Davis, Reid & Alexander, No. 18 East 15th street, New York City, have made a special feature of this work, examples of which, together with tile and fireplace work, executed by them, may be seen in Messrs. Walker & Lawson's four houses on Riverside Drive and 103d street; Mr. James Livingston's nine houses on West 88th street; Mr. A. G. Nason's five houses on West 79th street; Messrs. W. W. and T. M. Hall's eleven houses on West 79th street, and Mr. E. Kilpatrick's five houses on West 68th street. Among the many contracts for tiling which this firm have recently secured may be mentioned the floors of the new wing of the American Museum of Natural History; the Presbyterian Building, corner 20th street and 5th avenue; private residences of Mr. C. T. Yerkes, 5th avenue and 68th street; Mrs. W. B. Ogden, Madison avenue and 39th street, and Mr. Emery, East 68th street. A visit to their show rooms will doubtless prove advantageous to any intending purchasers.

Personal.

Alderman-elect John P. Windolph, the well-known real estate and insurance broker, has removed his office from No. 62 to 60 Liberty street. At the new address Mr. Windolph has more room and better facilities.

Werner & Windolph is the name of a new firm of architects, with offices at No. 60 Liberty street. Mr. Werner was formerly with R. C. Fisher & Co. and Hugo Kafka, and Mr. Windolph (who is a son of Alderman-elect John P. Windolph) was formerly with Architect George B. Post. Both are bright young men, and already have plans in preparation for a number of new houses.

Questions and Answers.

Correspondents who do not find answers to their communications in this paper must please refer to future issues.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following: A party holding a lease of premises for 12 years, still having 4½ years to run, desires to sublet for balance of term as a restaurant licensed to sell liquors. A clause in the lease reads as follows: "And shall not be used for the sale of liquors or for any illegitimate purpose;" no penalty is inserted in the agreement. Would the transfer vitiate the case?

Answer.—The transfer of itself does not vitiate the case. It, however, gives the landlord an opportunity to make trouble. He may not desire to do so. But he may obtain an injunction preventing the carrying on of the sale of liquors or any "illegitimate business."—LAW EDITOR.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

You will oblige me by answering the following question. W. A. and H. R. make a lease for a grocery store on February 2, 1892, from May 1, 1892, for one year, by a written agreement. On May 1, 1893, the landlord, W. A., indorses on the lease, "this lease is hereby renewed for one year, viz., from May 1, 1893. W. A." on March 3, 1894, W. A., the landlord, endorses again, "this lease is hereby renewed for one year from May 1, 1894. W. A." Now the tenant, H. R., wants to move out because the landlord has let the store adjoining to another grocery store. Now can the landlord hold the tenant for damages sustained, etc., as the tenant never signed the agreement or extension of lease.

Answer.—W. A., the landlord, can oblige the tenant to pay the rent until May 1, 1895. H. R. having occupied the premises after May 1, 1894, the holding becomes one for a year. It is not necessary to sustain the landlord in such action that H. R. should have signed the extension of the lease.—LAW EDITOR.

ASSESSMENTS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly answer in your next issue, (1) if there is a law governing the assessed valuation of property; and (2) if so, what is the percentage on a building recently completed?

Answer.—Yes. In New York City the Deputy Tax Commissioners and in Brooklyn the Board of Assessors are required by law to value property for the purposes of assessment at what it would bring at a fair sale. The ways at which they arrive at this fair value are sometimes past finding out. Prominent brokers tell us that in New York they guess what the property would bring at a forced sale and place the valuation at 50 per cent of that; that in Brooklyn they guess at what the property would bring at a fair sale and fix the valuation at 70 per cent of that. (2) Is a question impossible to answer?—LAW EDITOR.

The Change in Fifth Avenue.

A CHANCE TO SECURE SPACIOUS WELL-LIT STORES AND LOFTS SUITED TO HIGH-CLASS BUSINESS.

No one who walks upon Fifth avenue below the Park can be indifferent to the transformation that is going on there. What was once a strictly residence street, is fast becoming a strictly business street except in a few spots where large investments have been made in club and residence sites and buildings, and which stay because it would not pay to move them. These exceptions, however, give value to the thoroughfare because they will always stand as representing the best in the way of domestic architecture, and are indications that fashion and fortune still does and always will cling to Fifth avenue. As a consequence, the business that has taken position there, and that is still to come is of the very highest class of retail business supplemented by fashionable hotels. A glance at the windows and at the names over the doors will give ample testimony to the fact that the tradesmen who have secured premises on Fifth avenue up to now, are those who minister to the taste of the wealthiest people in the city; they are jewellers, decorators, dealers in pictures and objects of virtu, high-class milliners and tailors, etc. In fact, Fifth avenue promises in a few years to outrival Regent street or Piccadilly as a well shopping place, and it is thither that the families of the millionaires of the south and west will direct their steps when they come to New York City on their periodical shopping visits, to supplement the patronage which the wealth of the city itself bestows upon it.

Nothing comes except for cause. The cause which has brought about the change in the uses of Fifth avenue property is the need for a quarter wherein the goods offered for sale shall be all first-class and in which the traffic shall be limited, so that shopping shall be more easy and pleasant than that of Broadway, for instance, which, since the advent of the cable car, has become crowded to the point of congestion, and in which there is no restrictions of the business carried on or consistency in the grade of goods offered. Hotel, theatre, saloon and store crowd upon one another in Broadway, while from Fifth avenue such as are objectionable are eliminated. On Broadway the cheap and dear goods are cheek by cheek, the former being naturally more abundant than the latter, but on Fifth avenue the dealer in inferior wares has no place. Consequently, on the latter thoroughfare there is an altogether better tone; less sensation and bustle and more taste and evidence of fortune. The withdrawal of the better class tradesmen from Broadway and other localities to Fifth avenue has compelled extensive structural alterations in the buildings on that thoroughfare. In some cases old houses have been adapted over into stores and in others the old buildings have been torn down, but in either case, although the preference has naturally been given to the entirely new ones, there has been no lack of tenants for any. There is, too, an evident demand for more, which demand will grow with the filling up of the buildings, because that will naturally be the best kind of evidence of the value of the thoroughfare for business purposes.

Right where this movement is most pronounced Mr. C. E. Harrell has erected a handsome four-story and basement business building, No. 306 Fifth avenue, near 31st street, which is now open to inspection for renting purposes. This building is especially adapted to the effective display of goods because it has been constructed with the view to making spacious, well-lit floors. The front is entirely of glass, bayed to the top, and the rear looks upon an open court between it and the corresponding building on Broadway. The width is 25 feet. The basement has a depth of 130 feet as it runs clear out to the curb, the stores are of 100 feet, and the three lofts about each 87 feet. As previously stated all the fronts are open. The lofts are reached by an entrance, independent from the store, through a hallway laid in mosaic tiling. Lavatories and the other conveniences that go with them are to be found on every floor. The building is heated with steam and wired for electric light and piped for gas. The plumbing is open and the best of its kind. An electric elevator affords quick communication with the different floors from the hallway and can be used from the store as well.

In addition to their other points of suitability in construction, conveniences and arrangements, this building is located right in the line of traffic that comes from the Holland House on the south and the Waldorf on the north, from which it is only a block and a half distant. The new Astor Hotel, which is to be built along side the Waldorf, will be just as near, and increase the tide of first-class travel on the avenue. The desirability of this building for any high-class business is unquestioned.—Communicated.

COVENANT TO REPAIR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer the following query in your next issue and oblige: Under an "Agreement to let," which contains the following printed clause among others: "Party of second part (tenant) will keep the plumbing work, pipes, glass and premises generally in repair," is it incumbent on the tenant to look after the roofs and outside of premises as well as the inside? or is it the owner's duty? Tenant claims that he is not bound to look after the outside repairs,

Answer.—It is the tenant's duty. See RECORD AND GUIDE October 20, 1894, page 547.—LAW EDITOR.

A PLUMBER'S BILL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

We would like your advice to the following case: E and C are two plumbers, doing business in Brooklyn. Some sixty or ninety days ago they contracted with S, builder (agent for M S, his wife), to do all plumbing as per plans and specifications, also according to "sanitary rules," in five houses. After making irregular payments S leaves a balance of $725 due E and C, which he refuses to make good, they having the work completed, except making the "water connection," which they are ready to do at any time; but, as stated above,

S refuses to settle. What we want to get at is, can he be compelled, through legal proceedings, to come to terms (E and C also have the signature of M S, owner, on their contract), or is it a loss? Can it be procured in any way? By giving this a space in your next issue, with your opinion, you will confer a great favor.

Answer.—It should not be a loss. Legal proceedings should bring the money. File a mechanic's lien and foreclose same, or sue for the amount due.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following in your next issue: Is Broker A entitled to his commission if his client fails to take title and forfeits his contract money, which contract money amounts to four times the amount of commission, broker having received half commission on signing contract, and gave receipt that other half was to be paid on passing title, which he naturally supposed would be passed?

Answer.—A broker has earned his commission when he has procured a responsible customer, ready and willing to make the purchase. So A was entitled to his full commission in this case when the contract was signed, but it seems that he only demanded one-half and agreed that he should receive no more if the contract was not carried out. He can recover no more notwithstanding that he "naturally supposed" that the title would be passed.—LAW EDITOR.

Real Estate Market.

Unpleasant as the admission must be, it is now conceded by many of the most observant brokers that the fall market has failed to realize expectations. There exists at present apparently uncontrovertible evidence of its having yielded to untoward influences and relapsed into the quiescent state that characterized the business of the summer months. There is, no doubt, plenty of money seeking investment in real estate, but although the asking prices for improved property anywhere north of Houston street are believed to have reached the lowest possible notch, actual investors are growing scarcer. Few transactions are being closed, and yet every broker of any pretensions has for weeks been able to and can now tell of sales of consequence under way in which the principals are held aloof by trivial disagreements regarding values that would ordinarily be considered immaterial where a sale and purchase were involved. In the up-town districts would-be buyers are plentiful enough, but beyond monopolizing the time and attention of the brokers they are successful only in failing to accomplish anything. The perversity of many of these prospective purchasers was never more consistent. They are perhaps no more desirous of buying cheaply than have been their predecessors for a year or more, but their fancy runs toward the acquisition of parcels of a specified description in neighborhoods where they do not exist. The seeker for a three-story house wants one in a locality in which are only four-story dwellings, and if induced to make an offer for one of the latter will almost invariably name a price based on his idea of three-story values, so to speak. The would-be flat buyer persists in an endeavor to make a $30,000 investment where lots alone are quoted at not less than $15,000. Under such circumstances it is not to be wondered at that brokers have become discouraged, and are not now inclined to look for any improvement in business before next spring.

The inactive condition of the sales market is almost distressing to West Side builders and operators. According to a catalogue issued by a Columbus avenue broker in September there are now, after allowing for purchases made since that time, over 500 new and unoccupied dwellings offered for sale between 68th and 104th streets. They range in value from $13,500 for a small brick house on 70th street, west of West End avenue, to $120,000 for a corner mansion on Riverside Drive. If $30,000 is taken as the average price, and that figure is probably too low, the aggregate value of the houses at present on the market must be fully $15,000,000. And yet there are builders whose operations now under way, or about to be begun, will, when completed, add largely to the number of unsold houses. With some of these builders the speculation will result in immediate profit, as they are preparing to meet an urgent demand that already exists in special localities. With others the inducement to continue building is probably the same as that felt by a man who has gotten under too great a headway when running on ice, fearing if he should stop he would fall. It certainly looks as if a let up in West Side house building would have a beneficial effect on next year's market, in view of the fact that there is little likelihood of that section of the city being selected for an operation similar to that of the so-called Southack syndicate.

A limited number of unattractive realty parcels, located this side of the Harlem River, were disposed of at auction in the Broadway Salesroom this week. Extensive offerings of 23d Ward property on Wednesday and of Brooklyn lots on Thursday atoned, however, to some extent, for the paucity of the sales of city parcels of average description and value. An executor's sale on Tuesday of property owned by the estate of the deceased operator, Myer Finn, did not result satisfactorily, the three most valuable of the parcels offered being bought in for the estate. With one exception, however, that of a house on Great Jones street, none of the small assortment catalogued was considered specially worthy of competing for, particularly when it became apparent that each parcel was protected by bidders representing the executor. The two properties sold brought about their full value. A sale by James L. Wells on Wednesday of North Side lots proved satisfactory to the owners. Of the eighty lots shown on the auctioneer's map buyers were secured for forty at from $750 to $1,500 each. By far the most interesting as well as successful of the week's sales was one of Brooklyn property held by Peter F. Meyer & Co. on Thursday, under the direction of the executors and trustees of the estate of Henry A. Kent. It comprised the entire blocks bounded by 3d and 4th avenues, 59th and 60th streets, 4th and 5th avenues, 60th and 61st streets, and the block front on the south side of 61st street, between 4th and 5th avenues, in all 159 lots. Buyers were numerous, the bidding was prompt and spirited and the lots were all sold, realizing a total of $112,350 or an average of $707 each.

On the same day Richard V. Harnett & Co. sold at the Real Estate Exchange, by order of the executor of the estate of Clinton Gilbert, the lots, with old dwellings, Nos. 730-736 Greenwich street and Nos. 128 and 130 Perry street, to Morris Steinhardt, the building loan specialist, for $60,500. The corner will doubtless be improved in the near future. No. 25 Waverley place, on the northwest corner of Greene street, offered by the same auctioneers, was withdrawn on a bid of $116,000.

On Tuesday John N. Golding withdrew the plot 50x100, with buildings, on the south side of 68th street, 275 feet east of West End avenue, announced to have been offered at assignee's sale. On Wednesday B. L. Kennelly adjourned, until December 3d, the sale of No. 148 West 82d street, and W. W. Fogg until December 12th the sale of a gore lot on the southwest corner of 7th avenue and 117th street.

The Change of Grade Damage Commission, Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, on the 16th inst. allowed 49 claims, aggregating $101,150, to owners of property on East 144th, 146th, 148th, 149th and 169th streets and on Vanderbilt avenue.

THE MONROE STREET COLLAPSE.

The Coroner's jury yesterday exonerated the architect and all others connected with the erection of the building at No. 72 Monroe street, which collapsed on the 10th ult., killing and injuring a number of people.

An instructive lesson is taught by two of the recent sales on 18th street. Horace S. Ely & Co., representing a client, secured about $55,000 for the dwelling and full lot No. 27 West 18th street. The owner of the adjoining property, No. 29 West, which in every respect is identical with No. 27, dealt direct with the purchasing agents of the buyers. He secured for his house only $43,000. The moral is that it is wise in real estate transactions for owners to always intrust their interests to the management of a reputable broker or brokerage firm.

The contractors in charge of the construction of the new St. Luke's Hospital have met with the usual delays that seem to attend the building of all large public structures, and instead of having the buildings ready for delivery on January 1, as agreed, will hardly have them completed and in shape for occupancy by the first of July next. John D. Rockefeller, or whoever may be the purchaser or purchasers of the old hospital grounds on 5th avenue, 54th and 55th streets, will, therefore, not be called upon by the trustees to take title before the latter date and probably not until two months later. Their identity will consequently continue to remain unknown for some time to come.

There is a windfall coming for the Real Estate Exchange, provided there shall be no postponement of a sale to be held by Richard V. Harnett & Co. on Monday next. Over 3,200 Western mortgages and 175 parcels of land, variously located in States west of the Mississippi, held as collateral by the New York Security and Trust Co., as trustee, for loans to the Equitable Mortgage Co. of Kansas City, Mo., which has defaulted in their payment, will be sold by order of the Supreme Court of New York beginning at 10.30 o'clock A. M. Every mortgage and parcel will be disposed of separately, with the result that the Exchange will receive in fees something over $3,500. A knock-down fee of one dollar will be the charge for each of the sales of mortgages and two dollars for each parcel of real estate disposed of.

The Buffalo Real Estate Exchange has added a renting bureau to its other features. A membership fee of ten dollars is charged, and ten per cent of agents' commissions on rentals must be paid by members to the Exchange. A circular sent out calls attention to the following advantages, which it claims the new bureau possesses:

"Owners will have the greatest and surest means of renting their property.

"Applicants for accommodations will be enabled to find at the bureau and also at the offices of members complete lists of the best business and residence property for rent in the city.

"The bureau and its members by this system of interchange will find their facilities for renting vastly improved and a corresponding increase in revenue." A record of delinquent tenants, the circular states, will also be kept at the bureau for the information of members of the Exchange, who are requested to furnish the bureau with the names of all those who have defaulted in the payment of rents.

How the last mentioned feature will work in Buffalo remains to be seen. A similar "black list" was proposed for the New York Real Estate Exchange some years ago, but on the eve of its adoption being authorized by the directors it was discovered that the Exchange would probably make itself liable for damages should any be claimed by persons whose names appeared on the list. The scheme was therefore abandoned.

Harnett & Co. will sell at auction, in the auction room of the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, the five-story brick tenements, No. 420 West 39th street and No. 453 West 48th street. The first contains two and the second one store.

The Brooklyn houses are No. 144 Clinton avenue and No. 128 Willoughby avenue, the first being a two-story and mansard roof frame dwelling on a very large lot, and the second a four-story and basement, mansard roof, brownstone dwelling on lot 17x100.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Reliable information apparently is at last obtainable regarding at least some of the sales in the block on 18th and 19th streets, between 5th and 6th avenues. The report published in the Evening Post on Wednesday that Siegel, Cooper & Co., of Chicago, are interested in the purchases and purpose erecting a large retail establishment seems to be substantially correct, although it still lacks positive confirmation. A reporter from THE RECORD AND GUIDE saw G. Siegel, of Siegel Bros. & Co., this city, on Thursday, in reference to the report, but could only obtain from him the non-committal statement that he was not in a position to either deny or confirm it. He admitted, however, that the law firm of Rose & Putzel was the legal representative of his firm and also of Siegel, Cooper & Co. That admission supplies a connecting link, the discovery of which was necessary to enable the verification of the report. Mr. Putzel is the son-in-law of one of the Messrs. Siegel, and it has been known for some time that he represented the buyers for whom F. Southack & Co. were purchasing. Title has been taken recently to Nos. 33, 39 and 47 West 18th street and No. 50 West 19th street in the name of George Wetterer, a clerk in the office of Rose & Putzel, who is undoubtedly a dummy for the real owners. It is remarked that a firm of such little prominence in the legal or commercial world would not be intrusted with the consummation of a transaction of such great importance by capitalists other than those connected with one member of the firm by family ties. The Southack and Siegel denials must be received with caution, as they have in every instance been expressed in language that leaves a loophole when it will become necessary to call attention to it. Siegel, Cooper & Co., not as a firm, but as individuals associated with Siegel Bros., and backed by Mr. Leiter, formerly of the Chicago firm of Marshall Field & Co., are, so far as indications go, the buyers of a large portion of the block. Judging by the transfers to Wetterer, they have contracted to buy a tract of 300 feet on 18th street, Nos. 33-57 West, 100 feet east of 6th avenue, and Nos. 38-56 West 19th street, forming a plot 250x92, and adjoining the Astor property, 92x150 feet, on the Sixth avenue corner. The latter parcel they have secured a lease of, but are still without the Tonnele corner, 92x100, on Sixth avenue and 18th street. The latter, it is said, cannot be secured on any terms. Be that as it may, they appear to have purchased a site amply large enough for their purpose, and may have secured as well several of the 18th and 19th streets parcels east of it. We have it from a trustworthy source that none of Siegel, Cooper & Co.'s capital is to be used in acquiring the property. With the aid of the New York firm, arrangements have been made with a prominent banking house to advance all of the necessary capital, so that Henry Siegel's statement made in Chicago, on Thursday, that his firm is not making the purchases, may be said to be technically correct. The bank is fully secured, however, for all loans made or to be made in connection with the project. The identity of the buyers of other portions of the block is still enveloped in doubt. The establishment of a mammoth retail store, between 18th and 19th streets, will settle the future of 6th avenue, up to 23d street, for many years and lend additional stability to its value as a shopping centre. Below 16th and in and around 14th street, the avenue has of late shown indications of deteriorating. Business is poor, rents are tumbling, and were it not for Macy's, practically all trade would leave that portion of the avenue. The Wyckoff properties, on the northeast corner of 14th street, will serve to illustrate the point. The corner, once considered one of the most desirable below 23d street, has been vacant for many months notwithstanding that the buildings have been offered at greatly reduced rents. They are no longer in demand. It is so with most of the other corner properties not only on 14th street but on 15th and 16th streets as well. No tenants except temporary ones can be secured for them. Unverifiable rumors are sure to be numerous regarding the Siegel, Cooper & Co. transaction until the details are given out from an authoritative source, and among those in circulation just now is one to the effect that there is not an absolute certainty that the big deal will eventually be consummated. A United Press dispatch from Chicago yesterday reported that Henry Siegel had authorized the statement that the deal had fallen through so far as his firm was concerned.

Arthur R. Parsons has sold in connection with Berry & Glen, for Edmund W. Wyllie, the five-story brick store, 25x100, No. 123 Bowery, east side, about 50 feet south of Grand street, to Gunn & Grant, who give in exchange a large farm at Shewsbury, New Jersey. The amount involved is about $185,000.

Mr. Steinmann claims that his contract has been violated, and on the following day filed a lis pendens against the property in a suit to compel specific performance. He states that he is absolutely certain to gain possession of the lots.

The consideration given for the three private stables, Nos. 204 to 208 West 68th street, reported sold last week by W. W. & T. M. Hall for about $66,000 was the vacant plot, 102.2x100, on the southwest corner of Amsterdam avenue and 80th street, as was shown by the conveyances filed on Monday. This is the third time within a year or two that the plot has been the basis of a trade. MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rule is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—For Common Bricks the market continues to gain strength, and indeed in general conditions operators claim that affairs are now in much better shape than for a long while past. Cost has advanced to a point that makes $5 possible as a quotation and seems to be excellently well supported, while the demand in general is excellent. The week opened with twenty-five barge loads on hand, and those with subsequent pretty full arrivals were apparently disposed of without difficulty and more wanted. A great deal of the stuff handled went directly into hands of customers, but there was an occasional load tucked away for storage until later in the season, and there has been quite a little outside custom represented, including some from Newark. The same average of good to fine quality, noticeable throughout the season, is again reported, and that keeps the limits of valuation down to narrower compass than usual, preventing any special premium on fancy stock and affording buyers no opportunity to insist upon concessions for faulty goods. Now and then a manufacturer appears unwilling to meet the present market, but as a rule the shipments are free, and in many instances there is a sharp call for return of boats for re-loading. Sales are quoted somewhat nominally and do not appear to have many friends, unless something of very extra grade can be shown, which is seldom the case.

LATH.—There is not much to say, because there is practically no market at the moment. The arrivals since last writing have been exceedingly small, and embraced nothing unsold, while the demand has been fuller and exhibited a measure of anxiety that threw advantage well on side of seller. In the absence of a natural and proper test of actual sales it is difficult to quote valuation exactly, but we have report of $2 bid, and some receivers talking quite a fraction higher as the only limit they are willing to negotiate upon for parcels to arrive.

LIME.—There is a pretty well mixed up condition of affairs which seem to controvert the bullish arguments some of the trade inclined to indulge in last week. Some talk about holding for former rates may still be heard, but when it comes to action the buyer is a long way inside, although just how much is difficult to determine positively. Matters are evidently particularly bad on finishing, for which 95 cents and then 90 was accepted, while of late $5 is all that could be depended upon for Common and $4. has been accepted net cash. It looks very much as though holders who previously proposed carrying and letting cargoes lay until price limit could be secured had undergone a change of mind, and until whatever surplus they propose to sell off is out of the way no reaction can be expected. Advice from the Eastward report a reduced number of kilns burning and fresh shipments small, although there is a fair amount of lime afloat for this port and considerable accumulation still unsold.

LUMBER.—There is very evidently a disposition to take the hopeful view of affairs and the market throughout has a healthier undertone than at any time this year. The bulk of the trading for 1894, both in way of jobbing and wholesale parcels, is undoubtedly over, but even the heretofore most pessimistic operators now appear inclined to admit that depressing factors have had full swing, exhausted themselves, and the next pronounced developments are most likely an improving scale. Until after the holidays matters are about sure to remain quiet, but business already planned, in the way of manufacturing industries of various kinds, structural operations, dock building, etc., to commence with the approach of spring, is liberal and will, it is believed, open the door for general consumption of woods much wider than for a couple of seasons past. Possibly there may be some disappointment regarding the full recuperation of values, but a healthy business must bring at least a fair living margin.

The Bureau of Information, instituted by the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, is working in the most satisfactory manner. Its main purpose is to investigate thoroughly the status of dealers in lumber and kindred lines of trade and properly arrange such information for the benefit of all subscribers, who will thus be able to protect themselves against many serious difficulties heretofore encountered through selling to irresponsible parties. Nearly one hundred concerns are already represented and much benefit has already been derived. Indeed it seems to be one of the most practical schemes yet devised by any lumber association for the general good of its members, and Secretary H. M. Clarke is the man at the helm who perfects all the fine details necessary to smooth working of the bureau.

Spruce stands right up strong in tone and recovers preserve their advantage without much difficulty. State stock is not only scarce, but reports from the mills claim orders a long way ahead, and the West Virginia cut is daily securing additional contracts, while for the Eastern product there is a reported demand beyond the probability of meeting from this season's product, because of the orders already booked at the mills likely to run during the winter. The face of "adhering to the price list" is still being played regularly, with the retailers in the east, and although the chronos given are not quite so extensive as previous to the advance in cargo rates, means are nevertheless found to show favors to customers who may be considered particularly desirable. Piling is steady in price and there is quite a hopeful feeling experienced in regard to work expected.

White Pine remains in steady position, and indeed is inclined to firmness if anything on goods that are quite up to standard of quality. The price of such at primal points is quite up to figures for some time ruling, the cost of moving them forward has increased, and local buyers are disposed to insist quite positively upon close rigid inspection. The latter is a natural sequence of the disclosures that have been made in regard to the thin cut Wisconsin stock, which has to so large an extent turned out below the inch standard required in this locality, most of the deliveries having run 7/8 or scant 7/8 inch and some as low as 3/4 inch. What is to be done with this stuff is a matter of doubt, but a number of rejections are said to have been made. There is a fair amount of dealing for export to West Indies and Brazil.

Yellow Pine is without much change in the present situation, but operators express a cheerful feeling in regard to future. There is a chance for considerable local consumption of general character in addition to what may be wanted for the promised increased dock building, and if the attempt to control primal end of market meets with the success hoped for, there seems no reason why affairs should not shape around much better. Arrivals on contract have been quite free this month.

Carolina Pine is a little unsettled, but contains a few firm spots, one of which is on roofs. It is a grade that has been short for some time, and the demand seems to be quite snappish at times, especially from outside custom, at points where a close of navigation would cut off means of delivery. In general prices remain about as before.

Hemlock remains steady on cuts desirable for this market of which there does not appear to be an over-abundant supply. In general, however, the offering is very fair and sellers appear to think it just as well to accept former rates when they can get them.

Hardwoods are meeting with about former average attention, the demand fluctuating somewhat in matter of selection just as dealers or manufacturers may be taking up one grade or another to round out their assortments, but there is nothing over which competition is sufficient to act as a stimulant to values. Of course such stuff as walnut and cherry of prime quality may be considered fixed solidly at extreme prices, and all desirable woods are fairly steady, but sellers have to do most of the negotiating and that means occasional favors to catch buyers. The local supply is fair and car lots are still coming along with some freedom.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany market is as follows:

The past week was a very good one for a few of the large White Pine houses, but nothing like what it should be for the time of year for the others. Prices and freights continue unchanged.

The edict having gone forth for the closing of the canal November 30, belated stock by water is being hurried forward as rapidly as possible.

The market for Spruce is firm and stock is pretty well sold up. The supply was short and the demand fair this fall, and the yards are cleaned up better than had been anticipated. There is no surplus of any grade, with the possible exception of 1x6 1/2 inch good. It is almost impossible to get a number of articles.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The remainder of the season will be devoted to getting ready for a grand and aggressive movement all along the line after January 1. Already this can be seen in the new interest that is manifested in stumpage in the northwest, which has already culminated in the transfer of several properties, and in negotiations for other blocks of timber. It is also seen in the wide-spread determination to repair and improve old mill plants, in the seeking of new opportunities and fresh localities for future operations. Several new mill plants have been projected, north and south, and it is to be observed that some of them are on an extensive scale. The trend of affairs is toward a new start in progress. Losses have been incurred this year, but the more substantial and well capitalized concerns still have abundant resources for doing business. In many instances settlements and rearrangements have been made, which has infused new and vigorous blood into old concerns, and insures success in further operations.

Reports from Saginaw valley this week are to the effect that business in the block stock and distributive lines has considerably revived since election. A good deal of lumber has lately changed hands in eastern Michigan, and preparations are being made to extend the yard trade at Saginaw, enlarge the capacity of work-working plants and generally get ready for the rising trade to come.

In the white pine field of the northwest there is some variance in the supply, as between sections, but as a whole the visible quantity is rather below the average of former years. Stocks have been well shipped away from mill points on Lake Superior. Shipments through the St. Mary's canal for the year, up to November 1, exceeded those of a like period of last year 137,000,000 feet, which truly was a remarkable result, showing that, while the eastern markets were slow takers of lumber early in the season, they have absorbed freely within recent months. Chicago has also been a free purchaser of lumber in the Duluth district.

At Chicago, the receipts for the week have been light, partly because the season is nearly at a close and partly on account of the weather, which has been adverse to the movement of boats. A few cargoes have arrived, and the offerings have been readily taken by buyers. After the weather had cleared, in the middle of the week, several steam barges were sent out for further loads. Sailing vessels have been mostly strapped and laid up. The yards are receiving a good deal of lumber that must be brought forward from the mills if possible before the close of navigation.

Demand is slowly improving for all grades of Poplar, and prices are firmer than they were a month ago. The surplus of common and cull is evidently disappearing, as leading mill men report an increased inquiry for these grades within the last week or two. The river mills are nearly all shut down, and are not likely to cut any more logs this winter.

CANADA.

The Toronto Monetary Times has the following:

Should the Upper Lakes remain open through the month, navigation must end on November 30th, for after that date the canals are closed. As a consequence of the approaching end of the navigable season lumber shipments are very active. Trade with the United States is gradually improving, but as the semi-annual stock taking period is not very far distant, dealers are not buying more stock than they feel competent to handle on the spot. Until the new year begins it is not probable that any inclination to stock up the goods will be made manifest.

The question of freight rates has been happily settled and the former tariff re-established. Further than this, the Grand Trunk authorities have agreed to maintain this rate unchanged until April 30th, 1895, and should it be their intention to make an alteration then the lumber men are to be given notice in February of the contemplated changes. A refund of the excess in charges made since October 1st has been given to the lumbermen, who, very naturally, are not a little elated at the way in which the Grand Trunk has made amends for its mistake.

The duty imposed upon boom logs brought into Canada from the United States still continues to cause American lumbermen very much annoyance. It is one of those disagreeable annoyances incidental to a protective tariff which do no one any good, and at the same time serve as restrictions upon the free course of trade. There are at present about 2,000 pieces of timber being held on the Spanish River until the payment of the 20 per cent duty which the government demands. It is to be hoped that the Comptroller of Customs will see fit to remove this impediment in harmony with the conditions of free trade in lumber with the United States, which are so full of promise to the interests of this country.

How the cut in Ontario woods this season will compare with that of last winter it is as yet too early to surmise. A canvass of eight firms, Canadian and American, operating in Ontario, leads us to believe that the cut of 1894 will be little if any larger than that of last year. Some mill men are getting out an increased number of logs this year, but others on the contrary report that their cut will be somewhat smaller than it was a year ago. The fall so far has, we understand, been very favorable to lumbering operations, and should suitable conditions continue to exist the season through it may materially effect the size of the cut.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has undergone very few changes since last report, and down to present writing. Demand was irregular, but rarely reached even a point of apparent animation, and supplies have at all times been equal to the demand, with prices ruling comparatively easy. On the average range of valuation we quote at 93 1/2 a 94 c for Lake and 94 1/2 a 95 c for casting brands. Manufactured copper meets with a somewhat lessened demand, and to great change is anticipated until the new year opens. Offerings are fair and rates held about steady all around. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz and over, 11 c; do, 14 to 16 oz., 15 c; do, 12 to 14 oz., 16 c; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17 c; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20 c; do, under 8 oz., 22 c. BUSINESS continues in an unsatisfactory state. There are individual merchants and manufacturers who speak encouragingly of the outlook as reflected in the limited field they survey, but the outward aspect of things is not encouraging. This is due largely to the fact that the tendency of the public mind is such that only bad news has any influence. If it were not for this gloom it would be impossible to understand the decline in Burlington and Northwest on the reduction of their dividends, in view of their prices and the value of money at the time of the reduction, the certainty long before that they would be less and their record as dividend payers. The remarkable drop in the '95 price of steel rails is accepted as a bad sign, although it shuts out outside competition and ought to bring business. But as the Carnegie drop to $25, in January last, failed to give any impetus to the steel rail business it is argued that the recent agreement to reduce prices need not necessarily make trade. Wall street reflects this humor or tendency of the public mind and in addition is raising the bogey of legislation adverse to trading and financial interests when Congress meets on Monday. Congress is such an uncertain quantity that it does not do to speak with any confidence as to what it will do, but as a set of marionettes ought to have learned from recent events that measures affecting trade and finance are for the moment "bad politics," there is a gleam of hope that they will be let alone during the short period that Congress will sit. If that is so, any farther drop will make most securities look very cheap, and that fact may induce a speculative movement for a rise. When we remember that, with one brief exception, the market has been heavy or depressed since last August, during which time business has improved and railroad earnings have shown some tendency to increase, it seems as if a reaction should come as a matter of course, but, as before remarked, the times are out of joint and ordinary influences do not prevail.

EUROPEAN advices generally express the belief that the period of very cheap money on the other side is about at an end; that the increasing demands for capital and the returning confidence of its owners will gradually advance rates to normal figures. The London Economist, commenting on the new issue of bonds by our Government, says: "Unless there is a radical change in the currency system, putting gold into the Treasury is like pouring water into a sieve. The £12,000,000 it may now obtain will be drained away as have been the £12,000,000 it obtained in February last." The Board of Trade reports an improvement in the labor market for October; owing to the close of the Scotch coal miners dispute the pig-iron and steel trades have improved largely. The Tariff Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies has under consideration a most extraordinary measure. This is to empower the government to collect duties specified in any measure for changing the tariff during its discussion; in the event of failure to pass the measure importers are to have returned to them new duties or increases. The idea is to prevent speculative importations while tariffs are under discussion, but the result would be endless confusion in the business of importers. Just now the export business of France shows signs of improvement; in October, the exports exceeded the imports, though in the year there is a balance of $160,000,000 against that country. Berlin persists in selling on the rise in the Vienna market having no confidence in prices in the dual-empire. The German sugar trade is agitating for an increase in the export bounties. The substitution of silver for small paper money is proceeding successfully in Austria and Hungary. Since July, thirty-five million of one florin notes have been withdrawn and replaced by silver of various denominations and the grumbings of the public which were heard at first have died away. This shows that there is no real difficulty in inducing people to use silver instead of small paper. State bills of higher denominations have been withdrawn and replaced by nine million florins worth of bank bills. The reduced exports of agricultural produce have caused a falling off in the excess of total Austrian exports over imports for the first nine months of this year, the same cause will probably influence the figures until the next harvest prospects are known. Brazil proposes to issue a $30,000,000 loan for the retirement of the paper money issued to meet expenditures in suppressing the late insurrection and to meet deficiencies of revenue, but the condition of the country's finances will not encourage investors to run for it. The Argentina are disappointed of the business revival which was anticipated as a result of good crops and wool clip. An unfriendly estimate of the cost of a French expedition to Madagascar is $50,000,000 and the necessity of keeping a permanent garrison of 10,000 men on the island which can be of little direct value to France.

SECURITY-HOLDERS are strongly suggestive of Russian peasants in their capacity to bear ill-usage. They must be fatalists or they would never be so patient under the injuries that are put upon them. As never anything practical is heard from them they may be pictured as regarding their losses from what is erroneously called the philosophical view, and which is really only the sheerly stupid, and as a punishment for their sins, an act of fate against which it is useless to struggle. The latest instance in which the peculiarly assinine quality of the investor is exercised is that of the Cordage securities. It is not necessary to use hard words in referring to the incorporation and manipulation of the original company, everyone knows how to characterize that. But it seems that the reorganization was worse rather than better in character than the organization. This was carried out by the floating debt creditors who seem to have taken everything there was to take to make their own claims good, or as good as the means at their disposal would permit, even to taking the collateral of the Security Company's bonds now represented by the guaranteed stock. Heavy assessments were laid upon the preferred and common stock and all information regarding the assets and liabilities of the old company was withheld until they were paid, it being only then and months after his appointment that Receiver Loper's inventory was filed with the Court. Since the reorganization the prices of the securities of the new company have constantly fallen and there is talk of its inability to meet the interest due January 1st next on $7,500,000 first mortgage bonds. The preferred stock is selling below the assessment and the common near it. These assessments are supposed to have realized $3,000,000, which was to be used only as working capital. Now what has become of all that money? The company has had to seek financial assistance within about a year of its being paid, and in the circumstance of the cordage trade it is hardly possible that the assessment can have been wholly absorbed in the legitimate business of the company. Here is a matter on which the preferred and common stockholders should demand to be enlightened. For their own good they cannot too soon be informed of the manner in which the old company was reorganized and what is the financial condition of the new one.

THE question of currency reform is forging to the front. There may be two opinions about the expediency of discussing it just at this moment, but there is no doubt whatever of the necessity of doing so sooner or later. The operation of finding the requisite kind of money with which to subscribe for the latest issue of Government bonds has shown this, and, as an important incident thereto, the position of the Treasury in the matter. A department that holds up to the odium of the community an individual or a firm that makes upon it a perfectly just and legitimate demand, as the Treasury Department did recently in publishing the names of the people who withdrew gold from it, obviously ought to have its powers for mischief curtailed. No one will doubt that in publishing the names the Treasury sought to deter people from presenting legal tenders for gold and indirectly to force the gold now in the banks into the Treasury. This is another of the elephantine tactics of the ponderous and blind policy, or course rather, that was inaugurated by the present chief of the Treasury Department. With such things possible the demand for reform will be continuous and loud and will force the matter into prominence, whether the business of the country is in a condition to stand a discussion on such a vital and important question or not. Mr. Carnegie has uttered a sensible word against plunging the country into this contest at this time; given ordinary circumstances it would undoubtedly be better deferred until business is on its feet again, but as it stands there is much to be said in favor of taking it up at once, and so arriving at the earliest possible solution in preference to holding it in abeyance and keeping the business of the country at the mercy of an incompetent Treasury Department. Boiled down it comes to a choice between the devil you do know and the devil you do not know, with the fact apparent that the latter must be met some time. The question is one that cannot be rushed very fast. The real discussion has only begun, cow-boy political economy having only just been cleared off the floor to make room for it, so that the adoption of any system of currency reform is a matter of many months if not of years. One thing is certain, the situation would be helped by any indication that the movement was taking a right direction and would result ultimately in something sound, uniform and stable.

The Reorganization of the Exchange.

THE interviews that we publish elsewhere upon the reorganization of the Real Estate Exchange are rather unsatisfactory, because they evince a certain amount of indifference on the part of brokers and others to the project which the directors have taken in hand. This indifference is really greater than our reports make out, due to the fact that many of those whom our reporters interviewed had "nothing to say," or had "no time" to give their views upon a matter which, after all, vitally concerned them if they could but see it in the right light.

The brokers who consented to say something may, in general, be divided in two classes—those who had given nothing more than a superficial attention to the reorganization plan, and those who, in speaking generally thought the plan proposed was "at least worth trying," having arrived at this decision by the vague logic that almost anything is better than nothing, and that anything that even promises to benefit the brokerage business might be tried without harm. If there be good in the scheme, so much the better; if there be none, well, what harm will be done?

It is very much to be regretted, of course, that there is not a stronger feeling among the trade about the Exchange. Even positive animosity would be better than indifference. Antagonism would be a force that could be dealt with, and with wisdom perhaps utilized and turned to effective use in the work of reorganization.

We said last week that the plan for a registered board of brokers was a good one, and from what we have been able to learn from our inquiries brokers seem to be in favor of it. Their approval it is true is rather mild than enthusiastic but no doubt if the plan is put in operation, many who are now indifferent, will support the scheme, and it may be that with a first step of this kind taken it will be possible afterward to move further in the direction of making the Exchange the efficient centre of the real estate business. Very frequently it is possible to obtain a restricted measure of reform when completer reformation could not be compassed. Any proposition that will rally the trade around the Liberty street institution will be a good thing, and we sincerely hope that all the present apathetic members of the trade will come forward and heartily support the directors—if it be only in the hope that the proposed plan is but a step towards a completer organization.

The Board of Registration deserves a fair trial. The outcome, naturally, is problematic, but the plan promises well enough to warrant its adoption. The elements of doubt are these—will the leading brokers give the scheme more than nominal support, or, supposing that they do give it their support will not the operation of the plan result in conferring upon them even a larger control of the business than they have to-day, of course, to the detriment of the smaller men? Organization everywhere confers something of a monopolistic power upon a few, and if this should turn out to be the result of the Board of Registration will it not shortly lead to disruption? Assuming, however, that the plan works well with the brokers, how about the owners? They are an important factor to the success of the scheme. Theoretically, and in many cases practically, it might be to the owner's benefit to deal through the registered board, but how is he likely to act in case an unregistered broker should come to him declaring that he has a customer for his property, but at the same time refuses to treat with the registered broker into whose charge the sale of the property has been given? All that the seller wants is a purchaser, and it would matter little to him who effects the sale so long as it is effected.

These and other obvious difficulties at once suggest themselves when we consider the plan. Only actual experience can demonstrate what any of them are worth. It may be that they will vanish into thin air in practice, and new difficulties that cannot now be foreseen may arise. A certain amount of dubiety, of course, is inseparable from any human programme. And the very worst of plans theoretically considered may be a very effective working measure if the individuals concerned in it honestly pull together for a common success.

We trust, however, that as soon as the first step is taken the directors will plan to develop the reorganization upon the lines we suggested last week. In this direction lies the usefulness of the Exchange. Real estate is to-day nothing like the mobile commodity it might be were many existing impediments to ready transfer from hand to hand removed. Large as the transactions in real property are they would be immensely increased in number were it not for the expenses and delays incidental to acquiring and transferring realty. The outlay inevitable to-day in buying or mortgaging a piece of property is simply ridiculous. The legal fees exacted savor at times of brigandage. The Exchange might easily and cheaply perform for its members the tedious and expensive services now discharged by the legal fraternity, many of whom, it must be confessed, do not act in a manner calculated to popularize real estate as a commodity with the unsophisticated public. The Exchange should persistently strive to banish these middlemen. The broker, the seller, the purchaser, the real estate exchange are the only parties that should be necessary to a real estate transaction. Until the Exchange brings about this condition it will fall short of its usefulness.

TRADE with Great Britain this year has been more satisfactory than might be at first supposed. According to the Board of Trade returns published recently in London the imports from the United States into that country for the first three quarters of the year amounted in value to about $330,000,000, an increase compared with the same time last year of about $5,000,000, this in spite of the fact that there was a great falling off both in the quantity and value of the breadstuffs taken. The increase in the value of the raw cotton imported about offset the loss in the value of the wheat imported. Other losses had other counterbalancing increases, so that the satisfactory result of an increase in the total of our exports to Great Britain is made. Prices were low and competition keen, no doubt, but on the whole we have apparently been able to hold our own in the British market. When we can catch up in the running with Russia and the Argentine in the matter of wheat our position will be still more satisfactory. Our import trade with Great Britain has not been so satisfactory—certainly not from the point of view of the import trade—because she sent us from January 1 to September 30, of goods in money value only about $65,000,000, a decrease compared with the first three-fourths of last year of no less than $35,000,000 or 35 per cent the total for the period of comparison, being in round numbers $100,000,000. But those who find comfort from large differences in our favor between imports and exports can do so here with the enhancement of that feeling from the fact that while our exports thither increased slightly, Great Britain's exports hither decreased very considerably. While the improvement of our export trade to the British Isles is very satisfactory, it has to be remembered that one side, the import, of our foreign trade is still dull and depressed. In the ordinary course that may be expected to revive too, and our purchases accordingly be increased.

FOR FIFTY CENTS.

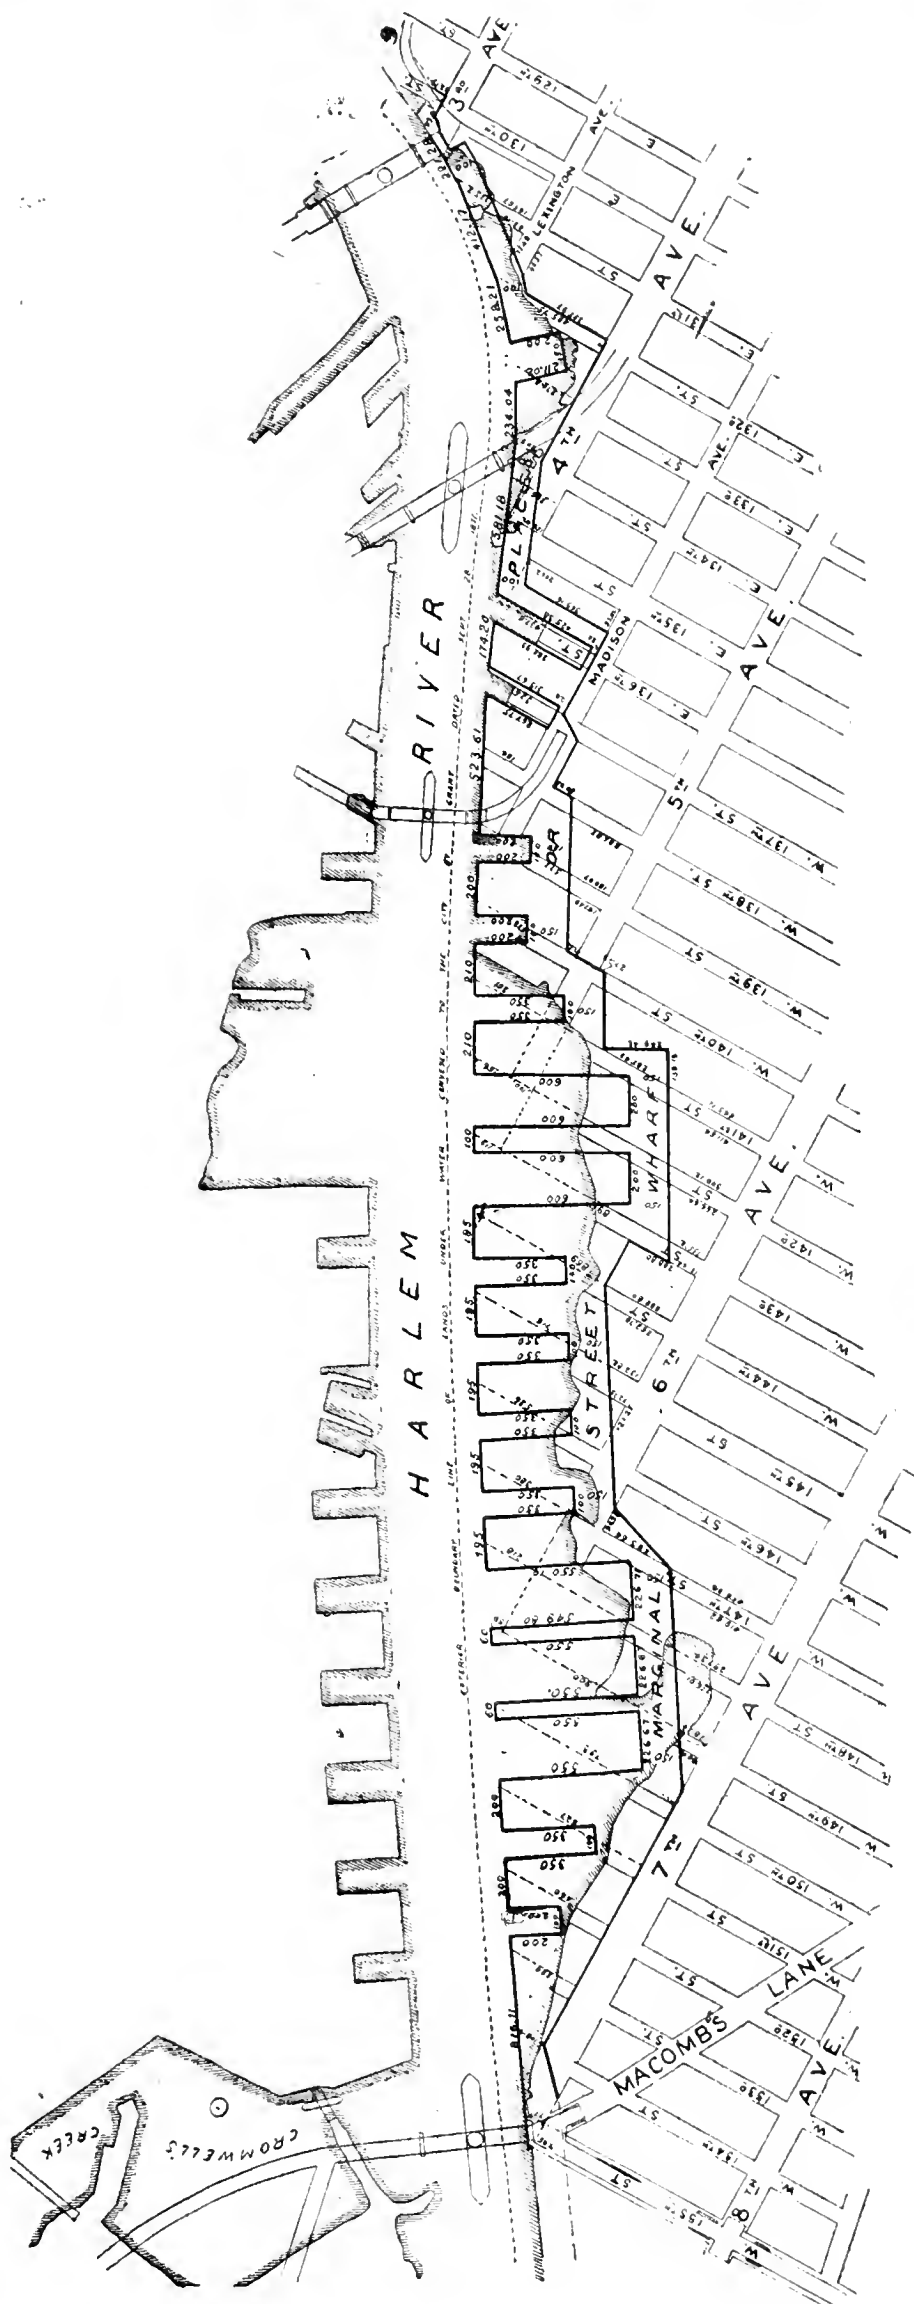

The new Brooklyn Building Law with complete cross-index, marginal notes and illustrations of difficult clauses, edited by William J. Fryer, is for sale at THE RECORD AND GUIDE office for 50 cents a copy. This volume is strongly bound in cloth and contains in addition to the Building Law, the regulations of the Building Department, the Department of Health, the Department of City Works, the Fire Department, in short, all regulations, a knowledge of which is necessary in building operations. This is a complete and standard work invaluable to architects, builders and others.

The Harlem River Improvement.

We publish herewith a drawing of a plan prepared by the Dock Department for the improvement of the Harlem River between 3d and 7th avenues, and on which it invites criticism. According to Mr. J. Sergeant Cram, the President of the Dock Commission, this plan is not offered as perfect, but as the best that can be suggested in view of all the circumstances and the present condition of the law. For the want of a comprehensive plan the Commission does not feel at liberty to refuse its sanction to any improvement that property-owners may desire to make, and consequently a man may drive a few piles, put boards on it and call it a dock. With the plan approved it is not proposed to start in at once to condemn land and carry out the work, but to make every improvement done hereafter by property-owners conform to it. The principle on which the plan has been prepared is to have warehouses and ships brought together, as is the case with great European docks, with facilities for unloading in slips and basins, and for railroad tracks running through. The following official figures shows besides the cost of the proposed work what valuable additions to the commercial facilities of the city would be added as a result of the improvement:

ESTIMATED COST.

Dredging required, 1,780,000 cubic yards, at 25 cents per cubic yard.....	$445,000.00
Crib-work, to be built, 4,830,000 cubic feet, at 8 cents per cubic foot.....	386,400.00
Pile piers, 651,000 square feet, at $1.00 per square foot.....	651,000.00
Paving required, 157,000 square yards, at $4.25 per square yard.....	667,250.00
Total.....	$2,149,650.00
Add about 15 per cent for contingency.....	322,450.00
Grand total.....	$2,472,100.00

Proposed Improvement along the Harlem River.

If a masonry bulkhead or river wall is built instead of this crib-work the additional cost will be about $1,200,000.00.

The length of water front measured on the pierhead line is 7,779 feet, equal to 1 17-100 miles.

The wharfage room made on this water front is 20,150 feet, equal to 3 82-100 miles.

The number of piers to be made is 14.

Area of slips and basins, 927,787 square feet, equal to 21.3 acres.

Linear feet of water frontage, according to proposed plan, 20,165 feet.

Linear feet of water frontage, exclusive of slips, 5,430 feet.

The Plan for Revivication.

THE REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE BEFORE THE BROKERS OF THE CITY.

It is hardly necessary to say that the plan adopted by the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange for the establishment of a Board of Registered Brokers and making other changes for enlarging the scope of usefulness of the Exchange has been very actively discussed among real estate men during the past week, especially among those who are desirous of raising the standard of real estate brokers in the city and who are in the active centres of the business. Outside, however, in Harlem, for instance, the plan is received with perfect indifference, a large part of the brokers there having hardly taken the trouble to read it. There are several things which the promoters of the plan have to take into account. The first is this indifference of the uptown broker. One is the antagonism that may be aroused to it by the sweeping condemnation of certain business practices, which are by no means confined to the curbstone brokers, and which may be often resorted to by others as a measure of necessary self-defence. A third point is that it is not quite clear where the business is to come from that will be necessary to make the Board of Registered Brokers a success. The idea obtained in regard to this point from the interviews published below is that the Board will only be used for such business as the machinery of any particular house is incapable of handling. No doubt it would be a great convenience if a broker had the means to bring promptly to the notice of the right parties any purchase or sale he wants to make which is out of his particular line, though it is not quite proved that his present means for doing this are not all that he desires. But these are details which can be adjusted later. One thing is quite apparent, and that is that taken together the real estate brokers who approve the principle of the plan as adopted by the Board of Directors form a very powerful body, and if each will give sincere effort to carrying it out it will be a success, but it remains to be seen whether they will give it the precisely necessary support. The position taken by the Committee of Twenty-one stated below so far strengthens the hands of the Directors very much.

An element that has been quietly at work for some time devising means for the improvement of the real estate brokerage business, and the methods of its transaction has come publicly to the front as a result of the adoption of the report of the Special Committee for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is a common ground upon which all can act. This element is the informal association known as the Committee of Twenty-one, which represents 150 or 160 brokers who have felt all along that it was necessary that something be done to raise the status of the real estate business in the estimation of the public and of property owners. The Committee was originally formed two months ago, and has held several meetings since, discussing measures of reform. A protracted secret meeting was held on Monday evening at the Imperial Hotel, at which the report of the Special Committee of the Real Estate Exchange was discussed, and a Special Committee of seven, consisting of the chairman, Ferdinand Fish, J. Edgar Learycraft, Alfred E. Marling, B. P. Treacy, Andrew Powell and W. H. Folsom was appointed to confer with the Exchange committee and endeavor to learn the exact attitude of the administration toward non-members of the Exchange, as well as the members of that organization, and, if possible, to arrange a basis upon which all could co-operate to secure the common purpose desired.

The sub-committee of the Committee of Twenty-one requires to have an understanding on two points mainly. It is understood that these, which, however, are very important indeed, being disposed of satisfactorily, the Committee of Twenty-one and their friends will support the plan of the Board of Directors. These points relate to the control of the Board of Registered Brokers and to the expense. In the view of the sub-committee there are several contradictions between the report as adopted and the interpretation put upon it by officers of the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, and the sub-committee holds that everyone is bound to recognize the official report as the official utterance of the intentions of the Exchange. As to the question of control, the sub-committee wants the Board of Registered Brokers to be a representative body. They do not object to membership being limited to members of the Exchange, but claim that they should not be compelled to receive within their body any one, simply because he is a member of the Exchange; further, while they have no objection to the Board of Directors having representation on the Managing Committee of the Board of Registered Brokers, they claim that the committee should be appointed directly by the Board of Registered Brokers itself and free from the control of the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, which is not the method of appointment provided in the report, although it is inferentially the deduction to be made from Mr. Robinson's remarks, published in our columns last week. As to the matter of expense, the sub-committee wants it to be definitely expressed what the members of the Board of Registered Brokers is to get for his $35; is that to cover everything or are there to be additional fees, and, if so, what are they to be and what for?

Mr. Smith, of Fitzsimmons & Smith: "I should be glad to see something done that would protect reputable brokers in their business. I have often thought that if we had some way of licensing brokers it would help to bring this about. Whether the establishment of a Board of Registered Brokers would do it, I am not prepared to say; in fact I must admit that I have not had time to consider carefully any of the propositions that have been made. Nothing should be done hurriedly; the Exchange ought to take time enough to be sure that what it is doing is the right thing, and to allow ample discussion of their suggestions by real estate brokers. THE RECORD AND GUIDE is doing a good work in taking suggestions and affording brokers an opportunity to express their views and ideas, in fact that is the only way in which any one broker can learn what a number of others think, he cannot go about and ascertain their opinions himself because, as a rule, his time is so wholly taken up by his business. The desired measure of protection can be obtained. It is done in Buffalo where, for some reason, the real estate business is not surrounded by the elements that gather around the business in New York."

Mr. Fitzsimmons, the partner of the last speaker, said: "The Exchange can be of great practical benefit to the real estate business if it will adopt some plan to expedite sales and transfers of real estate. At the present time it takes twenty or thirty days to pass title; I think it can be arranged so that a title can be passed in a week or ten days; in fact it ought to be done in two or three days. Any facilities that would enable this to be done would be of great benefit to brokers and owners of property. I have not had time to form an opinion whether the proposals of the special committee promise to be of practical value. I doubt that the Board of Registered Brokers will work satisfactorily. Real estate is not a thing that can be handled on an Exchange like stock or grain certificates. A lot of real estate brokers cannot go on the Exchange and do business in the same way that stock and grain brokers do. It is a business done between outsiders and brokers; very little is done between broker and broker. I am glad, however, to see this matter agitated, and hope it will result in some benefit to real estate interests. At present the only use I find in the Exchange is occasionally to get the name of an owner."

Mr. G. Nicholas: "As a stockholder, I shall be glad to see anything done that will improve the value of the Exchange to the real estate business. The suggestions made by the Special Committee, I think, are very good. The Board of Registered Brokers will give a better standing with the public and property owners to its members than brokers now have. There is, too, a general complaint that it is impossible to get brokers together; this will afford a means of doing it. I believe, too, that the members of such a board can be relied upon to act honorably toward one another, and the offers of property will have the benefit of advertisement to the whole real estate market at once. Among stock-members of the Exchange I feel that I am safe and can go to them for anything I want to know. There is a confidence among us that does not seem to exist outside. The same feeling should exist in the Board of Registered Brokers."

Mr. Macdonald, of Gonon & Macdonald, had a small opinion of the powers of the Exchange to serve brokers. He could not see how it could be made use of to them except in the enlargement and improvement of the information bureau. He feared the nature of the business would not allow the broker to indulge in any measure of confidence as to the properties in his hands, and instanced the failure of the plan tried some time ago of sending lists to the Exchange. His firm had personally found that was not a good thing to do."

Mr. Frank Voran said: "The report of the special committee expresses my views entirely. I think the establishment of the Board of Registered Brokers will be the greatest step that has ever been taken for the advancement of the real estate business and the Exchange. It will do away with a great deal of the curbstone brokerage business, and at the same time will not shut out the man who cannot afford to have an office. There are a good many men now classed as curbstone brokers who should not be, and these for $35 a year can have a headquarters where their letters can be addressed, and where they can do any business they want to do, so that they will not have to stand about outside. We do not want to put on a high license, which many good men could not afford to pay, and so discriminate against them. I think the uptown broker will appreciate this arrangement; it is meant for them as well as the downtown brokers. They will be able to make their downtown appointments at the Exchange instead of as now on a street corner or in a restaurant, or in a friend's office. Should they be delayed beyond the time set they can send a telephone message through the board attendant. In extending the facilities of the Information Bureau the Exchange may make a contract with the title guarantee companies for the benefit of all the members, in which way they will be able to get their information a good deal cheaper than outsiders will. I am confident that this movement is going to be a success."

Mr. Andrew Powell: "It is my opinion that there is now a disposition on the part of the Exchange to do what it can to benefit the brokerage business. The directors now see and have probably seen all along, though they have failed to act upon it, that it is essential to the Exchange and for the benefit of the brokerage business that something should be done to elevate it to a higher plane. There is no doubt that the proposed Board of Registered Brokers when established and after working a little while will be able to accomplish what they have in view. There is no reason why, if men in the same line of business will be true to each other, the board should not be a success and it will be to the interest of every broker to deal only with those in whom he has confidence. There is a determined spirit on the part of everyone interested in this movement to make it a success, Owners of real estate will find it to their interest to make one broker responsible for every representation given out about their property; they will only pay one commission, and they will get it before five hundred men all of whom it would be impossible to reach except through such an organization as this. That there are so many slips in the making of sales now is simply because there is no way of regulating them. These points all recommend the carrying out of the plan."

A very well-known broker who is interesting himself in the formation of the Board of Registered Brokers, said: "Our objects are to keep out objectionable men and remove objectionable practices in the business; to create a central point for the transaction of business, and to increase the information afforded to members and the facilities for the examination and transfer of property. There are a great many people without character or respectability in the business who should be discriminated against. There are too many people who are undesirable as tenants about whom the brokers in the Board could inform each other. Only recently some disreputable people came to me with a good reference from their landlord given simply because he wanted to get rid of them. The information obtained in the Board would be reliable, and in this way in two years the Board would possess a list that would be most valuable to every broker and owner, and which would eventually be the means of weeding out all the disreputable characters from the city. By co-operation we could put down a great many evil practices that have grown up about the real estate business. Take for instance the making of false statements about property which is very common. I could give you many instances. One relates to a piece of uptown property on Columbus avenue, which was represented as fully let and paying $13,750. I made an examination and found it was 'salted.' Tenants were in who were given receipts to fill up the house, and it did not pay $10,000. Three houses on 39th street were represented to me as paying 7 or 8 per cent. on the statements, they did not actually pay 4 per cent. after taking out taxes, janitor fees, coal and light. A friend came to me once and told me he had bought a piece of 23d street property to pay him a certain return. He found after the leases had expired that it would not pay half what had been represented to him. The men who make such statements ought to be 'starred.' They do not deceive experienced real estate men, but they do outsiders. Similar misstatements are made to raise loans. The broker is not always ignorant of these false statements nor is his share in these transactions always limited to his commission. Reputable brokers ought to protect each other, money lenders and the property owners from such practices. Among brokers themselves there is not the right feeling generally. I had a plot of uptown lots given me to sell, and had no sooner announced that they were in the market by putting up my board when several Columbus avenue brokers sought out the owner and tried to get the lots to sell. The owner told me that one of them said he could sell them. I went to him and asked him why he did not buy of me. 'Oh, I don't want to divide the commission,' he said. Now, that is not the right feeling. Among the stock members of the Exchange there is a better understanding. One of them has given me particulars of property that has been in the control of his firm for very many years. I think this would be the spirit in the Board of Registered Brokers. Members who desire assistance in the purchase or sale of any particular piece of property would go there for it and be willing to divide commissions. Owners of property would, in my opinion, soon come to see the advantage of choosing their agents from the Board as a guarantee of reputation. A reputable broker does so much for the property in his charge, in the care and selection of tenants; prompt inquiry into anything that happens related to the property, by which owners are spared many actions for damages, in the keeping down of expenses and promptly accounting for the money they receive. The Board will have a tendency to create a feeling of honor among brokers, by which not only they but the property owners also will be benefited."

Mr. J. Edgar Leacycraft said: "If this plan is successful it will elevate the real estate business and will bring the brokers closer together. There will be greater unity of feeling and action in any question that may come up hereafter pertaining to real estate interests."

"What will success depend upon?"

"Of course it will depend upon the active co-operation of all brokers of good standing in the city and wise judgment in formulating by-laws and rules to govern the Board. I do not think it is expected that if a man has exclusive control of a piece of property that he is going at once to offer it on the Board. Of course he will have the first opportunity to dispose of it, but every house has at times to go outside to buy or sell property, and in this they will use the facilities of the Board. The arrangements that will be made in the Exchange will facilitate the transfer of real estate by securing concert of action in any movement to improve the present system. The difficulties at present are largely in the cost and delay. There is a great delay in obtaining the return of a paper after it is filed for record. I have here a mortgage that went on record on June 7th and did not come back to me until September 26th. I am told, though I do not know it of my own knowledge, that one can get these papers through in twenty-four hours if one pays to have it done. Costs and charges of attorneys are heavy but not as high as they were before the formation of the Title Guarantee Companies. The only way in which to get these things remedied is through agitation and concert of action in a representative body. In regard to raising the character and tone of the business which is one of the objects we have in view, I think the suggestion made by Mr. Zittell that brokers be licensed is a very good one."

Mr. J. Romaine Brown: "I do not see why the outside men did not make their application to the Exchange in the first instance. We have always been ready to grant them any reasonable request. If they were to form an organization outside of the Exchange it would have the same result as the two auction rooms, dividing the interest of real estate men and no party getting any good. The stockholders of the Real Estate Exchange have gone to a good deal of expense in getting up the Exchange and getting together such information as will be valuable to real estate brokers, and for which they have received merely nominal dividends on the money they have invested. It seems a pity that there should be so many conflicting interests without any occasion for it. Had there been any grievances we would have met them in a moment. We have organized the Board of Registered Brokers, with all the benefit of the stockholders in their interest, and asked the most prominent real estate men to join in the movement, and so far have received favorable answers. We have placed the majority of the Board among the real estate brokers, and have thereby given them entire control of the Board. Mr. Robinson has given a great deal of time and attention to this matter, and has been at all times ready to receive suggestions and to act promptly on them."

Mr. Ferdinand Fish: "There is great need of reform in the present methods employed by brokers for the private selling of real estate. It is against the interest of seller, buyer and broker to have promising transactions continually spoiled by interference of meddlesome persons bent on making commissions. The brokers themselves are responsible for the present conditions; owners and buyers accept them as they find them. Clearly reform must come from the brokers themselves and it can only come through organization, therefore I favor organization. Personally I have little faith in the effectiveness of any movement originating within the present Real Estate Exchange. Success could only be accomplished there by overthrowing interests which are instinctively opposed to the interests of the brokers, and it goes without saying this is impossible. Nevertheless I am in favor of any movement within or without the Exchange that is a step in the right direction. The fact that the Exchange has failed of its mission, so far as both the auctioneers and the brokers are concerned, is to my mind pretty good evidence of what may be expected during the next eleven years. On the question of the increase of facilities for selling, I cannot agree with the editorial in the last number of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. I believe that the habitual meeting of a number of brokers for the interchange of business would largely increase sales among them, and many half-commissions would result. As the only survivor of the first Brokers' Committee on the Exchange my opinion may carry some weight. I made some money out of the 'call,' and I know that others did, but there was an undercurrent of opposition which we could never quite understand and it was bound to kill the movement sooner or later, as it will any other movement within the Exchange, but it will be well for every broker who has the interests of his business, and the reputation of his profession, at heart to lend his time and thought to any movement wherever started, that has for its object the accomplishment of the purposes outlined in the report of the Robinson Committee. This is necessary as a measure of self-defense which will be better appreciated some day."

Barnett & Co.: "If the Exchange can erect around the business rules and regulations that will compel all members to be upright and square in their dealings with their fellow-members, I think hundreds of real estate men would join who now do not feel that they can do so with safety to their business. Everyone using the Exchange should be made to pay a fee for doing it, and none but members should be allowed its privileges. I must confess that when I go near it I feel compelled in my own interest never to drop a word about the property I may have in charge to sell. I have not found the Exchange of any use to me for a long time. My success is due to advertising, and if I want information I go for it to THE RECORD AND GUIDE or the Title Guarantee Companies."

Mr. J. B. Ketcham: "When a man has an established office, that is the place for him to do his business in. I do not see any way in which the Exchange can be made useful to me. Any information I want I can get elsewhere, and as to information about prospective tenants, etc., theirs might be two or three months' old, and consequently valueless; on that point the agent has to rely on the appearance of people, the last landlord and other such things."

Mr. W. J. Hoodless: "Without having thought out the matter fully, it seems to be the Exchange can be only of use to the auctioneer. I cannot see that it is really any use to a broker. Buying and selling is done secretly. Some credit might come to a man from being a member of the Exchange, but as a rule any reputable broker can approach any buyer excepting a very few who have made it understood that they will only deal through certain brokers. Maybe the Exchange might be made more useful to agents. I was one of the original members of the Exchange and I must confess I never found that it was any use to me, and that is the reason why I am not a member now."

T. Scott & Son: "We are waiting for the Exchange to work out rules and regulations that will protect brokers. A fair fee should be charged and protection given to the broker in all his operations; much of the money he has now to pay to lawyers should be saved to him through the organization of the Exchange, and fuller information on all matters relating to real estate and to the real estate business should be available to its members; the membership should be of such a character as to confer credit on each individual. I would be glad to see anything done that would help the business along."

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange was held on Monday at the request of the Special Committee having in charge the making of the preliminary arrangements for enlarging the scope of usefulness of the Exchange in accordance with the report adopted last week, and consisting of Messrs. Douglas Robinson, Frank Yoran and J. Romaine Brown. The committee asked the Board to increase their number to fifteen. The Board passed the necessary resolution and empowered the committee to select the twelve gentlemen necessary to make up that number, without confining the choice to members of the Exchange. It was understood that brokers in different parts of the city would be asked to serve upon this committee in order that it might have the different views and the needs of brokers and agents in the various parts of the city brought before them. The committee is to report back to the Board at an early day. Mr. Douglas Robinson, chairman of the committee, said last night that the committee had not been completed, and therefore the names of the new members were not ready for publication.

For Directors of the Real Estate Exchange.

The Committee on Nominations appointed by the Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, and which consisted of J. Edgar Learycraft, Franklin B. Lord and Augustus H. Carpenter finished its labors on Tuesday by selecting the following members to be voted for at the election of Directors for the ensuing year to be held on December 10, at 4 P. M.:

GEO. R. READ,	JULIUS ROBINSON,
GEORGE DE FOREST BARTON,	C. W. LUYSTER,
RICHARD V. HARNETT,	FRANK YORAN,
J. ROMAINE BROWN,	ALFRED E. MARLING,
EDWIN A. CRUIKSHANK,	IRVING RULAND,
H. H. CAMMANN,	FREDERICK ZITTEL,
S. S. JAYNE,

All but the three last named candidates are members of the present Board. The retiring members are Horace L. Ely, for whom his partner, Mr. Marling, has been substituted at Mr. Ely's request, C. L. Clarkson and William M. Cruikshank, who was recently elected to fill his father's unexpired term.

Frank E. Houghton, William S. Anderson and William M. Cruikshank will also appear on the ticket as candidates for Inspectors of election in December, 1895.

The Building Department.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The invitation which you extend to your readers to give their views through your columns, of matters relating to the Building Department, and the building law, is both timely and wise. It abuses exist in administering the law they should be fearlessly pointed out. If the law is defective by all means let those persons who know of defects therein state them. Reform, as you state it does, indeed means hard work. For the past fifteen consecutive years the work of reforming the building law has quietly and steadfastly gone on without any political hub-bub being made in the streets, yet whose actual value to the community can scarcely be measured in dollars, for life and property alike has been made vastly more safe and secure by new and modern building laws, and has made all well disposed citizens many times the debtors of those who labored long and gratuitously in the cause.

None will concede more freely than I that the present building law contains defects that should be corrected. Some of the changes needed are very important, but their total number, so far as I know of them, can almost be counted on the fingers of one's hands. There may be more changes needed than I know of; therefore I have perused the letters of your correspondents with the utmost care to see what defects would be revealed that would be new to me. One builder says that there is so much ambiguity in the law that "the Superintendent has an opportunity to construe it very differently from the construction put upon it by plain people;" and, he adds, "there are so many of these points that it would serve no good purpose to specify any one of them." I wish Mr. Kilpatrick had pointed out two or three, even one of these ambiguous requirements in the law. Ambiguous meanings in the law are almost as scarce as hens' teeth, so far as I know, but here is one example:

SEC. 485. "In all buildings hereafter erected or altered, where any iron or steel column or columns are used to support a wall or part thereof, whether the same be an exterior or an interior wall, excepting a wall fronting on a street, and columns located below the level of the sidewalk which are used to support exterior walls or arches over vaults, the said column or columns shall be constructed fire-proof."

Does the exception include the columns located below the level of the sidewalk? The requirements can be read two ways. In drafting the law the intention was to require all columns below the sidewalk level which supported a street wall above to be made fire-proof, and the ruling as to what the law means has been in accordance with the original intent.

The building law is a remedial statute, and the act itself declares that it shall be construed liberally to secure the beneficial interests and purposes thereof. It is well that the Superintendent of Buildings is broad-minded and disposed to obey the mandate of the law to construe it liberally. In the very opening of the law a literal construction of the wording would prevent any building erected some years ago from being altered or added to. The law reads:

"No building already erected, or hereafter to be built, in said city, shall be raised, altered or built upon, in such manner, that were such building wholly built or constructed after the passage of this act, it would be in violation of any of the provisions of this title."

The way that sentence ought to have been made to read is as follows:

This is not a case of double meaning, but one where the letter of the law has to be laid aside and a common sense construction set up instead.

This is neither the time nor the place to show how the law can be bettered and liberalized, but I will cite one or two examples where the law is too restricting, due simply to a quite excusable shortsightedness on the part of those who drafted the law. If a man builds a non-fire-proof warehouse he is restricted to a certain width between walls; if he builds fire-proof he can build any width he pleases between brick walls for his warehouse. If he builds a non-fire-proof dwelling he is restricted to a certain width between brick walls; if he builds fire-proof he is restricted to the same width between walls. Obviously, if he builds a fire-proof dwelling he ought to have some advantages, but the present law gives him none so far as width between walls is concerned. The present law lays down a cast-iron requirement that a fore-and-aft partition in the lower story of residence buildings shall be built of brick, and makes no provision that something else that is suitable may be used instead, such as iron girders or columns, or the brick wall omitted altogether when iron beams of sufficient strength span the distance between bearing walls. Fortunately the law provides elasticity enough to prevent any serious hardship working against an owner, by the power of discretion which is conferred jointly on the Superintendent of Buildings and the Board of Examiners. No applicant has suffered in consequence of the strict letter of the law, apparently prohibiting him from building safely and well. Superintendent Brady has construed the law in a just and liberal spirit to every corner without regard to his nationality, religion or politics. It was never expected that an absolute compliance with the law could be obtained, and the most that was ever expected was a substantial compliance therewith. No great civil or ecclesiastical law is ever complied with to the letter. It is most gratifying that the building law has been, on the whole, so nearly enforced in every particular.

The law of 1892 took away from the Health Department certain bureaus and put them in the Building Department. The old arbitrary requirements relating to plumbing and light and ventilation exist to-day and await the same process of remodeling that the old building laws went through. What a task this is but very few can appreciate, but when the necessary legislation is obtained before many months go by the new rules and regulations will doubtless meet with the approval of the many persons who now have just cause for complaint. The health bureaus and the building bureaus were combined in one department by the Legislature a little more than two years ago at the request of architects and builders. Before the consolidation builders were greatly hampered and delayed and put to much unnecessary expense. There was necessitated the preparing and filing of duplicate plans and the securing of several permits before any building operation could be undertaken, and thereafter builders were subjected to the inspection of officers under the jurisdiction of separate departments, oftentimes causing a clashing of authority and an annoying and expensive delay. The saving of time and money to architects and builders has been immense, and this statement will be borne out by the universal testimony of every one who had to do with the old bureaus.

The examination of plans after they have been filed in the Department of Buildings to see if they conform to law before a permit can be issued, is a work of great magnitude. Plans for a single first-class building may have taken the architect and his office assistant many months of time to prepare. To critically go over these plans, to note that the thickness of walls are as the law directs, that the width of footings is sufficient, that the piers and columns, girders, floor-beams, roof trusses and other constructional parts are ample for their purpose, and that the whole structure generally is in accordance with the requirements of law, is a work requiring not merely hours but days of time, and calls for the highest order of ability in making the examination. Take a set of plans for a theatre, or for any one of the sky-scaper buildings, and think of what the Department of Buildings must feel assured of before the seal of approval can be placed on these plans. Nearly every set of plans are found to be deficient in some particulars and require amending before they can be approved. The wonder is that plans get through the department as expeditiously as they do, and the comparatively little delay in this respect speaks volumes in praise of the faithful and unremitting labors of the examiners and computers in that department. There is one thing that the department could do that would be highly appreciated by every architect, and that is the sending out of notices that plans have been passed or rejected, and, if rejected, a brief statement of the reason therefor. As it now is an architect never knows what has become of his plans until he goes to the department to inquire. A little money for postage and the services of one clerk in sending out notices of approval or disapproval would save much time and afford much satisfaction to applicants.

The department could revise its statement blanks with great advantage to all concerned. Substantially the same blanks are used to-day as were in use fifteen or twenty years ago. No blanks at all are furnished for filing calculations of the strength of floors in buildings, nor cards for the posting up of the safe loads allowed on floors. The Brooklyn Department of Buildings is commencing to get ahead of the New York Department in respect to blank forms for various purposes.

One of the interviewed builders makes the criticism that the Inspectors of Buildings have not been appointed with respect to their capacity or fitness, but absolutely through Tammany Hall influences. Did the gentleman who said that ever read the building law? The law says that before an inspector can be appointed to office he shall pass an examination before the Board of Examiners, a majority of whom shall sign a certificate as to his competency to perform all the duties of said office. There isn't an inspector serving in the department who has not passed an examination before this Board, which is made up of representatives from the several important building trade organizations. More than this, each inspector, after passing before the Board of Examiners as to his competency to perform his particular duties, passed through another examination before the City Civil Service Board as to his general intelligence, as well as to his knowledge of building work, before he was appointed. Without a doubt every one of these inspectors are competent and intelligent men. Are they honest men? From hearing and observation it is my opinion that there is not an inspector in the department who would accept a bribe from any person for permission to violate the law. If there is any such man or men there I have no defense to make for him or them, nor anything but scorn for the bribe giver. Is treating an inspector to a drink or a cigar, or presenting him with a suit of clothes, or even giving him a sum of money always in the nature of a bribe? Human nature will have to be reconstructed before men in public office will refuse presents. I would advise the owner of an important building to early seek out the inspector of the district in which the building is to be erected and ask him as a special favor to watch that the building complied in every way with the law, and at the finish of the building show an appreciation of the inspector's faithfulness by giving him a substantial present. A gentleman tips his waiter and his barber, and yearly tips his postman, and deems such expenditures conducive to his personal comfort and as proper and commendable payments in return for faithful service. Is a building inspector out of the category which includes a postman? The good-will of an inspector is important to a builder, for it saves violation notices being put on a building for trifling defects that could and would be immediately corrected upon the inspector calling the builder's attention to them. Popularly it is supposed that a builder's friendship with an inspector means an understanding that unsafe or unlawful building can be indulged in, but this is a great error. Inspectors are the architects best friends in securing good workmanship, for presumably no reputable architect wants his contractors to commit violations of law.

Assemblyman Lawson's denunciation of the Building Department may be set aside as political froth. He opposed the bill which originated with the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange last year to increase the salary of the Superintendent of Buildings from $5,000 to $7,500 a year, but his opposition would not have prevented the passage of the bill in both branches of the Legislature had not Mayor Gilroy opposed the measure on the ground that no salaries should be increased during the hard times. Mr. Lawson thinks that one inspector for each Assembly district, or thirty in all, would be sufficient. Some of the Assembly districts are so large that an inspector would have difficulty to walk over a district in one day, to say nothing about giving each new building in progress some time and attention. The city is now divided into thirty-eight building inspectors' districts and twenty-five plumbing inspectors' districts, and many of those districts are too large. There is required, in addition to building inspectors and inspectors of plumbing, inspectors for fire-escapes, for elevators, inspectors on the house to house or block system, and men classed as inspectors for various special work, such as making engineering calculations, etc. Undoubtedly, there is in the department a certain number of employees who could be exchanged with advantage to the public service for more efficient men, but it seems to be the general sentiment in the community that subordinates in the public offices should hold their places for life or during good behavior. For myself, I would prevent by statutory law any person holding office for more than eight years all told. I would give more people a chance to get their share of the emoluments that go with the honor of serving their city or state.

Mr. Gillie said in the interview had with him that what one man would want in the way of changes in the building law another man would not want, and the very fact is exemplified by Mr. Luyster wanting thicker walls and Mr. Robinson wanting what is in effect thinner walls, or the privilege of carrying up the present thicknesses to greater heights. Mr. Casey would improve the building law by placing the one fireproof floor required in apartment houses over the stores instead of over the basement. Mr. Luyster would not take away the requirement for a fireproof floor over the basement, but would require a fireproof floor on the second story as well, when stores occupy the lower portion of an apartment house. THE RECORD AND GUIDE has advocated two fireproof floors, and also that the partitions which separate the hallways from the stores on the first story shall be of fireproof material. Mr. Luyster objects to a builder having the right to choose his own sizes of floor timbers, and holds that the builder ought to be compelled to put in timber of sizes to accord with the weight that has to be carried. Now, the law covers this ground when it says that in every building each floor shall be of sufficient strength in all its parts to bear safely upon every superficial foot of its surface 70 pounds for dwelling houses, 100 pounds for office buildings, 120 pounds for places of public assembly, 150 pounds and upward for stores and factories, and to bear safely these weights in addition to the weight of materials composing the floors, and that the safe weight shall be considered only one-fourth of the breaking weight for beams and girders. Surely that is going far enough.

Some think there is not enough law, others that there is too much law. Some think there should be no discretion lodged anywhere, others that power of discretion should be extended to the inspectors. The aim in the present law was to make it as explicit as possible in every particular. Mr. Brady was the first superintendent that was ever willing that this should be done—the law was not only willing, but he was foremost in suggesting explicit requirements. Some discretion must be given, and in my opinion there is only one safe place to lodge it, namely in the superintendent. A fine condition of things would follow giving the inspectors power to construe the law, settle points of difference and allow variations, even if such variations did not interfere with the strength and stability of the building. What any decent inspector does now on the discovery of any unlawful work is to tell the builder and give him a chance to correct the fault before turning in a report which brings a notice of violation on the building. There are indulgences entirely proper to be made by inspectors, but no inspector has any right to condone any violation of the law. Too many hasty violations are doubtless issued, but little do the public realize how many thousands of faults are yearly corrected by inspectors in their efforts to secure a faithful compliance with the requirements of the law, and to compel the carrying out of the plans and specifications as filed. An inspector, if he is so disposed, can harass a builder under the present system. How much greater his opportunities would be if his powers were enlarged?

There is a mistaken belief that seems to run in the minds of several of the interviewed gentlemen that an appeal can be taken over the head of the Department of Buildings to the Board of Examiners. The powers of the Board are defined by law, and acting separately from or independently of the superintendent is not one of their rights. Briefly stated, the superintendent and Board conjointly can vary or modify the law only in cases where there are practical difficulties in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the law or where an equally good or more desirable form of construction can be employed than that required by the law. As a matter of fact no case can get before the Board of Examiners unless the superintendent is ready to approve of the application if the Board does. There has never been a case where the Board's action has been one way and the Superintendent Brady's another way. The Board is in the nature of a Cabinet of advisers to the superintendent. Mr. Brady is the first superintendent who ever valued his Cabinet and between whom and the superintendent there exists a mutual feeling of cordiality, confidence and respect.

One specific charge of a violation of law is stated in connection with the interview of the members of a firm whose names are not given. It is said a frame blacksmith shop was built back of a wooden fence on West 55th street, and that when complaint of this violation was made to Superintendent Brady he did not cause the structure to be removed. Mr. Brady is well able to defend himself at all times without help from me. On inquiry I am informed that after an investigation the allegations of this supposed violation were not well founded. The shed had long existed, was formerly used as a carpenter shop, and the only change was in the character of the business carried on.

To carry on the operations of the Building Department costs a large sum yearly, but it is money well spent. The taxation on the new buildings adds yearly a large and permanent sum to the city's receipts. Several times it has been suggested to make the Building Department self-supporting by imposing charges for permits, based on the cubical contents of the buildings. In Chicago and some other cities, building permits are charged for. I have always vehemently opposed these propositions, as I believe that the best public interest is served by requiring builders to bring their plans and obtain approval of the same without cost, before proceeding with the work. The city gets ample return by taxing new buildings in the regular way.

It is so easy to find fault, but who would consent to exchange the present building law for any one of the old laws? Who that is conversant with the old Department of Buildings or the Bureau of Buildings would like to see the present superintendent displaced by any of the former superintendents? The public has had better treatment under Superintendent Brady than under any of his predecessors. He is practical, competent, vigorous and affable. On him was suddenly placed the responsibility of organizing a new city department. It is safe to say that he will make that department even more efficient than it is now, and make it grow in usefulness and popularity. Up to the present time he has scarcely had time to inaugurate new methods and systems, but plans for these are being worked out. The building law is good, but it can be made better, as surely as the health and plumbing regulations can be greatly improved, and to all this work no more earnest worker will be found than Superintendent Brady.

The public has had a vast advantage under the modern building laws. Scarcely one important fire loss has occurred in any building erected since the enactment of the first new building law in 1885. How many lives have been spared through safe building since that time can only be conjectured. The safety of property is of secondary consideration to the safety of life, but millions of dollars' worth of personal property and of real property have been kept from the ravages of flames by compelling buildings to be well and safely constructed.

Insurance companies have profited to the extent of millions of dollars thereby, but as insurance is only a method of distributing losses by fire of unfortunate individuals over the whole community everybody has been benefited. Let every critic of the Building Department be just in his criticisms, and it will be found on considering the whole matter that we have one department that we can all be proud of—the Building Department. WILLIAM J. FRYER.

The American Economic Association.

at his residence. The local committee of arrangements consist of Professors Richmond Mayo-Smith, Edward R. A. Seligman and Franklin H. Giddings, Rapid Transit on the East Side.

Mr. W. B. Parsons presented to the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission a report for an underground rapid transit route on the East Side on Tuesday last and the Commission appointed a committee to confer with the New York Central Railroad Company on certain points that require their concurrence in the event of Mr. Parsons' plan being approved.

The Elm Street Widening.

Application is about to be made to the Supreme Court for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment to take lands for the Elm Street Widening. It is understood that all the property necessary for the improvement can be taken within six months and work can be begun before compensations are paid.

Real Estate Market.

That the market is capable, with a little encouragement, of rallying from the condition of dullness that threatens to dominate it until spring is shown by the reports of brokers' sales closed this week. Despite the Thanksgiving holiday the announcements of transactions have been more numerous, and [the properties involved of a more valuable description than during any of the preceding November weeks. Down-town business parcels improved or susceptible of improvement have sold unusually well, a consummation probably due in the majority of instances to the ending of negotiations that have been pending for months. Much of the reported new business is due to trades, but as cash buyers have also been found for nearly every variety of improved property, and lot sales have by no means been infrequent, the week will go far to redeem the inactivity that became a feature with the beginning of last month. A steady inquiry is being made for vacant plots in up-town sections where experience has demonstrated that a constant demand can be relied upon from house buyers. The lots, however, are not going like the proverbial hot cakes, as notwithstanding the present decreased cost of construction it requires considerable figuring on the part of builders to give assurance of future profit in view of the high prices asked for eligibly located building sites.

The favorable attitude assumed some months ago and continued since by moneyed corporations and individual lenders toward real estate security is proving an inducement for sharp practice by operators of a certain class. Not in several years have mortgage loans been as readily obtainable for so large a percentage of the intrinsic value of property of every description. While the loans have been far from excessive in the great majority of instances, it has of late been possible to obtain advances that it would be a stretch of the imagination to refer to as being based on conservative or even liberal appraisements. On a down-town property recently purchased for $28,500, but conveyed for a nominal consideration, a loan of $30,000 was obtained. On another parcel bought for $50,000 an unsuspecting mortgagee was induced to loan $45,000 at 5 per cent. These are probably but two instances of many. Though they may be regarded as creditable financiering, exploits such as these cannot but fail to prove detrimental to legitimate real estate interests in the long run by creating distrust in the minds of those controlling capital. They are not unlikely to lead to a prolific crop of foreclosures a year hence, but in the meantime the original manipulators will have gotten out of harm's way and the sufferers will prove to be future buyers, who seem always to be at hand, and the misled mortgagees. There is, however, no possibility of the practice being abolished while the loaning of money on bond and mortgage continues to be intrusted to incompetent or indifferent persons.

The offerings at auction have been few since Monday owing to what is always the best business day of every week being a holiday. The parcels that were presented for the consideration of bidders were, with hardly an exception, of such a commonplace description that they aroused but little interest. No sale of real estate was held on Monday. On Tuesday, at the Real Estate Exchange, Richard V. Harnett & Co.'s announcements attracted a large but unappreciative gathering. Of the five properties offered two were disposed of. The other three, No. 532 West 45th street, No. 453 West 46th street and No. 420 West 39th street, were withdrawn on account of unsatisfactory bidding. Previous to the sale the auctioneers announced the withdrawal of Nos. 46 and 48 East 87th street, No. 144 Clinton avenue and No. 128 Willoughby avenue, Brooklyn, and the "Constantine" place at Mamaroneck.

At the Broadway Salesroom on Tuesday, William Kennelly adjourned for one week an executor's sale of No. 30 East 3d street. On the same day No. 137 Monroe street, Nos. 230 to 234 East 99th street, and the southwest corner of 1st avenue and 91st street, all advertised under foreclosure proceedings, were announced as withdrawn, a settlement having been effected in each action. Yesterday William Kennelly withdrew from sale the tenement and stable property on the southwest corner of 3d avenue and 75th street.

The dividend of 1½ per cent to stockholders of the Real Estate Exchange will be payable on and after the 10th inst.

Alwin Ball, Jr., of F. Southack & Co., purchased, yesterday through Richard V. Harnett & Co., ten shares of Real Estate Exchange stock for $900. This is an advance of 8 points on 82, the price quoted at the last previous sale made two weeks ago.

A loan of $1,000,000 has been secured from the Seaman's Bank for Savings by the Board of Foreign Missions and the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, to be advanced on the new thirteen-story office building now being erected on the plot, 100x150, on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 20th street. The mortgage will run for ten years, and bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. The building will be finished and ready for occupancy in about six or seven months.

The "windfall" due at the Real Estate Exchange on Monday proved to be one of small dimensions. By direction of the attorneys of the New York Security and Trust Company, Richard V. Harnett & Co. sold in series, not separately as was expected, over 3,200 Western mortgages and 175 foreclosed farms to buyers who represented a reorganization committee of the Equitable Mortgage Company, of Kansas City, Mo., by which they had been pledged as security, for $2,328,900. The aggregate face value of the securities and farms was $1,056,385. The knock-downs numbered 113, and the fees received by the Exchange amounted to the same number of dollars.

RIVERSIDE PARK ADDITION.

Edward V. Loew, John H. Coster and State Senator Charles L. Guy were appointed on Tuesday, by Justice Andrews, Commissioners of Appraisal for the new Riverside Park addition. They are to appraise the compensation to be made to owners of and all persons interested in the land under and above the water from 72d street to 129th street which to be taken under the Act passed by the Legislature in March last, for the extension of Riverside Park and for public docks and wharves and commercial purposes. The Commissioners will hold their first meeting in the office of the Corporation Counsel on December 8.

The Southack & Co. purchases on 18th and 19th streets are still an interesting topic in the real estate world. Now that it is believed the object of the extensive buying has become definitely known the tongues of brokers are loosed, and they are expressing surprise at the seemingly extravagant manner in which the operation has been conducted. From the outset particulars of contracts to purchase were allowed to reach the public, and their frequency of occurrence was sufficient to put on the alert nearly all the owners of adjoining property, whose holdings it was necessary to acquire. The result will doubtless be the payment of many thousands above what would ordinarily have been considered liberal market prices. By way of contrast, it is recalled that a policy the exact opposite of Southack & Co.'s was pursued in the purchase of the block bounded by 39th and 40th streets, Broadway and 7th avenue, now occupied by the Metropolitan Opera House, which was intrusted to the firm of E. H. Ludlow & Co. There were fifteen or more owners of property to be negotiated with, and probably twice that number of outsiders, who through their intimacy or confidential relations with the sellers were able to get an inkling of what was being done. Nevertheless, so diplomatically were the negotiations conducted that not until early in April, 1881, when every lot had been secured, did the public obtain any information of the multiplex transaction that involved an aggregate investment of $506,700. The price paid was regarded as very reasonable. The frontage purchased was about 913 feet, and it is safe to say that had the first contracts made by the brokers been made public the total cost to their principals would have been increased at least 50 per cent. A previous transaction that had been successfully negotiated many years before by E. H. Ludlow & Co., without any premature publicity, was the purchase for H. B. Clafin & Co. of the entire block front on the south side of Worth street, from Broadway to Church street. A recent operation which was also handled far differently from the Southack formula was the buying by Geo. R. Read of the extensive property on 23d street desired by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

On Tuesday next, December 4, at 12 o'clock noon, Messrs. Richard

V. Harnett & Co. will offer at the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, a group of apartment houses to be sold in one parcel, which will afford an opportunity for an important investment in a rapidly growing part of the city. They are located on the southeast corner of 125th street and Columbus avenue and consist of six five-story buildings, exceptionally well arranged for light and air and enjoying the advantage of three fronts. In view of the near approach to completion of the Broadway Cable road extension, through Columbus and Manhattan avenues to the up-town district, considerable interest has been manifested in, and more or less inquiry is being made for property in this neighborhood.

On Wednesday next, December 5, 1894, at noon, Messrs. Smyth & Ryan will offer several parcels of city realty at auction in the New York Real Estate Salesroom No. 111 Broadway. One, No. 337 West 25th street, about midway between 8th and 9th avenues, is a three and a-half story basement and cellar brick dwelling in good condition, size 24.6x50x98.9, which will be sold on liberal terms and with immediate possession. Also at executor's sale, Nos. 414, 416, 418 and 420 West 36th street. The plot is 85x98.9 occupied by frame and brick front and rear tenements, No. 420 being a good three-story high stoop brick dwelling. This plot is described as valuable for flats and tenements and ready for building as cellars are already out on most of it.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND OPERATORS.

The firm of Strong & Ireland, of No. 60 Liberty street, real estate auctioneers, brokers and appraisers, comprises Mr. J. Montgomery Strong, who has had five years' experience in the real estate business, and Mr. J. De C. Ireland, who has been similarly engaged for about three years. The latter is the son of Mr. John B. Ireland, a well-known New Yorker and extensive owner of realty in the Washington Park district. Messrs. Strong & Ireland are young men and energetic workers, determined to secure a place with the leaders in the realty business.

Karl M. Wallach & Son are active operators in real estate, making a specialty of tenement property, of which they are extensive holders. Karl M. and Moses K. Wallach constitute the firm, with offices at No. 62 Liberty and No. 222 East 79th street. They pay full commission to brokers negotiating sales of their property and are ready buyers of desirable parcels which can be bought cheaply.

James Renwick is the buyer for a total of about $75,000. Mr. Renwick recently sold, through F. Southack & Co., at an advance of about $20,000, the two dwellings, Nos. 50 and 32 West 19th street, on plot 50x92, south side, 460 feet east of 6th avenue, purchased by him in November, 1892, for $75,000.

John R. Foley has sold the five-story brick tenement, 31.6x90x98.9, No. 423 East 22d street, to Rosanna Scanlon, for $25,000.

Smyth & Ryan have sold the two five-story brick stores, 42.11x81.2x37.2x79.1, Nos. 103 and 105 William street, west side, 27.2 south of John street, to ex-Governor George Hoadley, for $112,500. The property was purchased on April 1, 1893, from the estate of William L. Wallace for $90,000.

Lyons, for $265,000, the plot 54x160, with old buildings, Nos. 733 and 735 Broadway, west side, between Clinton place and Waverly place, recently purchased from Dr. H. N. Heineman. The buyer will erect the ten-story store and office building referred to in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of last week.

Stabler & Smith have sold for G. L. Lawrence to Benjamin F. Romaine and others, the five-story business building, 61x101, on the southeast corner of Washington and Franklin streets, for $190,000, the buyers giving in exchange the lots on 94th street and on Central Park West, mentioned below.

Martin E. Dotson has negotiated a trade for Mitchell A. C. Levy by which he will exchange the five-story brick tenement, 25x88x98.9, Stewart, president of the United States Trust Co., the plot 45.9x81.11x16.1x85.10, with two five-story brick business buildings, Nos. 75 and 77 William street, southwest corner of Liberty street. The price reported, $308,000, looks to be a high one.

Frank L. Fisher has sold the dwelling No. 324 West 20th street.

On Tuesday John W. Sterling conveyed to William Wetterer, a clerk in the office of Rose & Putzel, Nos. 49-53 West 18th street for a nominal amount, subject to a mortgage of $50,000. On the same day the grantee mortgaged the property to Adolph Mack for $100,000 at five per cent, due on the 1st day of May next, and then reconveyed the property to Gibson Putzel, of the above firm. It would appear that it is now mortgaged for $150,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Potter Bros. have sold the plot, 100x100.5, on the southwest corner of 68th street and 11th avenue, to Builder Richard G. Platt for $15,000, taking in exchange the four-story dwelling, on lot 19.4x10, No. 109 West End avenue, between 84th and 85th streets, at a valuation of $39,000. The plot will be improved at once by the erection of four five-story brick tenements.

Builder James Livingston has sold the two most westerly of the new row of four-story stone front dwellings, 20x60x100.8 each, on the north side of 88th street, about 100 feet east of Riverside Drive, for $40,000 each, to a Mrs. Pelgram, who will give in exchange a house and grounds at Paterson, N. J., valued at $30,000.

Morgan D. McMonagal has sold the three-story dwelling, on lot 16x80, No. 689 West End avenue, between 98th and 99th streets, for Albert Stake at $22,500.

The trustees of St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal Church on West 18th street, near 5th avenue, have purchased a new church site on West 148th and 149th streets, about 125 feet west of Amsterdam avenue. Four lots are said to have been secured on each street, Christian Putger selling two on 148th street, 175 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, at $7,500 each. Mr. Putger realizes over 100 per cent profit, having bought the lots in 1891 at auction for $3,725 each. Henry Gottlieb owns the two adjoining easterly lots and Henry A. Sohe two lots on 149th street, in the rear. It will be remembered that the present St. Ann's Church on 18th street was purchased a few weeks ago by the Southack syndicate.

Builder John C. Barth has traded the three five-story brick flats, on lots 25x about 115 each, Nos. 2,445 to 2,449 8th avenue, west side, about 225 north of 130th street, for the five-story brick provision house on plot 63x75, Nos. 247 to 251 3d avenue, east side, 20.10 north of 20th street.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for Builder R. W. Hawkes, the new five-story flat with stores, 25x90x100, on 8th avenue, west side, 75.11 north of 119th street, at $10,000, to Valentine Pressler, who gives in exchange two lots 50x100.11, on the south side of 98th street, 400 feet east of Amsterdam avenue, at a valuation of $24,000.

Romaine and others, a plot of four lots on the south side of 94th street, about 250 feet west of Columbus avenue, and two lots on Central Park West, about 50 feet south of 76th street, to G. L. Parsons president, has purchased of Frederick Hornby, the plot 201.5x175, comprising the block front on Central Park West, between 92d and 93d streets, with lots adjoining, for $250,000, and from William V. R. Smith the plot 50x100.8, on the south side of 93d street, 200 feet west of Central Park West, with the plot 34x100.8, adjoining in the rear on 92d street, 225 feet west of Central Park West, for $50,000. The lots 50x100.8 on 92d street, east of the latter parcel, were conveyed to the Woman's Hospital in April of last year for a consideration of $31,000, so that the corporation is now the owner of a site for its proposed new hospital buildings, 201.5x259 on 92d street, and 175 feet on 93d street, and another plot of 50 feet frontage on the latter street, 200 feet west of the avenue. The intermediate lot, 25x100.8, on 93d street, the owner has thus far refused to sell. The buildings to be erected in the near future will cost, it is said, $1,400,000.

Gonon & Macdonald have sold for the City Real Estate Company the five-story dwelling, 22x63x75, No. 327 West 89th street, to William Bloodgood, for $37,500.

H., the five-story dwelling, 20x80x102.2, No. 313 West 75th street, for about $45,000; the five-story single flat, 18x91x102.2, No. 151 West 84th street, for Patrick Pendergast to Vilette Birch, of Brewster, N. Y., for $31,000; the five-story double flat, 31x91x102.2, No. 13 West 84th street, for Walter D. Starr to John H. Williams, of Jersey City, for $55,000, and the lot, 26.6x100, on the east side of Morning-side avenue, 50 feet south of 115th street, for Francis M. That sum it was positively stated by the builders was also agreed upon for the same-sized house, No. 332 West, sold in September. When the deed was recorded the consideration expressed was $36,000.

The same broker has also sold the four-story brick dwelling, 16.8x60x100.8, No. 11 West 87th street, for Builder Charles Buck to G. Conner for $30,000.

Edward J. Welling has sold for Mrs. Spencer the four-story brick double flat on full lot, No. 100 East 115th street, to J. Franke.

L. J. Phillips & Co. have sold for Spencer Aldrich three full lots on the north side of 72d street, 25 feet east of West End avenue, to William Oppenheimer for about $100,000, and for Clarence Dorsett a lot, 27.8x100, on the east side of West End avenue, 100 feet north of 72d street, to an importer, who will utilize it for the erection of a modern four-story residence, work upon which will begin at an early date.

Broker John P. Kerwan negotiated the sale of No. 12 West 77th street, reported last week. The buyer is James Reilly.

A report of a sale circulated yesterday of four lots on the north side of 84th street just west of Columbus avenue by L. Z. Bach to Egan & Halley was not founded on fact. The lots formerly owned in that street by Mr. Bach were sold in May to Builder Thomas Hagan, who is now erecting on them four five-story flats.

NORTH SIDE.

Morgan D. McMonegal has sold for Charles Martin a plot of eight lots on the northwest corner of Sheridan avenue and 168th street, for about $15,000.

News of the Building Trade.

HOSPITAL.—Central Park West, 92d and 93d streets.—The Board of Governors of the Women's Hospital have had plans prepared by Charles C. Haight, No. 111 Broadway, for an hospital to be erected on above plot, 201x250x201x50x irregular. The architect's perspectives show a group of six gray brick and limestone-trimmed buildings, connected by broad galleries. The Administration building, six stories in height, will be on 93d street and will contain the main entrance to the hospital. The pavilion for nurses, tower-shaped, will be eleven stories in height and will be located west of the Administration building. The other four buildings on Central Park West and 92d street will each be six stories high, including basements, and are designed for the treatment and asylum of patients. The architecture is in the style of the Spanish Renaissance, the ornamentation being concentrated about the cornices, windows and main entrance. The structure will be fire-proof throughout and contain every modern improvement and convenience.

The specifications will include red tile roofing, fire-proof material, passenger and freight elevators, dumb-waiters, electric wiring and fixtures, laundry machinery and fittings, the indirect radiating system of hot-air heating, boilers, exhaust fans, refrigerators, sanitary plumbing, cathedral plate and stained glass, concrete, pine, hardwood and vitrified tile floors, interior marble-work, structural and architectural iron-work, copper cornices and gutters, ventilating apparatus, Turkish and tub baths, cabinet-work, fire escapes, decorations, fire apparatus, ranges and furnaces. Monday, November 26th, the property was purchased by Jeremiah C. Lyons, a builder, of No. 81 East 125th street, who will begin work shortly on the erection of a mercantile building, from the plans drawn by Buchman & Deisler on Mr. Schlesinger's order, a full description of which appeared in this column last week.

POLICE MAGISTRATES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

What power have Police Magistrates? 2. Have Police Magistrates jurisdiction to try felonies? 3. What class of cases have Police Magistrates jurisdiction to try? 4. Trade Notes.

A FINE PRICE OF WROUGHT IRON-WORK.

The Hunter Iron Works, of 119 East 91st street, recently completed a handsome wrought iron railing and gate for builder Wm. Broadbelt. It is now in place on the 149th street end of the new block of dwellings on St. Nicholas avenue, and attracts much attention. The design is artistic and pleasing and the construction of the best character. It is most fitting that it should be so, for the ten Boudoir houses Mr. Broadbelt has built on the St. Nicholas avenue front are very attractive in appearance. The corner houses are four-story American basement, of Long Meadow brownstone and terra cotta brick, and the others three-and-a-half-story high stoop houses, of buff limestone and buff brick. T. J. Brennan supplied the stone work.

A NEW FIRE-PROOFING COMPANY.

The Doebling & Van Fire-Proofing Company was incorporated last week by expert fire-proofers as the title indicates, for the names—Doebling & Van—are synonymous with fire-proofing construction and materials. The business of the company will be the construction of fire-proof arches, partitions, etc., and they have ample capital to handle the largest contracts as well as the ordinary run of work. The company promises to secure a place among the leaders in their line, and is now prepared to estimate on work and all orders promptly and satisfactorily. The officers of the Doebling & Van Fire-Proofing Co. are Mr. Edward Franke, president; Mr. Albert Von Den Driesch, vice-president; and Mr. C. F. W. Doebling, manager. The office is at No. 485 6th avenue.

N. Bois, the owner of the Eagle Cornice and Skylight Works, at Nos. 30 and 32 Sullivan street, New York, has enlarged his quarters and fitted them with the latest improved machinery. By means of these added facilities N. Bois can increase his already good reputation for the prompt and efficient fulfillment of all orders in his line, which cover window caps, awnings, building fronts, tin and metal roofing, hot-air pipes, architectural sheet and metal work.

Referring last week to the work of reconstructing the Hoffman House mention was made of Diamond's Marble Works, of No. 218 West 12d street, contractors for the marble work. The types erroneously made us say that John H. Diamond was the proprietor, whereas it should have read Joseph H. Diamond, proprietor.

The Excelsior Terra Cotta Co., of No. 105 East 22d street, will furnish the terra cotta for the twelve-story "New York" buildings on Broadway, Washington street and Waverly place and Mercer street, for which R. Maynicke is the architect, and for the new Ninth Regiment Armory on West 14th and 15th streets, for which James D. Murphy is the contractor and Cable & Sargent the architects.

THE BROWNSTONE TRADE.

Report was current yesterday that there was a shut down of the Connecticut stone quarries owing to a labor dispute. Our inquiries in the trade did not result in receiving a confirmation of the report, but we were informed that the brownstone dealers will have a meeting on Monday to consider some important matters relating to the trade.
